By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

THE Rev. Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean of the divinity school, in Chicago University, says philosophy is of no use in religion, because we cannot analyze our religion. "The greatest moments are felt. You cannot define them in words. There is not a philosophical term in the language or the intellectual processes by which we seek to grasp the meaning of religion."

PHILOSOPHY has nothing to do with religion and religion has nothing to do with philosophy. Philosophy deals with problems that con be solved, or may be solved, by proof, argument, thought. Religion deals with questions entirely beyond our reach, that can be answered only by faith.

THE New York Central recently celebrated its one hundredth birthday and its growth from a "20-mile system" to the 7,000-mile system of today.

EARLY in the last century James Brisbane, of Batavia, who had previously run a stage coach line from Buffalo to New York, built a small railroad between Rochester and Buffalo. The time table said the trains would run at certain hours "weather permitting."

HE LEFT to his two sons $2,000,000 worth of the original New York Central stock, before the Vanderbilts watered it. Luckily for his descendants, one of the two sons lost his million, making it necessary for the next generation to go to work.

ANYBODY can succeed, at least a little, in spite of poverty, because he MUST. The few that succeed IN SPITE OF WEALTH deserve most credit.

YOU read recently from abroad "British reviews urge England to accept United States demand for naval equality."

Unless this country is managed by 100 per cent dodos, we don't need England to "ACCEPT" anything. We do need the biggest air fleets and submarine fleets in the world, could easily AFFORD them, and would HAVE them, if we had a quarter of an ounce of brains.

As to cruisers, which are like shepherd dogs watching flocks, if England wants more of them because she has more commercial ships to watch, let her have them.

The cost of one battleship, spent for airplanes would easily take care of all the cruisers an battleships on the ocean. They would do it as easily

One House Destroyed, Another Is Damaged in Mysterious Blaze

Flames Break Out in Home of John Pasco, Barber on Lincoln Highway, Just North of Corporate Limits.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RESPONDS TO CALL

Home and Grocery Operated by Albert Lowe in William Densmore Property is Also Extensively damaged.

Fire, starting it is believed from a short circuited electric light wire, completely destroyed one building and seriously damaged another structure, in Sherwood, just north of the corporate limits, about 7:45 o'clock last night, entailing a loss estimated at approximately $10,000.

Starts in Pasco House.

The blaze originated in the rear part of the two-story, eight room, frame residence and barbershop, owned by John Pasco. The flames leaped across a narrow street, igniting another two-story dwelling in which a grocery store and pool room, operated by Albert Lowe, is also located.

Firemen from the Central station who responded to the call laid about 1,650 feet of hose in order to reach the blaze and as a result of their efforts a new six room frame residence of Frank Densmore was saved from destruction.

Several men, loitering about the Lowe store, discovered the blaze in the Pasco home, while Mr. Pasco was attending a lodge meeting in town and his daughter Bessie, 14, was attending services at a neighborhood church. Smashing in the doors of the house which they found locked, the

AKRON MAN IS HELD FOR MURDER

AKRON, O., Aug. 25.—Thomas Bugarski, 40, was being held here today on a charge of murder, in connection with the shooting and killing of Joe Nicholich, 40, New Brighton, Pa. Police say Bugarski has confessed, claiming he shot in self defense, during a quarrel.

FIVE PERSONS DIE IN BLAST NEAR NORWALK

Explosion Occurs When Gasoline is Poured Into Stove.

KITCHEN WRECKED

Man Badly Burned is Believed to be Recovering.

NORWALK, O., Aug. 25.—Five persons were dead here today, as the result of an explosion in the home of Homer Hicks, 38, in Greenwich, near here Wednesday night.

The dead are: Mrs. May Hicks, 36; Mary Hicks, 8; Diva Hicks, 3 months; Mrs. Robert Pool, 18; and Robert Pool, Jr., 6 months.

The explosion occurred when Mrs. Hicks is said to have used gasoline in a coal-oil stove. The kitchen of the Hicks home was wrecked, but firemen succeeded in saving the remainder of the house.

Diva Hicks died in the home before aid could be summoned, the others expiring in Memorial hospital here early today. Homer Hicks, although badly burned, is expected to recover.

The Pools lived with Mrs. Pool's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hicks, in Greenwich. While repairing an automobile Wednesday afternoon, Pool had mixed some kerosene and gasoline to clean a motor. Later he carried the mixture into the house where Mrs. Hicks, starting a fire, used it, believing it was coal-oil.

Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Pool and two children, standing beside the stove, were enveloped in flames when the explosion occurred, while Hicks, Pool and one child were severely burned as the blaze spread throughout the kitchen.

"DOLLAR DAY" DRAWS CROWDS

Shoppers From Three Counties Visit City Today.

Semi-annual "Dollar Day" under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce attracted a large crowd of visitors to the city today.

Long before the stores opened at the usual hour many shoppers were on the street and the rush for merchandise in all lines continued well past the noon hour.

Many were on hand from all sections of Columbiana, Beaver and Hancock counties.

CANTON BUS COMPANY SUED

An action seeking $10,000 damages has been filed in common pleas court against the Canton and East Liverpool Transit company, of Canton by D. C. Mills of Hanoverton. Attorney Frank W. Warady represents the plaintiff.

It is alleged in the petition that on March 13th last the plaintiff was a passenger on a bus operated by the defendant and that he asked the driver to stop the motor and allow him to alight. The bus, it is claimed, kept traveling, and Mills arose from his seat, grabbed the seat in front of him and shouted to the driver to again let him off. In stopping the bus the car swerved, a door was thrown open and Mills was thrown out of the bus and sustained severe injuries, from which he has not recovered. The main offices of the defendant are located at Canton.

FIRE DAMAGES N. CASTLE STORE

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed the French Shoppe owned by William Mero yesterday at New Castle, Pa. The loss is estimated at $12,000, partially covered by insurance.

Firemen fought the blaze for three hours to prevent its spread to other business blocks. Several other stores were damaged.

Mero is also owner of the shop of similar name in Sixth street.

WOMAN LEAVES AFTER ROMANCE IS SHATTERED

Leaves no Address When She Leaves Rooming House.

LOVER ARRESTED

Said to be Wife of Wealthy New Jersey Manufacturer.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—With her romance with a handsome New Jersey policeman shattered by the arrest of Joseph C. Deaver, of South Plainfield, N. J., her companion, on a charge of deserting his wife and three children, Mrs. J. W. Bache, 45, wife of a wealthy manufacturer, today sought oblivion by disappearing from her rooming house here where she had lived for several weeks with Deaver as "Mr. and Mrs. Brown."

Mrs. Bache early this morning, after officers had arrested Deaver and started with him back to South Plainfield, took her baggage and left the rooming house, without leaving any forwarding address.

When officers who had traced Deaver through a telegram to a New Jersey bank, in which he had asked that his money be transferred to Columbus, came to the room and arrested the former policeman Mrs. Bache professed surprise, declaring that she had known nothing of Deaver's wife and children, when she fled with him.

"I've been a fool," police declared she told them. "My husband was too good for me. The worst is I haven't a cent and can't go to work in the store where I have been employed after this. I don't know what I will do. My husband is not a big enough fool to take me back. I am to blame. I understood that Deaver had been divorced, but nobody in South Plainfield or New York will believe me."

Deaver had been working in a confectionery and Mrs. Bache in a store as a saleswoman.

13 KILLED IN RAIL WRECK

LONDON, Aug. 25. — An all night search of the wreckage of the Southern railway passenger express train which was derailed near Seven Oaks revealed a total death roll of 13 today. Six of the dead are women. Of the 50 who were injured half are in serious condition and it is feared that the death list will be increased. It was the worst train wreck in the British Isles since 1921.

FREIGHT LINE FOR CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23.—According to Captain P. G. Peterson, general manager of the Cleveland and Canada Navigation company, plans are being formulated for establishing of aerial freight and mail lines between Cleveland, Pt. Stanley and London, Ontario.

The new service, according to Peterson, is to be inaugurated next spring, when two seaplanes, one transporting mail, the other freight, will be placed in service. One hundred thousand dollars is to be invested in the movement, at the outset, Peterson declared.

"We believe that the aerial freight route would meet with instant approval," Captain Peterson said, "and we feel reasonably sure that a contract can be made with the government for the proposed air mail route between the points mentioned."

BRIDE OF YEAR TAKES POISON

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Lucille Griffin, 24, bride of a year and former student at Western Reserve university, was dead here today as a result of taking poison. Her husband Dr. W. Lester Griffin, dentist, tried vainly to save her when she told him of her action after taking the poison. Ill health is said to have caused her act.

YOUNG AVIATOR WILL TRY SOUTH AMERICA

Plane's Destination is Rio De Janiero or Pernambuco.

OFF AT 12:46 P. M.

Craft Groans Under Gas Load as it Leaves Ground.

BRUNWICK, Ga., Aug. 25. — Paul Redfern, 25-year-old Georgia pilot, hopped off at 12:45 p. m., Eastern Standard time, today on a lone non-stop flight to Brazil.

The big monoplane "Port of Brunswick," groaning under a tremendous load of gas, roared along the beach at Glynn Isle and then swimmed gracefully into the air, putting out to sea at a low altitude. It disappeared into the vast stretches of seas and mountains and jungles that bar the way to South America.

Redfern expects to fly more than 50 hours for new non-stop distance record above 4,000 miles. He hopes to land either at Rio de Janeiro or Pernambuco. His objective simply is "Brazil."

PLANE LEAVES FOR CANADA

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

Suit of A. C. Burrows, plumber, against Anna Bullock in which the plaintiff sought $49, was heard before a jury yesterday in municipal court. After hearing the testimony a verdict for $15 was returned in favor of the defendant.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Search for Harry D. The state's attorney also indicated he wanted to learn whether Dr. Hill communicated with his son after receiving a letter dated Aug. 3 from Mrs. Hill in which she pleaded with him to "please be a real father" after pointing out that Harry had been forging checks.

Authorities believed today the mother's letter might have supplied a murder motive and aid in establishing the date of the crime. Mrs. Hill was last seen by neighbors August 4.

During the three weeks elapsing since Mrs. Hill was last seen, Harry was seen in Streator frequently — [illegible] calling on his sweetheart, Alice Sawyer, to whom he was to have been married, and going to shows.

Neighbors say he visited the house where, police charge, he killed his mother, only last Sunday.

Jury Continues Investigation.

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 25.—The coroner's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Eliza Hill, wealthy divorcee, today discontinued further deliberations pending the result of the analysis of blood stains found on the staircase leading to the basement of the Hill home where Mrs. Hill's body was found buried in a shallow grave last Monday night.

The blood-stained boards were taken from the staircase when the jury

CLEVELAND MAN GETS 'DRY' JOB

W. N. Woodruff Named Administrator of Cleveland District.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—W. N. Woodruff, of Cleveland, has been appointed prohibition administrator of the Cleveland district, succeeding Thomas E. Stone, who takes over a similar office at Detroit on September 1.

W. H. Walker, prohibition administrator of the 12th district, who made the appointment, declared he had "selected the best man available."

"I am not planning any startling changes," Woodruff told International News Service today. "I will simply endeavor to carry out the policies started by Mr. Stone."

H. O. Yoder, of the dry maintenance league, said that Woodruff's appointment was "entirely satisfactory" to his organization.

POLICE GUARD CHAPEL WHERE BODIES OF NICOLA SACCO AND BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI LIE IN STATE

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Police were called on today to guard the little funeral chapel of Joseph Langone on Hanover street, North End, as the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti lie in state. The undertaker asked for the police guard at the bier of the two men to prevent any possible disorder.

Day and night guards of honor were chosen from among members of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee to stand at attention at the head of each bier.

Mrs. Rose Sacco, wife of one of the men, and Miss Luigia Vanzetti, sister of the other, have not and will not view the bodies. Both women, who have gone to Mrs. Sacco's home in Malden, wish to remember their loved one as they knew him in life.

The little funeral parlor had to be used for the public view of the two men because the defense committee was balked in every attempt to hire a hall for the purpose.

The bodies will remain in the chapel with its religious surroundings until Sunday afternoon. At that time a speaker of national prominence will deliver a funeral oration. He will not be a clergyman.

From the chapel the bodies will be conveyed to North End park, from which will start across the city a "march of sorrow."

Later following cremation, ashes of Sacco will be turned over to his widow. Ashes of Vanzetti will be carried to New York and thence home to Italy by his sister, under present tentative plan. A tour of the country by a delegation carrying the ashes of both was still under discussion.

Extra police details today were ordered out for Sunday afternoon as a large influx of sympathizers from surrounding cities and towns was expected to view the funeral procession.

In New Bedford more than 10,000 persons viewed the body of Celestino Madieros, who preceded Sacco and Vanzetti to the electric chair early last Tuesday morning

Hill, 21, sought as the slayer of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hill, 53, divorced wife of a wealthy physician, turned to California-bound trails today when Edward Lyons, a freight conductor, identified a picture of young Hill as that of the man who told him Tuesday night he wanted to catch an 8:10 train for the west coast.

Husband Quizzed.

Meanwhile Dr. H. C. Hill was called before the Streator authorities to explain what he knew of the move [illegible] of his boy after [illegible] was st[illegible] to death and bu[illegible]de grave in the baseme[illegible]s brick home.

Testimony [illegible]

list was also to te's Attorney R. hether he found airway leading he called au- und the body. races of what police [illegible] blood are now being analyzed by Dr. W. D. McNally, Chicago coroner's chemist.

Last Seen August 4.

The state's attorney also indicated he wanted to learn whether Dr. Hill communicated with his son after receiving a letter dated Aug. 3 from Mrs. Hill in which she pleaded with him to "please be a real father" after pointing out that Harry had been forging checks.

Authorities believed today the mother's letter might have supplied a murder motive and aid in establishing the date of the crime. Mrs. Hill was last seen by neighbors August 4.

During the three weeks elapsing since Mrs. Hill was last seen, Harry was seen in Streator frequently — rambling, calling on his sweetheart, Alice Sawyer, to whom he was to have been married, and going to shows.

Neighbors say he visited the house where, police charge, he killed his mother, only last Sunday.

Jury Continues Investigation.

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 25.—The coroner's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Eliza Hill, wealthy divorcee, today discontinued further deliberations pending the result of the analysis of blood stains found on the staircase leading to the basement of the Hill home where Mrs. Hill's body was found buried in a shallow grave last Monday night.

The blood-stained boards were taken from the staircase when the jury

CLEVELAND MAN GETS 'DRY' JOB

W. N. Woodruff Named Administrator of Cleveland District.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—W. N. Woodruff, of Cleveland, has been appointed prohibition administrator of the Cleveland district, succeeding Thomas E. Stone, who takes over a similar office at Detroit on September 1.

W. H. Walker, prohibition administrator of the 12th district, who made the appointment, declared he had "selected the best man available."

"I am not planning any startling changes," Woodruff told International News Service today. "I will simply endeavor to carry out the policies started by Mr. Stone."

H. O. Yoder, of the dry maintenance league, said that Woodruff's appointment was "entirely satisfactory" to his organization.

POLICE GUARD CHAPEL WHERE BODIES OF NICOLA SACCO AND BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI LIE IN STATE

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Police were called on today to guard the little funeral chapel of Joseph Langone on Hanover street, North End, as the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti lie in state. The undertaker asked for the police guard at the bier of the two men to prevent any possible disorder.

Day and night guards of honor were chosen from among members of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee to stand at attention at the head of each bier.

Mrs. Rose Sacco, wife of one of the men, and Miss Luigia Vanzetti, sister of the other, have not and will not view the bodies. Both women, who have gone to Mrs. Sacco's home in Malden, wish to remember their loved one as they knew him in life.

The little funeral parlor had to be used for the public view of the two men because the defense committee was balked in every attempt to hire a hall for the purpose.

The bodies will remain in the chapel with its religious surroundings until Sunday afternoon. At that time a speaker of national prominence will deliver a funeral oration. He will not be a clergyman.

From the chapel the bodies will be conveyed to North End park, from which will start across the city a "march of sorrow."

Later following cremation, ashes of Sacco will be turned over to his widow. Ashes of Vanzetti will be carried to New York and thence home to Italy by his sister, under present tentative plan. A tour of the country by a delegation carrying the ashes of both was still under discussion.

Extra police details today were ordered out for Sunday afternoon as a large influx of sympathizers from surrounding cities and towns was expected to view the funeral procession.

In New Bedford more than 10,000 persons viewed the body of Celestino Madieros, who preceded Sacco and Vanzetti to the electric chair early last Tuesday morning

Hancock County Day Listed Here Saturday

Governor Howard M. Gore and Senator M. M. Neely Invited to Attend Special Events Arranged by Rock Springs Park Management.

Plans have been completed for the Hancock county picnic-reunion which will be held Saturday at Rock Springs park. Governor Howard M. Gore and United States Senator M. M. Neely have been invited to attend and deliver addresses.

Prizes will be awarded during the day as follows: Silver cup to the oldest couple; silver cup to the oldest womna; silver cup to the oldest man settler and a cup to the best dressed old fashioned couple.

Cash prizes to the best attired guest who comes by horse back, the best by mule-back and by old-fashioned vehicle, while merchandise will be offered as a prize to the best old fashioned quilt, and squirrel gun on display, at the picnic.

In the past the picnic has served as a reunion for old time Hancock county citizens, many of whom are making arrangements to attend this year. The management of the park is leaving nothing left undone to make the event this year the most successful.

Transportation to the park will for the most part be made by automobile and busses, while trains will be available. The affair will be an all-day event with the picnickers gathering in the morning and spending the day at the park. All amusements will be in vogue in both the afternoon and evening.

Hancock County Building and Loan company of Chester, will have a booth on the grounds with a jar filled with pennies. The person guessing the nearest number will be awarded the contents.

There will be a large display of fireworks at night, while music for the dancing will be furnished by Dan Gregory's Victor recording orchestra.

Among those selected to judge the various events are: John E. Newell, J. C. Cunningham of Chester, George W. Marshall, J. M. Martin, and James Cameron of Pughtown, Senator O. S. Marshall, Armour S. Cooper, Sheriff J. A. Tope of New Cumberland, W. D. Johnston, Morgan Jones and Thos. S. Hoffman of Weirton.

U. S. FARM EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

The exhibit to be shown at the forthcoming forty-seventh annual West Virginia Exposition & State Fair, at Wheeling, which opens Saturday, September 3rd by the United States department of agriculture, is one that should interest every fair patron. This department has during recent years shown a exhibit at the big line fairs including Wheeling. But this year it will exceed in interest those of the past.

Much intrest has this year been shown in the farms of this state by the department of agriculture. That is one of the reasons why it is sending direct from Washington such a pretentious display. It requires several express cars to handle this one exhibit. More than 2,000 square feet of floor space is necessary to properly install it.

SCHOOL SURVEY PLANS DISCUSSED

Plans for conducting a state educational survey, made possible through appropriations by the legislature, were disclosed during the sessions of the annual high school institute which closed yesterday at Wheeling.

The survey will be conducted this fall, under the supervision of full-time educational experts who will be advised by nationally known school survey authorities.

The purpose of the survey is to make a close study of our present free school system with a view toward presenting the facts to the state superintendent and the legislature. It will result in the formation of school policies and securing constructive legislation in the future.

Dr. L. B. Hill, of West Virginia university, presented the plan before teachers in attendance at the institute. Included among the nationally known educators who have promised assistance in conducting and supervising the survey are Dr. L. B. Cavins, director of the bureau of investigation and statistics of the state department of education, who has been selected as director, Dr. George A. Works, of Texas, Dr. Charles H. Judd, of the University of Chicago, Dr. John W. Withers, Dr. Paul V. West and Dr. Frank Bachman of New York university.

Undergoes Operation.

H. B. Bondurant, Third street, underwent an operation for appendicitis this week in the East Liverpool City hospital.

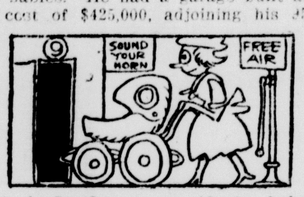

Coverdish Picnic Tonight.

Plans have been completed for the coverdish picnic to be held tonight in the Masonic temple, under the auspices of Crescent chapter No. 49, Order of Eastern Star.

Babies? Yes, Indeed.

LONDON.—Here is one apartment owner who evidently does not object to babies. He had a garage built at a cost of $425,000, adjoining his 45 flats in London, to provide for baby carriages, wherein occupants of the flats may park their "perambulators" free of charge.

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—Hereafter, bathing beauty contests will not be confined to the graceful lines of only feminine forms at Santa Monica. Men, too, will have a chance to exhibit their shapely forms when the annual state convention will be held here in October. Fat, thin, tall, short, bushy-haired or bald, they all will have a chance to participate in the men's beauty parade.

A combination of a motor boat and motorcycle is to be used by two army captains in their trip around the world.

GILBERT GETS SEA TRAINING

"Twelve Miles Out" at American Theatre.

Manipulating sextants, barometers and other instruments of navigation was the interesting pastime of John Gilbert, while preparing for some actual practice of navigation when he took to the sea in his new picture, "Twelve Miles Out," now playing at the American theatre.

Several revenue cutters, and a "rum-runner" vessel, built after the pattern of those in use on the Atlantic coast, were anchored off San Pedro, and were used in the scenes, which include a thrilling race between the revenue ships and their quarry.

Gilbert actually navigated the vessel in these scenes, not only thus making this picture but at the same time obtaining necessary sea experience to qualify him for captain's papers for his recently purchased yacht "The Temptress."

The new picture, which was directed by Jack Conway, is a vivid drama of adventure on the sea, hinging on the warfare between revenue boats and rum-runners. It was adapted for the screen by A. P. Younger from the famous stage play by William Anthony McGuire.

Joan Crawford is the heroine of the story, and Ernest Torrence plays the villian's role as the leader of the rum smuggling band. Eileen Percy, Tom O'Brien, Bert Roach and others of note are in the cast.

IMMENSE ZOO FOR TULSA, OKLA.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 25.—A zoological society has been organized in Tulza with the announced intention of establishing a large zoological garden near the city.

According to present plans, construction work will be started on the zoo immediately. Both summer and winter quarters will be provided for virtually all mamals; large and small, which are able to survive the North American climate.

"We realize that it will take many months and perhaps years before we have the zoo which we are planning," W. O. Doolittle, Superintendent of Tulsa Parks, said, "but we are greatly encouraged by the interest being manifested in the project. It will some day be our pleasure to offer to the Southwest and to the United States one of the largest zoos in the country," he said.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

MELLON VIEWED AS CANDIDATE WITH MANY SERIOUS HANDICAPS

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Review-Tribune

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—If President Coolidge positively won't run again in 1928, that means, to a certainty, that he won't, which constitutes a completely-rounded, unqualified sensation—

Whereas, if Andrew W. Mellon is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1928, his candidacy by no means insure his nomination, to say nothing of his election, so that the Mellon sensation, if any, is only a contingent one—

And therefore not in a class with the Coolidge sensation.

ASSUME, however, for the sake of argument, that Andrew Mellon really is going to succeed Calvin in the White House, and you've got a sensation at least equal to the one of August 2, when the president announced what he doesn't "choose" to do next year—maybe more so, for it certainly makes more difference to the country who its next president is than who he isn't.

LITTLE HINTS hooking up Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's name with the presidency have been afloat for several months, on the theory that Coolidge might not seek another term. When Coolidge said explicidly that he didn't, these hints become pretty definite.

But it can't be recorded that many people took them at all seriously.

Nobody disputed the magnificence of Mellon's proportions, to be sure, but he simply wasn't regarded as adapted to presidential purposes; just as you might acknowledge the Leviathan to be by far the largest, finest liner afloat, without considering her at all well designed for overland travel.

NOW, however, that Gov. John S. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, the treasury secretary's home state, has formally launched a Mellon presidential boom—with the second commonwealth, numerically, in the Union behind it—the time's past when the movement can be pooh-poohed.

As yet the thing can hardly be called Mellon's boom—in the possessive—because Mellon, in Europe, hasn't personally okehed it, but it's impossible to believe Fisher'd have gone so far without his approval.

You can't visualize these hard-boiled Mellonites as going after anything without some good reasons for believing they can get it.

BUT Mellon's handicaps!

He's one of the world's richest men—and most conservative. Every advanced and even slightly-advanced element couldn't but be against him.

He's "anti" every kind of farm relief that the farmers demand.

He's a wet—for "law enforcement," of course, but so's Capt. W. H. Stayton, executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. The drys have complained remake Volsteadism stick while Mellon's in office.

AND his age!

True, he's as alert and active and chipper as many a man of half his age, but he's 72 for all that—would be 74 before he could be inaugurated, if elected, and 78 at the end of his first term, not to mention a second.

He's a wonderful financier—that's admitted. Big business and all the money interests would be for him like so many ton of brick, on his record and his merits. But would they be willing to trust him to live quite so close to 100? And what good would he be to 'em if he died in office? They certainly would want to make mighty sure that their kind of a vice presidential candidate was on the ticket with him.

COUNTY SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 6

Hancock county schools will open for the fall and winter terms on Tuesday, Sept. 6, although registration of pupils will take place in several schools on the day previous.

During the summer season number of improvements have been made to numerous buildings in the county including Grant district. The new Wells high and elementary school here will be ready for occupancy on the opening day.

Increased enrollment is expected in every district.

Many To Attend Picnic.

Large number from this section plan to attend the Hancock county picnic which will be held Saturday at Rock Springs park. Many novel attractions have been arranged for the occasion by the park management.

May Defer School Opening.

Schools of Ohio county may not open for the fall term until Monday, Sept. 19, if the spread of infantile paralysis continues in that section. Members of the board of education are keeping in close touch with the situation and the buildings will not be thrown open until all danger is passed.

SALLY'S SALLIES

A sensible wedding present is the address of a good, inexpensive divorce lawyer.

Employes Attend Outing.

Employes of the Panhandle railroad residing in Hancock county were among the large crowd that attended the annual picnic of the division yesterday at Rock Springs park. Excursion trains were operated from Pittsburgh and Columbus to Steubenville, where a boat was taken to the park.

Lodgemen To Meet.

Members of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F., will meet Friday night in the Aaron building. Routine business will be transacted.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1927.

New Capitals

The chairman of the city-planning commission of Ottawa, Canada, finding rather difficult the problem of making the Canadian capital a model city, soberly proposes to go and build a new capital up in the adjacent Laurentian hills.

Canadians are flabbergasted by the proposal. Many ridicule it. The chairman, however, reminds them that Brazil is building a new capital away from Rio de Janeiro, in a more healthful, beautiful and advantageous site, and that Austration has built an absolutely new capital, Canberra.

He might have referred to the fact that the United States set an example of this sort when it picked out the District of Columbia and established a new capital called Washington on the Potomac river, more than a century ago.

City-building is easier than it used to be. It calls for much money and engineering skill, but those are plentiful. And city-planning, which aims to make over old cities along modern lines, is accustoming people to regard such ideas more open-mindedly than they used to.

A city or town formerly was something inevitable, its site and character fixed as if by laws of nature, and subject only to slow hardly perceptible changes from generations to generation. A city or town now is something that its residents can make over whenever they like, as a citizen remodels his house for greater beauty, health and usefulness.

The Chaplin Divorce

Everybody except a few tabloid enthusiasts must feel relieved that the Chaplin divorce case was got out of the way without a long drawn out and scandalous public trial. The brief hearing accomplished all that was necessary without bringing in unsavory details. It was better for the two children involved in the case and better for the moving picture industry, which has had about all the scandals it can stand for a while. And it was vastly better for the general public.

Now it may be hoped that Charlie Chaplin will go ahead with his unfinished picture, for which a large and perfectly self-respecting public has been waiting a long time. If some wise guardian could only be appointed to keep Charlie's private life in order and leave the artist free to produce great pictures, the public would be more than satisfied.

The Strongest Light

The University of Virginia at Charlottesville has a searchlight that is a searchlight. It can throw a beam of 1,385,000,000 candle power.

"How far that little candle throws its light! So shines a good deed in this naughty world," wrote Shakespeare. From the figures, it looks as if this light could be thrown a billion times as far. If we only had good deeds to shine like that in the realy of human conduct!

At any rate, the beam thrown by that Virginia searchlight is five times as powerful as any ever used before, and is capable of producing sunburn 2 miles away, and when directed upward is visible for 200 miles in every direction, which is assuredly shining some.!

Our science makes up for our moral deficiencies, in this enlightened age. And perhaps the floods of light we are throwing upon things material will lead eventually to greater moral sweetness and light. Our schools and colleges, along with our churches, are searchlights in that realm.

An End To Stunt Flights

More than a week after the tragic conclusion of the Dole air race, naval officials are saying that "some step must be taken by the federal government to prevent future loss of lives in any distance stunt flights." It is growing more apparent that the thrill of the race took precedence over reasonable caution and through preparation.

Of the three flights from New York to Europe ,only Lindbergh's was genuinely successful. Byrd's and Chamberlin's met with serious difficulties. The size of the European continent, which was their target, and the very great skill of the aviators enabled them to land without loss of life or limb.

Of the two flights to Hawaii earlier in the summer, one was a perfect success. In the other, the plane was wrecked in a lonely spot on one of the islands of the Hawaiian group, not the island aimed at.

There have been plenty of noteworthy successes to stimulate confidence in and enthusiasm for flying. There have also been plenty of failures to emphasize the fact that neither planes nor man's mastery of the air and knowledge of the art of flying are yet perfect.

It is all right to encourage flights, to offer prizes for special achievement. But in every such case there should be the fullest study of conditions, the most rigid requirement for safety and thorough inspection of planes. Needless loss of life will do the cause of aviation great harm.

A Chicago judge suggests that it might be a good thing to grant divorces for five dollars. But that would just make more trouble. When the divorcees turned right around and married again, they'd run into real expense.

"European Experts Assail Long U. S. Prison Sentences." And here in America we assail their shortness.

The Summer Widower— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A book might be written of curious cafe customs in New York. There is a shadowy dim lit tea room noted for clandestine engagements, yet frowns on women smoking cigarettes. Many cheaper cabaret dives do not permit women without escorts.

Others will provide sleek rascals for lone women but if they come alone service is refused. It is in ultra smart cafes the lone woman receives the most gracious welcome and there, too, she receives greatest protection from flirtatious advances.

There are three respectable restaurants in town which do not permit lone male diners, but lone members of the opposite sex are admitted. In all the cafes of the better sort patrons bring liquor at their own risk. They must carry it to their tables.

No employe is permitted to handle liquor in any way. Patrons must pour their own. While employes often break this rule, they face the danger of dismissal. The hazard of having property of great value padlocked is too portentous to take a chance.

On the East Side a restaurant displays this sign: "Gents with ladies will remove their hats." And in 46th street another suggests: "Please use toothpicks outside." A number of restaurants, especially those appealing to a theatrical trade, permit dogs in continental fashion. The smartest hotels do, too.

There is—or at least was several years ago—a restaurant near Church street that had a stack of Bibles on a table near the door for those who might want scriptural stimulation while waiting for their order. In recent years every cafe, save those attached to hotels, discourages charge accounts.

Experienced restauranteurs say that once a restaurant loses its popularity, it is through. In the trade is it known as "jinxed." The popularity is never regained. The wise heed this, put up the shutters and seek a new location.

Restaurants often lose popularity through trivial causes. Yet one hotel restaurant on Broadway survived an incident 10 years ago that would have meant extinction—save for what Broadway calls a lucky break. A patron at luncheon ordered a casserole dish. This, by the way, is not a pleasant topic for weak stomachs. He found a mouse had been cooked in the dish. Witnesses were there when he keeled over in a dead faint. He was ill for weeks and brought heavy suit for damages. The hotel stood to lose a good name and go into bankruptcy. The whole thing was placed before managing editors. It was conclusively proved that such a thing might happen in the most carefully conducted kitchen. The newspapers magnanimously "killed" the story.

Incidentally, I often wonder why a man will fuss with a waiter in a public restaurant. Nothing is achieved and the patron has not only lost his temper, but his appetite. One cannot win an argument with a trained waiter for the simple reason he refuses to argue. "Never talk back" is a good waiter's inflexible first law.

Custom inspection in New York is courteous but grows increasingly rigid. Too many enjoy bragging about bringing in "the real stuff." This casts a reflection on inspectors, which they have decided not to bear. They are using fine combs in their search. Not even just a few nips for grandpa's rheumatism are being considered. Inspectors can take no chances these days in hasty inspections. For every 80 inspectors there are 20 spotters. The spotters are not in uniform. They may be old men, old women, young girls or collegiate looking youths.

One trans-Atlantic voyager came out of the final gate the other day remarking he had been thoroughly "dry cleaned."

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Physicians Who Advertise.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Out in Iowa thre is a group of physicians that is conducting a newspaper advertising campaign. It is the Cerro Gordo County Medical society and the advertisements have been appearing regularly for some weeks in the Mason City Globe-Gazette.

This is said to be the first general advertising that has been done in the United States by "regular" doctors and is a departure from a long established principle of the ethics observed by the medical profession.

Moreover, Dr. J. Channing Dakin, president of the society, himself a pratitioner and surgeon, says that "this advertising plan has been approved by the judiciary committee of the American Medical association and by the executive committee of the Iowa State Medical society." The campaign is doubly interesting, therefore, in that it may be the forerunner of advertising generally by the medical profession.

"People are becoming confused over their health and what they should do about it by the advertising of so-called cults," says Dr. Dakin in explaining why the campaign was undertaken. "The designation 'Doctor' is being used generally and by many without medical training. It is also used properly by others than medical men. The public does not and in many cases can not discriminate among those using the title.

"In the true practice of medicine all the sciences are included. Those who lack the basic medical education can not be expected to diagnose and treat properly the problems that are essentially medical and surgical.

"Our general publicity for the standard educated medical profession is intended to inform the public so that it may know what the profession stands for and what it is. The family medical practitioner has been and is the family health guide and friend. He has no interest other than to keep the family in good health and to be their counselor always to that end."

No Individuals Exploited.

The advertisements that have been published do not exploit any individual physicians, or any school or method of treatment for any disease, or any "cures," and they do not include the names of any officers or the members of any committee of the profession. Each advertisement is signed simply, "Cerro Gordo County Medical society."

What is said in the advertisements is in the way of a dignified statement about the medical profession and its relation to the public, or a presentation of some of the fundamentals of healthful practices and ways of living. On the one hand, the idea set forth is that if you need a doctor, be sure you get a real doctor, and on the other hand, that if you take the right kind of care of yourself the occasions when you will need treatment from a doctor will be few and far between.

For example, in the first advertisement, entitled "The Doctor of Medicine and the Public," it was stated:

"Believing that the public is entitled to more definite and authoritative information about the profession and concerning its ethics, its purposes and its services, the Cerro Gordo County Medical society plans the publication of a series of articles. It will be the purpose of these articles to offer accurate and definite information on the various phases of the relationship of the medical profession to the public and to present practical suggestions and recommendations looking toward the improvement of the public health and the conservations of the public welfare."

The advertisement also calls attention to the fact that the laws of Iowa require that a doctor of medicine must have a college degree involving four years of study of science, four years in medical school, and a year in a first class hospital before he may begin to treat the public.

"By these requirements," it is stated, "more drastic than those imposed upon any other profession or chool of therapeutics, the state sets the medical profession apart and eloquently testifies to the priority of its position and the vital interest with which its relationship to the public health is charged."

Choosing the Family Doctor.

One of the more interesting of the advertisements deals with the subject of the selection of a family doctor and gives a definition of an "ethical" doctor.

"Select an ethical doctor of medicine," it says." "Anethical physician is one who accepts the fundamental standards of the medical profession. To be ethical means to be honest. An ethical practitioner is honest in his relations with this competitors, with his patients, and with the public in general.

"The experience of the profession has taught us that one who allows his name to be advertised indiscriminately and secures undue publicity for himself is not apt to be ethical. If he claims exclusive knowledge of methods of cure he is dishonest—for all ethical physicians exchange their experiences freely."

Along this line another advertisement tells of the work that is being carried on by the American Medical association from its headquarters and laboratories in Chicago, the largest institution of its kind in the world. There $2,000,000 are expanded annually in service to the human race. In the laboratories the most delicate tests are made constantly, the archives are filled with hundreds of thousands of documents pertaining to medical discoveries and developments, and there are indexes of the leading periodical literature on medicine of 28 countries. All of this information is at the command of the 155,000 regularly licensed doctors of medicine in the United States, nad they may also be advised concerning the many hospitals of the country.

Of the last there are almost 7,000 with more than 800,000 beds. it is stated ,and "the American Medical association knows that nearly 300 of these hospitals, 'because of clearly unethical practices,' are unworthy to be included in any list of reputable institutions. That information is not given out to the public in printed form, but is available to any person having a legitimate reason for asking it. Likewise every doctor, and every 'make believe' doctor or quack, is catalonged, and thus the standing of any individual doctor may be ascertained by any one interested."

These Iowa physicians may become merchants when they advertise, but it is evident that the commodity they are trying to sell to their community is good health. To this end they emphasize the importance of going to your doctor and being checked over at reasonable frequent intervals. Your brakes may be loose, your steering gear out of whack, your carburator may need adjustment, your spark plug may not be functioning properly, your valves may be tapping, or your batteries may be almost run down—in fact, almost everything can be wrong with you that gets wrong with your automobile, and you ought to take as good care of yourself as you do of your car.

"Careful periodical examinations which will discover disabilities in their earliest stages, when cure is possible, is the finest service the doctor can render you," says one of the Mason City advertisements. "Give him an opportunity to work under favorable conditions to get the best results. You can not expect so much if you wait until the best he can do is a repair job, with damaged materials with which to work."

New Capitals

The chairman of the city-planning commission of Ottawa, Canada, finding rather difficult the problem of making the Canadian capital a model city, soberly proposes to go and build a new capital up in the adjacent Laurentian hills.

Canadians are flabbergasted by the proposal. Many ridicule it. The chairman, however, reminds them that Brazil is building a new capital away from Rio de Janeiro, in a more healthful, beautiful and advantageous site, and that Austration has built an absolutely new capital, Canberra.

He might have referred to the fact that the United States set an example of this sort when it picked out the District of Columbia and established a new capital called Washington on the Potomac river, more than a century ago.

City-building is easier than it used to be. It calls for much money and engineering skill, but those are plentiful. And city-planning, which aims to make over old cities along modern lines, is accustoming people to regard such ideas more open-mindedly than they used to.

A city or town formerly was something inevitable, its site and character fixed as if by laws of nature, and subject only to slow hardly perceptible changes from generations to generation. A city or town now is something that its residents can make over whenever they like, as a citizen remodels his house for greater beauty, health and usefulness.

The Chaplin Divorce

Everybody except a few tabloid enthusiasts must feel relieved that the Chaplin divorce case was got out of the way without a long drawn out and scandalous public trial. The brief hearing accomplished all that was necessary without bringing in unsavory details. It was better for the two children involved in the case and better for the moving picture industry, which has had about all the scandals it can stand for a while. And it was vastly better for the general public.

Now it may be hoped that Charlie Chaplin will go ahead with his unfinished picture, for which a large and perfectly self-respecting public has been waiting a long time. If some wise guardian could only be appointed to keep Charlie's private life in order and leave the artist free to produce great pictures, the public would be more than satisfied.

The Strongest Light

The University of Virginia at Charlottesville has a searchlight that is a searchlight. It can throw a beam of 1,385,000,000 candle power.

"How far that little candle throws its light! So shines a good deed in this naughty world," wrote Shakespeare. From the figures, it looks as if this light could be thrown a billion times as far. If we only had good deeds to shine like that in the realy of human conduct!

At any rate, the beam thrown by that Virginia searchlight is five times as powerful as any ever used before, and is capable of producing sunburn 2 miles away, and when directed upward is visible for 200 miles in every direction, which is assuredly shining some.!

Our science makes up for our moral deficiencies, in this enlightened age. And perhaps the floods of light we are throwing upon things material will lead eventually to greater moral sweetness and light. Our schools and colleges, along with our churches, are searchlights in that realm.

An End To Stunt Flights

More than a week after the tragic conclusion of the Dole air race, naval officials are saying that "some step must be taken by the federal government to prevent future loss of lives in any distance stunt flights." It is growing more apparent that the thrill of the race took precedence over reasonable caution and through preparation.

Of the three flights from New York to Europe ,only Lindbergh's was genuinely successful. Byrd's and Chamberlin's met with serious difficulties. The size of the European continent, which was their target, and the very great skill of the aviators enabled them to land without loss of life or limb.

Of the two flights to Hawaii earlier in the summer, one was a perfect success. In the other, the plane was wrecked in a lonely spot on one of the islands of the Hawaiian group, not the island aimed at.

There have been plenty of noteworthy successes to stimulate confidence in and enthusiasm for flying. There have also been plenty of failures to emphasize the fact that neither planes nor man's mastery of the air and knowledge of the art of flying are yet perfect.

It is all right to encourage flights, to offer prizes for special achievement. But in every such case there should be the fullest study of conditions, the most rigid requirement for safety and thorough inspection of planes. Needless loss of life will do the cause of aviation great harm.

A Chicago judge suggests that it might be a good thing to grant divorces for five dollars. But that would just make more trouble. When the divorcees turned right around and married again, they'd run into real expense.

"European Experts Assail Long U. S. Prison Sentences." And here in America we assail their shortness.

The Summer Widower— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A book might be written of curious cafe customs in New York. There is a shadowy dim lit tea room noted for clandestine engagements, yet frowns on women smoking cigarettes. Many cheaper cabaret dives do not permit women without escorts.

Others will provide sleek rascals for lone women but if they come alone service is refused. It is in ultra smart cafes the lone woman receives the most gracious welcome and there, too, she receives greatest protection from flirtatious advances.

There are three respectable restaurants in town which do not permit lone male diners, but lone members of the opposite sex are admitted. In all the cafes of the better sort patrons bring liquor at their own risk. They must carry it to their tables.

No employe is permitted to handle liquor in any way. Patrons must pour their own. While employes often break this rule, they face the danger of dismissal. The hazard of having property of great value padlocked is too portentous to take a chance.

On the East Side a restaurant displays this sign: "Gents with ladies will remove their hats." And in 46th street another suggests: "Please use toothpicks outside." A number of restaurants, especially those appealing to a theatrical trade, permit dogs in continental fashion. The smartest hotels do, too.

There is—or at least was several years ago—a restaurant near Church street that had a stack of Bibles on a table near the door for those who might want scriptural stimulation while waiting for their order. In recent years every cafe, save those attached to hotels, discourages charge accounts.

Experienced restauranteurs say that once a restaurant loses its popularity, it is through. In the trade is it known as "jinxed." The popularity is never regained. The wise heed this, put up the shutters and seek a new location.

Restaurants often lose popularity through trivial causes. Yet one hotel restaurant on Broadway survived an incident 10 years ago that would have meant extinction—save for what Broadway calls a lucky break. A patron at luncheon ordered a casserole dish. This, by the way, is not a pleasant topic for weak stomachs. He found a mouse had been cooked in the dish. Witnesses were there when he keeled over in a dead faint. He was ill for weeks and brought heavy suit for damages. The hotel stood to lose a good name and go into bankruptcy. The whole thing was placed before managing editors. It was conclusively proved that such a thing might happen in the most carefully conducted kitchen. The newspapers magnanimously "killed" the story.

Incidentally, I often wonder why a man will fuss with a waiter in a public restaurant. Nothing is achieved and the patron has not only lost his temper, but his appetite. One cannot win an argument with a trained waiter for the simple reason he refuses to argue. "Never talk back" is a good waiter's inflexible first law.

Custom inspection in New York is courteous but grows increasingly rigid. Too many enjoy bragging about bringing in "the real stuff." This casts a reflection on inspectors, which they have decided not to bear. They are using fine combs in their search. Not even just a few nips for grandpa's rheumatism are being considered. Inspectors can take no chances these days in hasty inspections. For every 80 inspectors there are 20 spotters. The spotters are not in uniform. They may be old men, old women, young girls or collegiate looking youths.

One trans-Atlantic voyager came out of the final gate the other day remarking he had been thoroughly "dry cleaned."

And I heard of one liner passenger who, in distributing his tips, handed a uniformed gentleman two pounds. The gentleman thanked him and a few seconds later began blowing the dinner horn. He was the ship's bugler.

CARD OF THANKS.

The citizens of LaCroft and Sherwood offer their sincere thanks to the East Liverpool Fire Department for their wonderful assistance during the fire which occurred there last night. They certainly appreciate their service in saving the other homes which would have burned, if not for the efforts of the brave firemen. They also wish to thank the many kind neighbors and all those who gave a helping hand, also the Ohio Power company for the service which they rendered and the kind telephone operators for their quick service.

They Called Her Scrawny But Not For Long

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure and build up rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back oldtime energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America.

ARREST 3 WOMEN FOR ATTACK ON STRIKE BREAKERS

NON-UNION MEN HALTED BY MOB NEAR FLORENCE

Deputy Sheriffs Beat Back Infuriated Women.

BOND FURNISHED

Union Miners Plan Pilgrimage to Pomeroy Fields.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 25—Three women, said to be the leaders of a mob of 75 women which late Wednesday attacked a force of eight deputy sheriffs giving safe conduct to non-union miners enroute to the Florence mines, near here, are under arrest here today. They are to be charged with rioting and assault to kill, according to attaches of the office of County Prosecutor Waddell. The women registered at the county jail as Josephine Holewick, Catherine Niska and Margaret Luposki.

According to Sheriff Hardesty, the deputy sheriffs and the non-union workers had passed through a mile of picketed territory where five union posts have been established, and were about to pass upon mine property when the women armed with clubs, bricks, stones and eggs, attacked them. The deputies, Hardesty said, attempted to disperse the women with clubs when they were attacked.

Deputy Sheriff Baker was bitten by one of the women, while the club of one deputy is said to have crashed upon the nose of a woman. She has not been arrested. The women are to be charged and arraigned Friday, upon the return of Prosecutor Waddell.

There are now 12 men and women under bond in Belmont county charged with rioting and assault to kill, as a result of clashes between union pickets and sympathizers and non-union strike breakers. This number does not include the three women arrested after the mob attack Wednesday.

William Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Hunyha, who were arrested after the Monday attack at Martins Ferry, upon three bosses of the Florence mine, were arraigned late Wednesday on charges of rioting and assault to kill, and were held to the grand jury under bond of $1,000 each.

Bond in each case has been furnished by the local unions.

Union Leaders Protest.

ATHENS, O., Aug. 25—Despite the protests of Carl Daugherty, president of the Buchtel district of union miners, 500 unemployed union miners gathered early today at Glouster and began an automobile pilgrimage to Pomeroy, where several former union miners of the Hocking valley are said to be working in non-union mines according to reports received here.

Daugherty, it is reported here, warned the men that the mines in the Pomeroy district are reputed to be guarded and protected with machine guns, but the men persisted in making the trip. Their object, it is said, is to persuade the men from working in the non-union fields.

Pomeroy mines have been operating on a non-union basis sice 1917 on a $5 scale.

as machine buns would take care of sheep dogs.

SENATOR WALSH, of Massachusetts, when Congress meets will introduce a bill to provide "a West Point of the air," a United States aviation academy, to take equal rank with West Point and Annapolis. An excellent suggestions, and "equal rank" is none too high, for in case of war the fliers would have to protect the obsolete warships and slow crawling army.

West Point and Annapolis should be changed to flying academies, and the sooner the better.

ROME PLANE MAY HOP OFF TODAY

"Old Glory" in Readiness for Trans-Atlantic Trip.

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Old Glory, the single-motored Fokker monoplane in which Lloyd W. Bertaud and James De Witt Hill will attempt a flight to Rome, was taken from its hangar here this morning, to be flown to Roosevelt Field and there placed on the mound from which its trans-Atlantic take-off is to be made. Hill was to fly the plane to Roosevelt Field, where it was to be fueled and provisioned.

Both Bertaud and Hill expressed a belief that the trans-Atlantic take-off could probably be made some time between 3 p. m. and 6 p. m. today. A gentle north wind was blowing this morning, which was expected to shift to westerly this afternoon.

Should weather conditions prevent a start of the long hop this afternoon, the monoplane will remain on the mound, ready for the start at the first favorable opportunity, Bertaud said.

ATTACK TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington Wants Report on Shooting of American Girl.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The state department today instructed the American embassy in Mexico City to press vigorously an inquiry into the wounding of Miss Florence Anderson of California during an attack by bandits on a Southern Pacific train near Acoponeta, Mexico.

J. W. Ives, the American consul, who reported the incident, has already made representations to Mexican authorities. Ives advised the department that the train was attacked by several hundred armed men.

After receiving the degree of Master of Arts, Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery in the Glasgow university, Miss Isobel Hill decided to be a dressmaker, she testified in a London court recently.

Youth in California

visited the scene of the crime late last night.

Meanwhile Lasalle county authorities are making every effort to locate Harry Hill, ne'er-do-well son of the murdered woman who has been formally charged with her killing. He was last seen in Chicago at the home of William Bridges, a former resident here and a close friend. Further indication that Mrs. Hill was murdered by her son as a result of financial difficulties arising out of a number of checks which the boy had forged in her name, was disclosed today according to police when it developed that he was seen at his home last Sunday afternoon mopping the south porch of the Hill residence in the exclusive section of Streator.

He has never been known to take any interest in the home on any previous occasion. Since the separation between his mother and father, Dr. H. C. Hill, loval eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, three years ago, he has virtually made his home at a Streator hotel, despite the father's insistence that he take up permanent abode with his mother.

Two Theories Advanced.

The state is proceeding on two theories as motives which would cause the boy to kill his mother. The most popular theory is that he had been discovered making inroads into his mother's bank account by means of checks which he forged to pay gambling debts.

The other theory is that he killed her because she refused to sanction a marriage between him and Alice Sawyer, which had been set for next month.

Alice is Hill's boyhood sweetheart. Calmly, in the face of overwhelming circumstantial evidence against him, Alice insists that Harry is not implicated in any way. She points out that Harry weighs only 135 pounds, and has never been robust, and claims it would have been impossible for him to carry or drag his 225-pound mother to the shallow basement grave.

At the inquest yesterday, she told of spending all of last Sunday in his company. Under a grilling cross examination by Coroner L. D. Howe, she denied that he exhibited any evidence of nervousness at any time. He left her, she said, last Sunday evening to go to Chicago to regain a position he formerly held with an advertising company.

She further told of making an engagement with him at that time to meet him in Chicago on Friday of this week in company with her mother, spending the week-end there, and all three returning to Streator together. Her testimony shed no light in the unusual murder situation which has the whole city aroused.

Coroner L. D. Howe learned from witnesses that Mrs. Hill was last seen on August 4 in the front yard of her home. According to the coroner she has been dead about three weeks.

REGISTRATION FEE INCREASED

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—Students at Ohio university enrolling next month for the new scholastic year, will be required to pay an increase of $5 a quarter in the registration fee, making a total of $20 a quarter, instead of $15 formerly charged. The action was taken by university trustees at the request of the house appropration committee, which suggested additional revenue be raised in this manner.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—After a firm and steady opening, in which higher prices were recorded in a number of the speculative leaders, the stock market today sagged under the weight of heavy selling. The persistent bearish professionals offerred a liberal volume of the stocks which have been plunging forward recklessly in the last few weeks and succeeded, for the time being at least, in turning the market trend downward.

Wall Street, and the financial district in general, were inclined to give more attention to evidences of a slackening in fall trade. Since April every monthly tonnage reports has shown a decline from the corresponding month of 1926, while steel buying as indicated in the weekly surveys of the trade authorities, is considerably below expectations. Flooding of the markets with "easy money" is far from complimentary to American business as a whole.

Continuance of the Frisco railroad's extra 25-cent dividend on the common stock, practically placing the stock on an eight per cent dividend basis stimulated good buying of a few of the dividend rails, with Atchison, Frisco, New York Central and Southern Railway leading a moderate rally. Atchison reached 200 for the first time in the history of the road.

United States Steel and General Motors were well supported at 139 and 239 respectively, and Mudson Motors was inclined to make a belated response to the recent increase of its dividend to $5 a share annually. A number of large blocks of the stock was taken at 87. Nash was also in good demand above 81½.

In an attempt to "keep the speculative pot boiling" in the second hour, professionals turned to the railroad stocks and utilities, a few of which were whipped up sharply to new high price levels. General Motors and high-priced specialties, the blue chips of the speculative game, also staged a come-back in this period. Pan American Petroleum emerged from its state of depression, not much the worse for the severe pounding it received at the hands of the bears, while General Motors rushed up to a new peak price for all time.

Cotton lost about 20 points in profit taking and Wall Street speculative selling, while the grain markets were steady, with narrow price changes. Sugar was firm and the general commodities markets featureless. Call money unchanged at three and one-half per cent.

OUTLAWS RAID MEXICAN TOWN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—Federal troops are pursuing ten outlaws who raided the village of La Garblelas, state of Vera Cruz, killing a man, attacking several young women and burning houses, said a telegram from Vera Cruz today.

Two outlaws of a band of four recently captured near this city have been executed following a court martial. The third was killed while trying to escape and the fourth was liberated.

According to the military authorities the whole Mexico valley has not been cleared of outlaws.

TO BURY SUICIDE VICTIM TOMORROW

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Allender Warden, 25, who died in the City hospital as a result of swallowing two bichloride of mercury tablets, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church. Burial will be made in the United Presbyterian cemetery at Calcutta.

$10,000 Fire Loss

men were greeted with a sheet of flames as they reached the kitchen in the rear. While a bucket brigade was being formed to battle the flames a call was sent for the fire department.

Two Alarms Sounded.

Six firemen on the No. 1 combination truck from the Central fire station responded to the first alarm. Attaching the hose to a fire plug near the Fisher Park allotment, 1,400 feet of hose was strung but the fire could not be reached. Another alarm was sounded and the "flying squadron" truck from the Central station, carrying an additional supply of hose, was dispatched to the scene of the blaze. In the meantime however the blaze was spread to the Lowe building.

The firemen devoted their efforts toward saving the Lowe building. The fire was soon under control but the roof and the second floor of the Lowe building had been badly damaged. Stock in the grocery and a greater part of the furnishings in the living rooms had been carried from the building by volunteers before the place was fired. Furnishings in the home of Frank Densmore which adjoins the Lowe place was also removed when it was feared that the fire would take their home.

Pasco carried $2,900 insurance on his home and furnishings while the building occupied by Lowe and owned by William Densmore, Sherwood was also insured. Lowe had no insurance on his household furnishings or stock in the store, it is claimed.

Another Fire in East End.

Electric light and telephone lines passing along the Lincoln Highway were burned away by the blaze. Linemen worked until after the hour of midnight in removing the broken wires and stringing temporary lines. Residents of the Ross Meadows and Stop 55 territory were without electric lights for several hours last night as a result of the blaze.

While firemen were at work on the Sherwood fire, another alarm came from the home of Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Harker avenue, where an outhouse caught fire. Trucks from the East End and the Northside fire station which was "filling in" at the Central station house responded. The shed was burned to the ground.

District is Thankful.

Residents of the Sherwood and La Croft district today expressed their thanks to members of the fire department, telephone operators, power company and to all volunteers who assisted at the fire and in keeping the blaze from spreading to their property.

The two buildings are located just north of the new Lincoln highway territory recently annexed to the city. The city is now arranging to extend its water mains from Fisher park to the city limits.

BANK ADDS SIX TO ITS BOARD

$4,000,000 Worth of New Capital Put Into Enterprise.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25. — Carrying out a resolution adopted by the recent triennial convention of the order here, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today had increased the board of directors of the B. of L. E. Cooperative National bank, from nine to 15, at the same time choosing 11 new members to displace certain of the old directorate.

In addition to C. H. Huston, chairman of the Transcontinental Oil company, and F. A. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber company, nine Cleveland men, prominent in public, professional and industrial life, were chosen.

Old members retained were Alvanley Johnston, who was elected president and chairman of the board; J. H. Cassell, secretary and treasurer of the B. of L. E.; Walger Dunigan, assistant secretary and treasurer of the B. of L. E., and O. J. Horn, attorney.

The Baltimore Trust company, it was announced simultaneously with the election, has taken mortgages on the two buildings owned by the Brotherhood here, whereby $4,000,000 new capital is put into the organization's enterprises, to secure an issue of 6 per cent first mortgage bonds due August 1, 1932. The bonds will not be offered to the public for the present, it was said.

FOUR HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—One trainman was injured probably fatally, and three others were less seriously hurt when two freight trains on the C. G. & P. traction line collided at Mount Washington, near here, today.

NO LET UP IN NAVY'S SEARCH FOR AVIATORS

No Trace of Three Planes Found by Vessels.

ISLANDS SCANNED

Test of Rubber Bag Boats Gives Slight Hope.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The navy decided today to continue at least for another week, a vigorous and widespread search for the seven missing Hawaiian flyers.

The new searching plans were outlined in dispatches sent to the navy by Admirals R. H. Jackson at San Francisco, and John McDonald, at Honolulu.

Although the entire resources of the Pacific fleet have been thrown into the eight day search, no trace has yet been found of Mildred Doran, 22-year-old "flying school marm" and her six men comrades, who are lost in three racing planes somewhere in the Pacific.

The aircraft vessels, Langley and Aroostook, which have been working out over the great circle course with a convoy of destroyers will turn back today. Planes from the deck of the Langley have searched the water for miles in every direction as the mother ship slowly moved toward the mid-Pacific islands. Not a clue, not a trace of the missing planes was found.

The light cruiser Omaha and six destroyers, which were diverted into the hunt Tuesday, will continue the search from their present position, following the ocean drift as far as Hawaii.

In Hawaiian waters, the minesweeper Pelican and two seaplanes search off the island of Kauai. Every mile off Hawaii for 40 miles has been thoroughly combed.

Careful search of the slopes of Mauna Kea, Hawaiia's highest mountain, failed to disclose the source of brightly burning green flare sighted by an army officer last Sunday. Martin Jensen, winner of second price in the Dole derby, circled the mountain in his trans-Pacific plane, Aloha.

Results Satisfactory.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Satisfactory results obtained in testing a rubber life boat, revived a faint flicker of hope today that some or all of the seven missing Dole flyers may still be found alive.

The test was made at the behest of the government, to decide whether the search should be abandoned or continued indefinitely.

A rubber bag-boat similar to those carried by all the Hawaiian flight planes, was used. Two men, each weighing 180 pounds, put off in the life raft from a coast guard cutter.

At the end of an hour and fifty minutes not a drop of water had been shipped and the two men had suffered not the slightest discomfort they reported.

The test was conducted twelve miles out in Catalina channel, in a choppy sea, with a heavy ground sweel running, and an 18-mile westerly wind blowing.

The raft was visible to the naked eye at a distance of eight miles, and should be plainly seen with glasses 20 miles away it was estimated.

The raft, according to observors, could not be swamped, and should remain afloat indefinitely.

THE BUCKEYE NEWS

NO. 33. AUGUST 25, 1927. VOL. 1.

We know a young lady who is going away to school this fall. She and her mother have been busy with the wardrobe. The other day they made a discovery. "What am I going to wear to school?" the girl asked. They had completely overlooked that detail. All the dresses were for social use.

Wife. — "I'm so sleepy — is everything shut up for the night?" ?

Hubby. — "That depends on you. Everything else is."

Do you remember 'way back when your horses shied at the automobiles and it made you mad at the infernal contraptions?

We like the golden summer days,
We like the nice warm nights;
In fact we like all summer brings,
Except mosquito bites.

There is no law requiring anybody to trade a home, except maybe the law of common sense. The home merchant is in better position to give you service than anybody else.

We absolutely believe in our ability to please you in Lumber. And that isn't egotism. It's self confidence.

ARREST 3 WOMEN FOR ATTACK ON STRIKE BREAKERS

NON-UNION MEN HALTED BY MOB NEAR FLORENCE

Deputy Sheriffs Beat Back Infuriated Women.

BOND FURNISHED

Union Miners Plan Pilgrimage to Pomeroy Fields.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 25.—Three women, said to be the leaders of a mob of 75 women which late Wednesday attacked a force of eight deputy sheriffs giving safe conduct to non-union miners enroute to the Florence mines, near here, are under arrest here today. They are to be charged with rioting and assault to kill, according to attaches of the office of County Prosecutor Waddell. The women registered at the county jail as Josephine Holewick, Catherine Niska and Margaret Luposki.

According to Sheriff Hardesty, the deputy sheriffs and the non-union workers had passed through a mile of picketed territory where five union posts have been established, and were about to pass upon mine property when the women armed with clubs, bricks, stones and eggs, attacked them. The deputies, Hardesty said, attempted to disperse the women with clubs when they were attacked.

Deputy Sheriff Baker was bitten by one of the women, while the club of one deputy is said to have crashed upon the nose of a woman. She has not been arrested. The women are to be charged and arraigned Friday, upon the return of Prosecutor Waddell.

There are now 12 men and women under bond in Belmont county charged with rioting and assault to kill, as a result of clashes between union pickets and sympathizers and non-union strike breakers. This number does not include the three women arested after the mob attack Wednesday.

William Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Hunyha, who were arrested after the Monday attack at Martins Ferry, upon three bosses of the Florence mine, were arraigned late Wednesday on charges of rioting and assault to kill, and were held to the grand jury under bond of $1,000 each.

Bond in each case has been furnished by the local unions.

Union Leaders Protest.

ATHENS, O., Aug. 25.—In spite the protests of Neal Daugherty, president of the Buchtel district of union miners, 500 unemployed union miners gathered early today at Glouster and began an automobile pilgrimage to Pomeroy, where several former union miners of the Hocking valley are said to be working in non-union mines according to reports received here.

Daugherty, it is reported here, warned the men that the mines in the Pomeroy district are reputed to be guarded and protected with machine guns, but the men persisted in making the trip. Their object, it is said, is to persuade the men from working in the non-union fields.

Pomeroy mines have been operating on a non-union basis sice 1917 on a $5 scale.

SENATOR WALSH, of Massachusetts, when Congress meets will introduce a bill to provide "a West Point of the air," a United States aviation academy, to take equal rank with West Point and Annapolis. An excellent suggestions, and "equal rank" is none too high, for in case of war the fliers would have to protect the obsolete warships and slow crawling army.

West Point and Annapolis should be changed to flying academies, and the sooner the better.

"Old Glory" in Readiness for Trans-Atlantic Trip.

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Old Glory, the single-motored Fokker monoplane in which Lloyd W. Bertaud and James De Witt Hill will attempt a flight to Rome, was taken from its hangar here this morning, to be flown to Roosevelt Field and there placed on the mound from which its trans-Atlantic take-off is to be made. Hill was to fly the plane to Roosevelt Field, where it was to be fueled and provisioned.

Both Bertaud and Hill expressed a belief that the trans-Atlantic take-off could probably be made some time between 3 p. m. and 6 p. m. today. A gentle north wind was blowing this morning, which was expected to shift to westerly this afternoon.

Should weather conditions prevent a start of the long hop this afternoon, the monoplane will remain on the mound, ready for the start at the first favorable opportunity, Bertaud said.

ATTACK TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington Wants Report on Shooting of American Girl.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The state department today instructed the American embassy in Mexico City to press vigorously an inquiry into the wounding of Miss Florence Anderson of California during an attack by bandits on a Southern Pacific train near Acoponeta, Mexico.

J. W. Ives, the American consul, who reported the incident, has already made representations to Mexican authorities. Ives advised the department that the train was attacked by several hundred armed men.

After receiving the degree of Master of Arts, Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery in the Glasgow university, Miss Isobel Hill decided to be a dressmaker, she testified in a London court recently.

Youth in California

visited the scene of the crime late last night.

Meanwhile Lasalle county authorities are making every effort to locate Harry Hill, ne'er-do-well son of the murdered woman who has been formally charged with her killing. He was last seen in Chicago at the home of William Bridges, a former resident here and a close friend. Further indication that Mrs. Hill was murdered by her son as a result of financial difficulties arising out of a number of checks which the boy had forged in her name, was disclosed today according to police when it developed that he was seen at his home last Sunday afternoon mopping the south porch of the Hill residence in the exclusive section of Streator.

He has never been known to take any interest in the home on any previous occasion. Since the separation between his mother and father, Dr. H. C. Hill, loval eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, three years ago, he has virtually made his home at a Streator hotel, despite the father's insistence that he take up permanent abode with his mother.

Two Theories Advanced.

The state is proceeding on two theories as motives which would cause the boy to kill his mother. The most popular theory is that he had been discovered making inroads into his mother's bank account by means of checks which he forged to pay gambling debts.

The other theory is that he killed her because she refused to sanction a marriage between him and Alice Sawyer, which had been set for next month.

Alice is Hill's boyhood sweetheart. Calmly, in the face of overwhelming circumstantial evidence against him, Alice insists that Harry is not implicated in any way. She points out that Harry weighs only 135 pounds, and has never been robust, and claims it would have been impossible for him to carry or drag his 225-pound mother to the shallow basement grave.

At the inquest yesterday, she told of spending all of last Sunday in his company. Under a grilling cross examination by Coroner L. D. Howe, she denied that he exhibited any evidence of nervousness at any time. He left her, she said, last Sunday evening to go to Chicago to regain a position he formerly held with an advertising company.

She further told of making an engagement with him at that time to meet him in Chicago on Friday of this week in company with her mother, spending the week-end there, and all three returning to Streator together. Her testimony shed no light in the unusual murder situation which has the whole city aroused.

Coroner L. D. Howe learned from witnesses that Mrs. Hill was last seen on August 4 in the front yard of her home. According to the coroner she has been dead about three weeks.

REGISTRATION FEE INCREASED

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—Students at Ohio university enrolling next month for the new scholastic year, will be required to pay an increase of $5 a quarter in the registration fee, making a total of $20 a quarter, instead of $15 formerly charged. The action was taken by university trustees at the request of the house appropration committee, which suggested additional revenue be raised in this manner.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—After a firm and steady opening, in which higher prices were recorded in a number of the speculative leaders, the stock market today sagged under the weight of heavy selling. The persistent bearish professionals offerred a liberal volume of the stocks which have been plunging forward recklessly in the last few weeks and succeeded, for the time being at least, in turning the market trend downward.

Wall Street, and the financial district in general, were inclined to give more attention to evidences of a slackening in fall trade. Since April every monthly tonnage reports has shown a decline from the corresponding month of 1926, while steel buying as indicated in the weekly surveys of the trade authorities, is considerably below expectations. Flooding of the markets with "easy money" is far from complimentary to American business as a whole.

Continuance of the Frisco railroad's extra 25-cent dividend on the common stock, practically placing the stock on an eight per cent dividend basis stimulated good buying of a few of the dividend rails, with Atchison, Frisco, New York Central and Southern Railway leading a moderate rally. Atchison reached 200 for the first time in the history of the road.

United States Steel and General Motors were well supported at 139 and 239 respectively, and Mudson Motors was inclined to make a belated response to the recent increase of its dividend to $5 a share annually. A number of large blocks of the stock was taken at 87. Nash was also in good demand above 81½.

In an attempt to "keep the speculative pot boiling" in the second hour, professionals turned to the railroad stocks and utilities, a few of which were whipped up sharply to new high price levels. General Motors and high-priced specialties, the blue chips of the speculative game, also staged a come-back in this period. Pan American Petroleum emerged from its state of depression, not much the worse for the severe pounding it received at the hands of the bears, while General Motors rushed up to a new peak price for all time.

Cotton lost about 20 points in profit taking and Wall Street speculative selling, while the grain markets were steady, with narrow price changes. Sugar was firm and the general commodities markets featureless. Call money unchanged at thirteen and one-half per cent.

OUTLAWS RAID MEXICAN TOWN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—Federal troops are pursuing ten outlaws who raided the village of La Garblelas, state of Vera Cruz, killing a man, attacking several young women and burning houses, said a telegram from Vera Cruz today.

Two outlaws of a band of four recently captured near this city have been executed following a court martial. The third was killed while trying to escape and the fourth was liberated.

According to the military authorities the whole Mexico valley has not been cleared of outlaws.

TO BURY SUICIDE VICTIM TOMORROW

O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church. Burial will be made in the United Presbyterian cemetery at Calcutta.

$10,000 Fire Loss

men were greeted with a sheet of flames as they reached the kitchen in the rear. While a bucket brigade was being formed to battle the flames a call was sent for the fire department.

Two Alarms Sounded.

Six firemen on the No. 1 combination truck from the Central fire station responded to the first alarm. Attaching the hose to a fire plug near the Fisher Park allotment, 1,400 feet of hose was strung but the fire could not be reached. Another alarm was sounded and the "flying squadron" truck from the Central station, carrying an additional supply of hose, was dispatched to the scene of the blaze. In the meantime however the blaze was spread to the Lowe building.

The firemen devoted their efforts toward saving the Lowe building. The fire was soon under control but the roof and the second floor of the Lowe building had been badly damaged. Stock in the grocery and a greater part of the furnishings in the living rooms had been carried from the building by volunteers before the place was fired. Furnishings in the home of Frank Densmore which adjoins the Lowe place was also removed when it was feared that the fire would take their home.

Pasco carried $2,900 insurance on his home and furnishings while the building occupied by Lowe and owned by William Densmore, Sherwood was also insured. Lowe had no insurance on his household furnishings or stock in the store, it is claimed.

Another Fire in East End.

Electric light and telephone lines passing along the Lincoln Highway were burned away by the blaze. Linmen worked until after the hour of midnight in removing the broken wires and stringing temporary lines. Residents of the Ross Meadows and Stop 55 territory were without electric lights for several hours last night as a result of the blaze.

While firemen were at work on the Sherwood fire, another alarm came from the home of Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Harker avenue, where an outhouse caught fire. Trucks from the East End and the Northside fire station which was "filling in" at the Central station house responded. The shed was burned to the ground.

District is Thankful.

Residents of the Sherwood and La Croft district today expressed their thanks to members of the fire department, telephone operators, power company and to all volunteers who assisted at the fire and in keeping the blaze from spreading to their property.

The two buildings are located just north of the new Lincoln highway territory recently annexed to the city. The city is now arranging to extend its water mains from Fisher park to the city limits.

BANK ADDS SIX TO ITS BOARD

$4,000,000 Worth of New Capital Put Into Enterprise.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25. — Carrying out a resolution adopted by the recent triennial convention of the order here, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today had increased the board of directors of the B. of L. E. Cooperative National bank, from nine to 15, at the same time choosing 11 new members to displace certain of the old directorate.

In addition to C. H. Huston, chairman of the Transcontinental Oil company, and F. A. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber company, nine Cleveland men, prominent in public, professional and industrial life, were chosen.

Old members retained were Alvanley Johnston, who was elected president and chairman of the board; J. H. Cassell, secretary and treasurer of the B. of L. E.; Walger Dunigan, assistant secretary and treasurer of the B. of L. E., and O. J. Horn, attorney.

The Baltimore Trust company, it was announced simultaneously with the election, has taken mortgages on the two buildings owned by the Brotherhood here, whereby $4,000,000 new capital is put into the organization's enterprises, to secure an issue of 6 per cent first mortgage bonds due August 1, 1932. The bonds will not be offered to the public for the present, it was said.

FOUR HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—One trainman was injured probably fatally, and three others were less seriously hurt when two freight trains on the C. G. & P. traction line collided at Mount Washington, near here, today.

NO LET UP IN NAVY'S SEARCH FOR AVIATORS

No Trace of Three Planes Found by Vessels.

ISLANDS SCANNED

Test of Rubber Bag Boats Gives Slight Hope.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The navy decided today to continue at least for another week, a vigorous and widespread search for the seven missing Hawaiian flyers.

The new searching plans were outlined in dispatches sent to the navy by Admirals R. H. Jackson at San Francisco, and John McDonald, at Honolulu.

Although the entire resources of the Pacific fleet have been thrown into the eight day search, no trace has yet been found of Mildred Doran, 22-year-old "flying school marm" and her six men comrades, who are lost in three racing planes somewhere in the Pacific.

The aircraft vessels, Langley and Aroostook, which have been working out over the great circle course with a convoy of destroyers will turn back today. Planes from the deck of the Langley have searched the water for miles in every direction as the mother ship slowly moved toward the mid-Pacific islands. Not a clue, not a trace of the missing planes was found.

The light cruiser Omaha and six destroyers, which were diverted into the hunt Tuesday, will continue the search from their present position, following the ocean drift as far as Hawaii.

In Hawaiian waters, the minesweeper Pelican and two seaplanes search off the island of Kauai. Every mile off Hawaii for 40 miles has been thoroughly combed.

Careful search of the slopes of Mauna Kea, Hawaiia's highest mountain, failed to disclose the source of brightly burning green flare sighted by an army officer last Sunday. Martin Jensen, winner of second price in the Dole derby, circled the mountain in his trans-Pacific plane, Aloha.

Results Satisfactory.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Satisfactory results obtained in testing a rubber life boat, revived a faint flicker of hope today that some or all of the seven missing Dole flyers may still be found alive.

The test was made at the behest of the government, to decide whether the search should be abandoned or continued indefinitely.

A rubber bag boat similar to those carried by all the Hawaiian flight planes, was used. Two men, each weighing 180 pounds, put off in the life raft from a coast guard cutter.

At the end of an hour and fifty minutes not a drop of water had been shipped and the two men had suffered not the slightest discomfort they reported.

The test was conducted twelve miles out in Catalina channel, in a choppy sea, with a heavy ground sweel running, and an 18-mile westerly wind blowing.

The raft was visible to the naked eye at a distance of eight miles, and should be plainly seen with glasses 20 miles away it was estimated.

The raft, according to observors, could not be swamped, and should remain afloat indefinitely.

THE BUCKEYE NEWS

NO. 33. AUGUST 25, 1927. VOL. 1.

We know a young lady who is going away to school this fall. She and her mother have been busy with the wardrobe. The other day they made a discovery. "What am I going to wear to school?" the girl asked. They had completely overlooked that detail. All the dresses were for social use.

Wife. — "I'm so sleepy — is everything shut up for the night?" ?

Hubby. — "That depends on you. Everything else is."

Do you remember 'way back when your horses shied at the automobiles and it made you mad at the infernal contraptions?

We like the golden summer days,
We like the nice warm nights;
In fact we like all summer brings,
Except mosquito bites.

We absolutely believe in our ability to please you in Lumber. And that isn't egotism. It's self confidence.

400 OBSERVE YELLOW CREEK CHURCH CENTENNIAL

THREE FORMER PASTORS AID IN SERVICES

Rev. K. J. Stewart, Pastor, Presides at Two Sessions.

SPECIAL MUSIC

Paper by Miss Margaret Smith Outlines Church History.

With more than 400 members, friends, guests and visitors, including three former ministers, in attendance, the congregation of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church yesterday observed the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the church.

Morning and afternoon programs, with special music and appropriate addresses, the latter embodying the general theme of "Carry on," were carried out during the celebration, with the immense throng joining in a basket luncheon on the church grounds at noon.

Rev. Robert S. Young, of Glenshaw, Pa.; Rev. R. L. Ryall, of Mt. Vernon, O., and Rev. John R. Jones, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., retired, all of whom at various times have occupied the pulpit of the Yellow Creek church as its regular pastor, took part in the services, as well as Elder J. H. Mosel, of Steubenville, moderator of the Steubenville presbytery; Rev. William L. Swan, D. D., of Cleveland; Rev. Frederick Dean, of the Second Presbyterian church of East Liverpool; Rev. Wilson, of Pughtown, W. Va.; Rev. Thomas Berger, pastor of the Wellsville Second Presbyterian church, and Rev. H. M. Peebles, of Bethesda.

Rev. Kensey J. Stewartt, present pastor of the church and chairman of the general committee that arranged the centennial observance program, presided during the morning and afternoon sessions.

Rev. Jones opened the morning services with an invocation. Rev. Dean gave a scripture reading and prayer was led by Rev. Swan. Rev. Young gave the chief address during the morning, and the session was closed with prayer by Rev. H. M. Peebles.

The afternoon program was opened by Rev. Berger.

Moderator J. H. Mosel, of Steubenville, spoke of the church's past history and placed the responsibility for its further success squarely on the shoulders of each member of the congregation at large, rather than the minister.

An historical paper, compiled by Miss Margaret M. Smith, was a distinctive feature of the afternoon program. Miss Smith went back more than a century in her account of the founding of the Yellow Creek church and details of the lives of those who came first to prepare the way.

Rev. Jones gave an address, but Rev. Ryall, who arrived late, was unable to give his address on "The Unfinished Task," confining his brief talk to greetings and remarks.

Rev. Swan spoke from the subject, "Our Inheritance from the Past," pointing out that "what was their work is now our work," and urging the congregation to "carry on."

During the services Rev. Stewart read a score or more of letters and telegrams from various parts of the country, all containing congratulatory expressions.

TAKE WOOMER TO AURORA, ILL.

Local Youth Held in Stolen Auto Investigation.

Harry Woomer, of this city, arrested several days ago by local police who questioned the ownership of the automobile he was driving, today was taken back to Aurora, Ill., by Illinois police authorities.

16-YEAR-OLD WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE

An unusual story has been revealed in a petition for divorce just filed in common pleas court by Attorney Raymond Knepper of Wellsville, and which may have to be followed by the filing of an amended petition before the case is brought to trial.

The petition is that of Leila James Starkey, aged 15 years, and who was married at New Cumberland when she was 13 years of age to Leonard Starkey, of 327 Broadway, Wellsville. Although the plaintiff is a minor, no next friend is named in the petition.

It is shown in the petition that the plaintiff was born April 5, 1912, and at the time of her marriage May 24, 1925, at New Cumberland, sh ewas aged 13 years. She is not now 16 years of age. An annullment of the marriage is sought.

Not in a decade has a divorce petition been filed in common pleas court where the plaintiff has been so young at the time of her marriage.

WILL HOLD CARD PARTY FRIDAY

Arrangements have been completed for the euchre, bridge and 500 party which will be held on Friday evening in the Immaculate Conception hall in Eleventh street. The program will start at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served by the committee in charge.

EX-GOVERNOR CLAIMS STEPHENSON SOUGHT CONTROL OF PROSECUTOR

XV

By BONITA WITT

Staff Writer for Central Press and The Review-Tribune

Another purported chapter of Indiana's political drama has been made public.

Former Governor Warren T. McCray, of Indiana, in federal prison in Atlanta, Ga., has refused to confirm or deny a story that he was offered immunity from prosecution in state courts if he would appoint a prosecutor in Marion county whom the Klan, under D. C. Stephenson, could control instead of William R. Remy, the present prosecutor. According to a story published in Indianapolis and to which Governor Ed Jackson did not issue a denial, he, as secretary of state, is said to have carried the offer to McCray.

This is said to have taken place shortly before McCray's indictment for fraud in Marion county in certain personal financial ventures. A jury freed him. But he later was convicted and sentenced in federal court at Indianapolis for using the mails to defraud.

William P. Evans, McCray's son-in-law, rather than prosecute McCray in the Marion county courts, had tendered his resignation.

McCray, although he realized he soon would be under indictment, is quoted as saying: "I have lost my money, I have lost my office, I may lose my liberty, but I have not reached a point where I would barter public office in this manner."

Remy was appointed prosecutor, later being elected to the office. McCray, going to prison, had saved the office from Stephenson.

It is considered likely that the ex-governor may give out some sort of a statement if he is released from prison this autumn at the expiration of his minimum term under his ten-year sentence.

Spotlight on Duvall.

It is John L. Duvall, Indianapolis mayor, who has been in the limelight more than Stephenson recently. Duvall has been under charges of failure to report all his campaign contributions. The mayor's brother, William C. Buser, city controller, also was arrested on the same charges brought by Prosecutor William H. Remy, and released on bond.

Duvall's administration has been a turbulent one, marked by frequent clashes between the mayor and his employes. There have been some 30 "resignations" since Duvall took office and at least 50 minor employes are said to have lost their jobs during August and September in 1926.

Corporation Counsel Ousted.

He has been in office since 1925.

One of the men whose resignation was requested by Duvall was that of Alvah J. Rucker, corporation counsel, the man whom many contend is back of the resolution to impeach the mayor introduced into the council recently. Rucker, as a lawyer, was retained by the councilmen to draw up the resolution.

The mayor, from his desk at city hall, says, regarding the resolution: "The charges are absurb; no one takes them seriously, and I am more interested in doing my work than wasting time in discussing them."

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An ctual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-3869 W. BUICK for 1928

Buick for 1928 gets away in traffic like an arrow from a bow!

Watch the Buicks next time you drive downtown. See how easily they step out in front when the signal changes. And note how they give other cars the slip in the friendly rivalry of traffic.

Truly amazing performance! But amazing only in comparison with other cars. For in every phase of performance Buick for 1928 is equally adept—in the ease with which it attains, and maintains, the highest speeds—in the way it breasts the steepest hills—and in the way it ignores sand, deep mud and rough going.

Every day, in every city in the land, Buick for 1928 is demonstrating the superiority of the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine—the engine that is vibrationless beyond belief.

You cannot say you know the full meaning of "performance" until you've driven a Buick for 1928. The nearest Buick dealer will gladly arrange a trial.

Truly amazing performance! But amazing only in comparison with other cars. For in every phase of performance Buick for 1928 is equally adept—in the ease with which it attains, and maintains, the highest speeds—in the way it breasts the steepest hills—and in the way it ignores sand, deep mud and rough going.

Every day, in every city in the land, Buick for 1928 is demonstrating the superiority of the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine—the engine that is vibrationless beyond belief.

You cannot say you know the full meaning of "performance" until you've driven a Buick for 1928. The nearest Buick dealer will gladly arrange a trial.

SYNOPSIS.

JOHN MOORE, New York business man, goes to Tucson, Ariz., on business, expecting to return to New York the next day. He meets a college associate, Philip Morton, who has business in Mexico. Both drink heavily of tequila and in the subsequent mixup in identity Moore finds himself in Mexico.

He has in his possession a portrait of a girl which had been Morton's. The girl, Ruth Henshaw, sends her ambassador, Ramon, to tell the supposed Morton that she will meet him at the church at Tubutama. She needs his help. He meets her, also Clench, an associate of her uncle's, and all go to the ranch, where John meets Lopez, Roderiguez and Barton Henshaw, the uncle. He learns that Morton's business with these men had to do with the secret importation of arms into Mexico.

Wong, Chinese cook, tells Moore to take Ruth away soon. John arranges with Ramon to have horses waiting to take them. Then Clench is murdered and Henshaw tries to fasten the murder on John.

John hears the sound of a motor, then Ruth's cry. He finds Wong lying beside the auto, stabbed to death. He goes to Ruth's room, holding Henshaw, Lopez and Roderiguez at the point of his gun, and directs her to come out. John, with Ruth's help, ties up the three men and he and Ruth ride away.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO.

"You have found me out, Miss Henshaw!" he confessed to her as he mounted his horse again. "I collected those sticks so that I would surely have dry ones when I did want to start a fire. Getting ready for trouble before trouble comes. That's a failing of mine." He smiled somewhat ruefully.

"Why don't we build a fire now and make coffee?"

"Because we have to turn back to the beginning of this gorge and take the other route. Ramon said that if there was water in this stream not to attempt it; to take the trail to the left. The horses are so tired that I'm afraid to push on with that rain. We'll have to go back. And we must use all the daylight we have."

"We don't have to go back," said the girl. "There is a pass through the rocks up to the ridge a little way above here. I supposed you meant to take that. It is just ahead."

"You are sure?"

"Yes. I have ridden all over this country. Ramon didn't think of our coming part way up this gorge you see."

"Have you known all the country we have traveled today?"

"No. But I know this. This is the Arivaca ranch."

"All right. Where does the ridge trail bring us out?"

"On the Ruby road; the road from Nogales."

"How far from Arivaca?"

"Fifteen or sixteen miles, I think. It is a longer way round."

"Jove! And how far is it to the Ruby road from here?"

"Only three or four miles."

"That's an auto road, isn't it?"

"Yes. You mean they might—"

"No, no," interrupted John. "I was wondering if there wouldn't be houses along it where we might get shelter for the night?"

If he had turned back he might have seen that Ruth was sitting erect in her saddle once more.

"I don't think so. There might be an engineer's camp. But I don't think there is anything until we reach Montana mine; and that is a deserted camp of roofless, crumbling abodes."

"Well," said John Moore with cheerful carelessness, "we'll find something. Let's start."

But as their horses stumbled forward again over the rocks his thoughts were not so cheerful. He was tired enough himself to know that the girl could not ride twenty miles further tonight. He must find shelter for her — but where? Look where he would through the deepening dusk he found only boulders of rock or stunted trees clinging in crevices of the cliffs above them.

"There is the trail," said Ruth.

"And the rain!" exclaimed John.

He saw her shrink as it beat down upon her; saw her gather all of her courage and sway to windward as if to rest her weary body upon the strength of the storm.

"I can't watch her," groaned John Moore to himself, "or I'll make a fool of myself. She's got to go on. She'll live through it Don't talk about it."

Aloud he said: "I'll ride ahead of you up the trail and see just what we have here."

It was a steep ascent; no more than a footpath for the horses and overgrown here and there with thorny mesquito bushes.

"Ware the brush," he called back to her.

Once she cried out. Before her cry had died on her lips John Moore stood beside her, clutching her saddle horn, white faced with fear. "What is it? What is it?" he demanded. "You are hourt—what is it?"

"It was only a mesquite branch. I'm sorry— It is because I am tired, I think."

He stared up at her and even in the twilight the girl saw clearly enough the words he was quivering to speak. But he did not utter them. He turned abruptly away from her and mounted his horse.

If he had turned back he might have seen that Ruth was sitting erect in her saddle once more. He might have seen her raise her hand to the cheek that had been struck and touch it gently, almost caressingly. But he did not.

He pushed resolutely forward. And presently they reached the high narrow mesa above the gorge; a treeless plain of grass and straggling chaparral suffused with rain. The trail was broader here and the man and girl rode abreast.

It grew rapidly darker, but not as dark as John Moore had expected. Even through the rain he could see quite clearly the girl beside him; and when the pale lightning wavered across the sky, lifting the rack of clouds on flitting wings of light, he could see the ridge winding far on before them and on either side, the fall to the valleys below.

"I was expecting fireworks. Your lightning is pretty weak, Miss Henshaw."

"It is the winter lightning," came the girl's slow answer.

"She can't go much farther," groaned John to himself. "But no fire would burn in this downpour. I've got to find shelter! If I can't I deserve to be shot! We'll keep on until we strike the road. There ought to be something that would serve."

It was easier going here and the horses jogged steadily forward. On and on through the cold and the dark and the rain; an hour of it with never a word between the man and the girl. Ruth was too tired to talk and John knew it.

The trail stopped a rise and descended again head first, as it were, into a six-foot earth bank.

"What the devil," began John, as the horses scrambled up it, "why, this is the road!"

"Yes. The highest point of the pass. The road cuts a horse shoe curve around this valley—look!"

The darkness lifted and fell again.

"By Jove!" exclaimed John Moore in some excitement, "I saw something thatt looked lik a cave across there! Near the point of the mountain. Right on the road."

"There is a tiny little cave there!" answered Ruth in a quickened tone "I remember it now. I had forgotten it."

"Forgotten it!" cried John Moore. "Forgotten a cave that was put here

K.T.K. And Superior Cords On Turk Nash Schedule For Week

TIREMAKERS AT HOME TONIGHT

Tackle Wellsville at Smith Field With Katies Playing Fowler Nine at West End; Turk Nash-Cords Friday.

John Fowler's Turk Nash City Industrial league club which suddenly developed a form reversal after battling it out with Laughlin for the first half championship and losing by a narrow margin, has two home games this week and while victories for the automobile aggregation would not mean anything in the way of pennant chances, they would have a bearing on the second half chase.

Tonight Turk Nash will meet K. T. K., at Patterson Field, and will battle the Chester Superior Cords on Friday night at the same place.

Pilot Fowler announced he is going to shoot Jack Smittle against the Katies and Charley James and his full strength against the Tiremakers. A possible victory for Turk Nash over the West Virginians would not dislodge Riley's club from first place but it would reduce the margin between the Cords and Laughlin and brighten Newell's chances of cleaning up.

While the Katies and Turk Nash are clashing at west end, the league leaders will be taken on the Wellsville Nash motors at Smith Field tonight with Curly Evans doing the twirling, probably, for the Cords. It is possible Nicholson may use Huffman on the mound.

"Lefty" Crandall likely will be used against Turk Nash in Friday's tilt.

REAL SHIN-DIG

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 23.—Charles Fisher, University of Missouri wrestling instructor, has a broken nose and he blames a new "hold," the flying shin.

Fisher had been brought to his knees in a wrestling bout when his opponent attempted to step over him. At the same time Fisher tried to rise and his beak collided with the forepart of his foe's lower leg. Though his nose was broken, Fisher finished the match.

Grid Camouflage

Capt. Bill Walters, Mt. Union college football leader, wearing one of the new camouflage jerseys of purple and yellow to be used in an effort to strike terror in opponents. The stripes make the players look bigger than they really are.

Billy Harold, Oakland, outpointed Henry Falingo of Manila (8).

Rickard Hires 2,500 Chicago Cops for Duty at Big Bout

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Twenty-five hundred of "Chicago's finest" are going to see the Tunney-Dempsey battle here. As a return favor to Tex Rickard, promoter, they will see to it that holders of $5 tickets sit in $5 seats—and not in $40 seats bought and paid for by others.

Rickard became alarmed when he noticed how fast the cheaper ducats were selling. He had been advised it was the vogue at Chicago prize fights for holders of cheap seats to "avalanche" into more expensive quarters. It was then he asked Chief Michael Hughes for the large police guard.

It is believed Rickard had this in mind when he described his ticket sale as assuming "alarming proportions."

GRANDS WIN, 10-9

The Grand Billiards defeated the National Furnitures, 10 to 9, in a softball contest Tuesday night at Northside. Dodd and Schneller worked for the Grands and Ferguson and Angus for the Furnitures. The Grand Billiards are booking games.

Danny Terris, brother of Sid won decision over Romeo Vaughn, of Brooklyn (4).

TERRIS IS WINNER IN HECTIC GO

Shades M'Graw; Fans, Cops and Ushers in Brawl.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Local fight fans were engaged in a bitter controversy today as a result of the ten-round bout at Ebbets Field last night between Sid Terris, New York lightweight, and Phil McGraw, the Detroit Greek. Although he was floored three times in the first round, Terris won the decision.

The knockdowns in the first round created so much excitement that many of the 20,000 spectators rushed toward the ring and began fighting among themselves and with the police. The police and ushers finally restored order, but another near-riot broke out when Terris was awarded the decision.

Terris managed to recover from the knockdowns and outpointed McGraw by the margin of one round. In the fifth Terris had McGraw close to a knockout.

Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, former lightweight champion, and Eddie Kid Wagner of Philadelphia made a poor showing. Goodrich won the decision.

Roberto Roberti, giant Italian heavyweight, scored his third consecutive knockout when he dropped Pietro Corri, of Austria, in the fifth round.

REB STILL RULES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 23.—Old Reb Russell, one-time Chicago White Sox mound ace, and long consigned to the "bone yard" by the experts, is still hanging around and making life miserable for his former colleagues, the pitchers.

Reb's trusty bat has put his name right up around the top of the American association slugging list. When not busting them on the seam, Russell goes fly-catching in the Indian outfield.

Jones - Johnson Play Third Round Match Von Elm Eliminated

Finlay, Juvenile Leader, Coupled With Ouimet; Evans and Held Paired Off; Remaining Matches a 36 Holes.

By Davis J. Walsh.

MINIKHADA CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 25.—The fish are gone, the fowls remain.

That was a perfectly good idea this morning provided you didn't care when Friday came and you happened to like chicken. Anyhow, it applied to the survivors of the third round of the national amateur gold championship today, namely and to wit, Bobby Jones, the sweetheart golfer of golfers; Chick Evans, the boy who once was good and still thinks he has it; Francis Ouimet, the same kind of a guy, only more so; Harrison Johnston, the best golfer in the west; Phillips Finlay, the Watts Gunn of the present tournament, Roland Mackenzie, 1925 medalist; Eddie Held, always good, and mostly now, Harry Legg, the man who sent George Von Elm, the 1926 champion, to the showers yesterday.

No fish there, obviously; a fish is always a poor fish in any language. These gents are poor just exactly like Rockefeller, the boy millionaire.

The showdown in effect was here this morning. No saps left; only the good ones and the matches these par-breaking citizens were to play might have intrigued the dramatic soul of a belasco.

Imagine, for example, any round that guaranteed to couple Johnston, the local pride, with Jones, the national sweetheart. This alone would be sufficient to send the gallery into delirium tremens or words to that general effect, if any.

Imagine, again, being told that you could see Finlay, the juvenile leader of 1927, meet Ouimet, a man now but a boy and a hero in 1913. A match between Evans and Held mightn't figure to keep too many away from any course, either. They will meet in one of the third round matches today.

The other match was to bring together Mackenzie, the lad who persists in drawing all decisions finely, a la Tilden, and leggs, the sectional hero as a result of his great round with Von Elm yesterday.

Of course, perforce and without question, the passing of Von Elm, that quaint, solid, fighting German-American from the coast, took an indeniable factor out of the rest of the tournament. He lost of Legg yesterday and he did it like a gentleman and a scholar but the unpleasant fact is that he lost and that meant plenty. The great fighter of championship golf was through for 1927.

Yes, the great fighter, who else but a fighter could have beaten Jones out of his title in the final round last year? Who else but a fighter could establish the fact that, previous to yesterday, only Jones was able to beat Van Elm in a championship match since 1923 and that only Von Elm was able to beat Jones during the same interval.

No championship loses a man like Von Elm without losing one of its integral and inherent features. But where it lost today, it gained. For Harry Legg, local headliner, was the man who beat Von Elm and Legg naturally had the town by its civic nostrils.

That was the man, anyhow, who was to take issue with Mackenzie, the dramatist, in the fourth of great matches this morning. Issue, as a matter of fact, simply had to be seriously taken in all of them.

START ODDS AT 9 TO 5 ON CHAMPION

Chicago, Pro-Dempsey, is Snapping up Offers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The "winter book" on the impending heavyweight championship brawl between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey was taking form today with Tunney quoted a 9 to 5 favorite to retain his title.

Chicagoans, overwhelmingly Dempsey, are getting their money on the mark. Members of the Chicago Board of Trade are said to be wiring seizable sums to New York daily to be offered as low as 5 to 7 on the challenger.

One wager, reported yesterday, tied up $2,000 of Chicago Dempsey money with $2,700 of Gotham capital on Tunney.

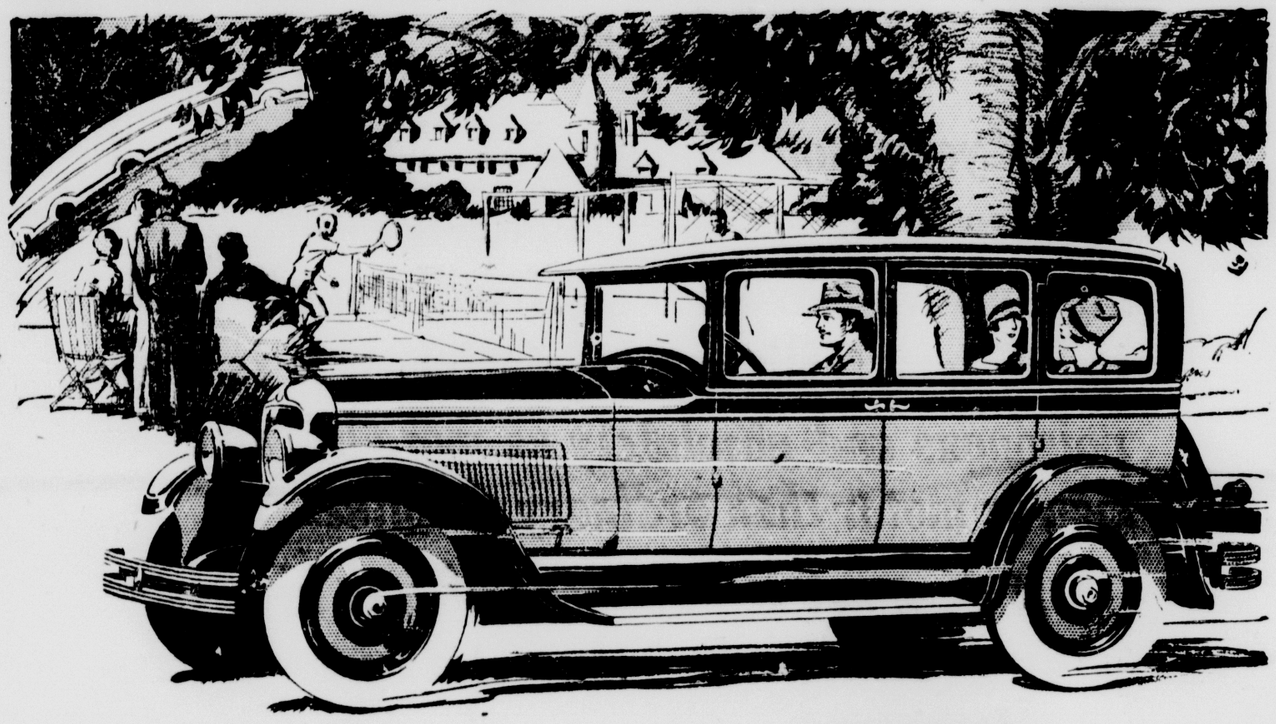

Meanwhile, at Lincoln fields training camp, Dempsey continued with the business of whipping the old fighting machine into shape. He is gradually getting down to a system of serious training, although there will be no demand for sparring mates until some time next week.

For one thing, the boys were to do business today at thirty six holes. The curse of that eighteen hole decision, so feared by all the good ones, was to be off for the rest of the tournament. It seemed possible, therefore, that the rest of the victories, even up to and including the last and final victory, might be decided strictly on their merits.

BARNES GOES TO TOLEDO MUDHENS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Jess Barnes, veteran right hand pitcher, has been released unconditionally by the Brooklyn Robins and has been signed by the Toledo club of the American Association. Barnes also pitched for Boston and New York while in the National league. In Toledo he will join Irish Meusel, his old team mate.

K.T.K. And Superior Cords On Turk Nash Schedule For Week

TIREMAKERS AT HOME TONIGHT

Tackle Wellsville at Smith Field With Katies Playing Fowler Nine at West End; Turk Nash-Cords Friday.

John Fowler's Turk Nash City Industrial league club which suddenly developed a form reversal after battling it out with Laughlin for the first half championship and losing by a narrow margin, has two home games this week and while victories for the automobile aggregation would not mean anything in the way of pennant chances, they would have a bearing on the second half chase.

Tonight Turk Nash will meet K. T. K., at Patterson Field, and will battle the Chester Superior Cords on Friday night at the same place.

Pilot Fowler announced he is going to shoot Jack Smittle against the Katies and Charley James and his full strength against the Tiremakers. A possible victory for Turk Nash over the West Virginians would not dislodge Riley's club from first place but it would reduce the margin between the Cords and Laughlin and brighten Newell's chances of cleaning up.

While the Katies and Turk Nash are clashing at west end, the league leaders will be taken on the Wellsville Nash motors at Smith Field tonight with Curly Evans doing the twirling, probably, for the Cords. It is possible Nicholson may use Huffman on the mound.

"Lefty" Crandall likely will be used against Turk Nash in Friday's tilt.

REAL SHIN-DIG

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 23.—Charles Fisher, University of Missouri wrestling instructor, has a broken nose and he blames a new "hold," the flying shin.

Fisher had been brought to his knees in a wrestling bout when his opponent attempted to step over him. At the same time Fisher tried to rise and his beak collided with the forepart of his foe's lower leg. Though his nose was broken, Fisher finished the match.

Rickard Hires 2,500 Chicago Cops for Duty at Big Bout

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Twenty-five hundred of "Chicago's finest" are going to see the Tunney-Dempsey battle here. As a return favor to Tex Rickard, promoter, they will see to it that holders of $5 tickets sit in $5 seats—and not in $40 seats bought and paid for by others.

Rickard became alarmed when he noticed how fast the cheaper ducats were selling. He had been advised it was the vogue at Chicago prize fights for holders of cheap seats to "avalanche" into more expensive quarters. It was then he asked Chief Michael Hughes for the large police guard.

It is believed Rickard had this in mind when he described his ticket sale as assuming "alarming proportions."

GRANDS WIN, 10-9

The Grand Billiards defeated the National Furnitures, 10 to 9, in a softball contest Tuesday night at Northside. Dodd and Schneller worked for the Grands and Ferguson and Angus for the Furnitures. The Grand Billiards are booking games.

Danny Terris, brother of Sid won decision over Romeo Vaughn, of Brooklyn (4).

TERRIS IS WINNER IN HECTIC GO

Shades M'Graw; Fans, Cops and Ushers in Brawl.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Local fight fans were engaged in a bitter controversy today as a result of the ten-round bout at Ebbets Field last night between Sid Terris, New York lightweight, and Phil McGraw, the Detroit Greek. Although he was floored three times in the first round, Terris won the decision.

The knockdowns in the first round created so much excitement that many of the 20,000 spectators rushed toward the ring and began fighting among themselves and with the police. The police and ushers finally restored order, but another near-riot broke out when Terris was awarded the decision.

Terris managed to recover from the knockdowns and outpointed McGraw by the margin of one round. In the fifth Terris had McGraw close to a knockout.

Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, former lightweight champion, and Eddie Kid Wagner of Philadelphia made a poor showing. Goodrich won the decision.

Roberto Roberti, giant Italian heavyweight, scored his third consecutive knockout when he dropped Pietro Corri, of Austria, in the fifth round.

REB STILL RULES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 23.—Old Reb Russell, one-time Chicago White Sox mound ace, and long consigned to the "bone yard" by the experts, is still hanging around and making life miserable for his former colleagues, the pitchers.

Reb's trusty bat has put his name right up around the top of the American association slugging list. When not busting them on the seam, Russell goes fly-catching in the Indian outfield.

Jones - Johnson Play Third Round Match Von Elm Eliminated

Finlay, Juvenile Leader, Coupled With Ouimet; Evans and Held Paired Off; Remaining Matches a 36 Holes.

By Davis J. Walsh.

MINIKHADA CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 25.—The fish are gone, the fowls remain.

That was a perfectly good idea this morning provided you didn't care when Friday came and you happened to like chicken. Anyhow, it applied to the survivors of the third round of the national amateur gold championship today, namely and to wit, Bobby Jones, the sweetheart golfer of golfers; Chick Evans, the boy who once was good and still thinks he has it; Francis Ouimet, the same kind of a guy, only more so; Harrison Johnston, the best golfer in the west; Phillips Finlay, the Watts Gunn of the present tournament, Roland Mackenzie, 1925 medalist; Eddie Held, always good and mostly now, Harry Legg, the man who sent George Von Elm, the 1926 champion, to the showers yesterday.

No fish there, obviously; a fish is always a poor fish in any language. These gents are poor just exactly like Rockefeller, the boy millionaire.

The showdown in effect was here this morning. No saps left; only the good ones and the matches these par-breaking citizens were to play might have intrigued the dramatic soul of a belasco.

Imagine, for example, any round that guaranteed to couple Johnston, the local pride, with Jones, the national sweetheart. This alone would be sufficient to send the gallery into delirium tremens or words to that general effect, if any.

Imagine, again, being told that you could see Finlay, the juvenile leader of 1927, meet Ouimet, a man now but a boy and a hero in 1913. A match between Evans and Held mightn't figure to keep too many away from any course, either. They will meet in one of the third round matches today.

The other match was to bring together Mackenzie, the lad who persists in drawing all decisions finely, a la Tilden, and leggs, the sectional hero as a result of his great round with Von Elm yesterday.

Of course, perforce and without question, the passing of Von Elm, that quaint, solid, fighting German-American from the coast, took an undeniable factor out of the rest of the tournament. He lost of Legg yesterday and he did it like a gentleman and a scholar but the unpleasant fact is that he lost and that meant plenty. The great fighter of championship golf was through for 1927.

Yes, the great fighter, who else but a fighter could have beaten Jones out of his title in the final round last year? Who else but a fighter could establish the fact that, previous to yesterday, only Jones was able to beat Van Elm in a championship match since 1923 and that only Von Elm was able to beat Jones during the same interval.

No championship loses a man like Von Elm without losing one of its integral and inherent features. But where it lost today, it gained. For Harry Legg, local headliner, was the man who beat Von Elm and Legg naturally had the town by its civic nostrils.

That was the man, anyhow, who was to take issue with Mackenzie, the dramatist, in the fourth of great matches this morning. Issue, as a matter of fact, simply had to be seriously taken in all of them.

START ODDS AT 9 TO 5 ON CHAMPION

Chicago, Pro-Dempsey, is Snapping up Offers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The "winter book" on the impending heavyweight championship brawl between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey was taking form today with Tunney quoted a 9 to 5 favorite to retain his title.

Chicagoans, overwhelmingly Dempsey, are getting their money on the mark. Members of the Chicago Board of Trade are said to be wiring seizeable sums to New York daily to be offered as low as 5 to 7 on the challenger.

One wager, reported yesterday, tied up $2,000 of Chicago Dempsey money with $2,700 of Gotham capital on Tunney.

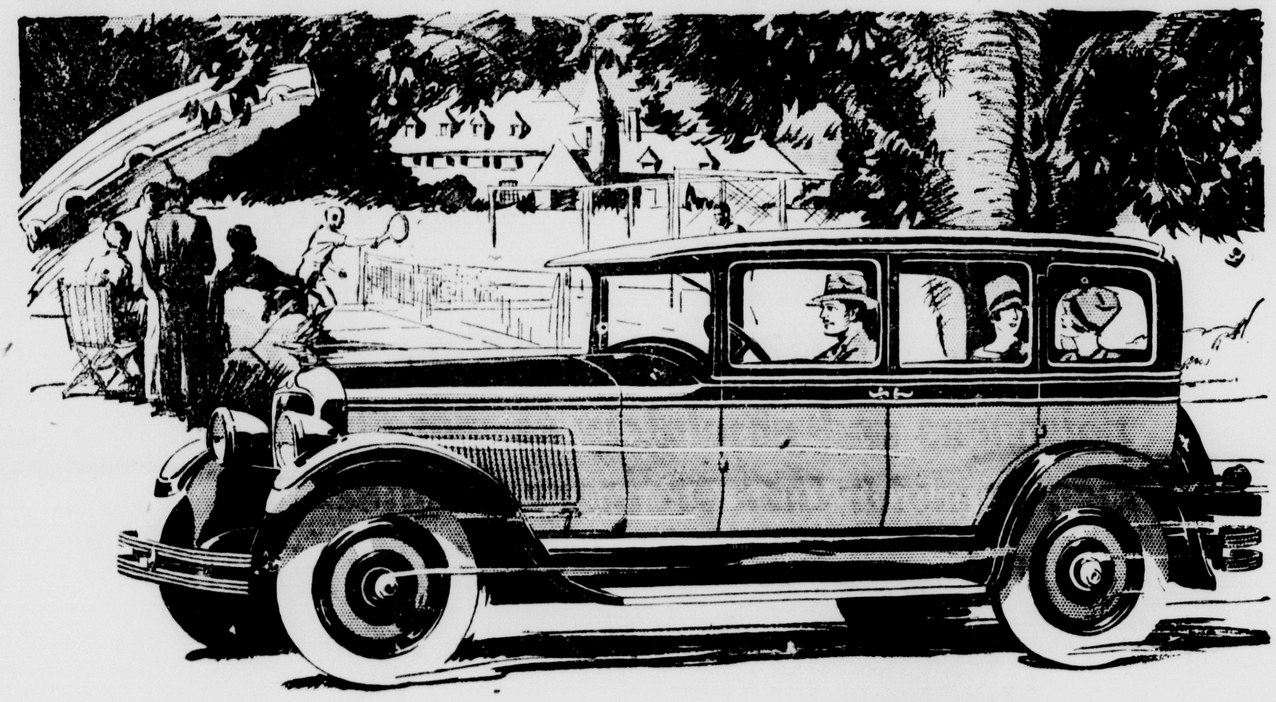

Meanwhile, at Lincoln fields training camp, Dempsey continued with the business of whipping the old fighting machine into shape. He is gradually getting down to a system of serious training, although there will be no demand for sparring mates until some time next week.

For one thing, the boys were to do business today at thirty six holes. The curse of that eighteen hole decision, so feared by all the good ones, was to be off for the rest of the tournament. It seemed possible, therefore, that the rest of the victories, even up to and including the last and final victory, might be decided strictly on their merits.

BARNES GOES TO TOLEDO MUDHENS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Jess Barnes, veteran right hand pitcher, has been released unconditionally by the Brooklyn Robins and has been signed by the Toledo club of the American Association. Cubs End Losing Streak As They Divide Double With Phils

RULE HELEN FAVORITE OVER MOLLA

Rivals Certain to Meet for Woman's Title.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—With the women's national lawn tennis championship tournament virtually half completed, no upsets or reversals in form have occurred to indicate that the ultimate struggle for the title would not be between Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, defending champion, and Miss Helen Wills of California, Wimbledon champion, who was forced to relinquish the American title last year on account of sickness. And Miss Wills, the longer the tournament continues, becomes a more overwhelming favorite to defeat Mrs. Mallory.

Miss Wills in the upper half will meet Mrs. John Hill, of England, today in a match that should not extend the Californian unduly, while for tomorrow the prospects favor her facing Miss Kea Bouman, the Holland champion.

On the other hand Mrs. Mallory had a fairly difficult match yesterday with Mrs. William Endicott of Boston. She faces an even harder test today against Miss Gwendolyn Sterry, one of the English Wightman cup players.

Homestead Grays, With Smoky Joe On Mound, Down Cords

Famous Colored Club Blanks Tiremakers, 6-0, in Exhibition at Chester; Stoffel Turns in Good Performance.

THE Homestead Grays are still the Homestead Gays, without a single hasbeen in their dusky ranks, and "Smoky Joe" Williams, giant flinger, who's taking his regular turn on the mound despite the fact that he has seen his fiftieth birthday come and go, can still sizzle the horsehide down the alley when and where he wants it well enough to handle the situation on any sandlot in the country.

"Smoky Joe" and the Grays performed before a crowd of approximately 1,000 paid admissions and others last night at Smith Field, Chester, and the pitcher who's been laughing at Father Time for a long while came through with a 6-0 decision over the City League leaders, striking out 13 while his mates pounded out 11 hits and gave him airtight support.

Williams gave the Tiremakers four hits, a double by Bakosh and singles by McConnell, Melchori and Miller.

Herman started on the slab for the Cords but was treated rather roughly in the first frame and a couple of bad breaks mitigated against his chances. V. Harris dropped one into left for a single that, had it gone a few feet further, would have been gathered in by Johnny Evans. Graham crashed a single down the third base line that was legal by inches and nothing more.

Herman gave way to Don Stoffel in the third inning and the latter gave the Grays just three safe hits and one run in the seven innings he worked. It appeared that the Grays took very kindly to Herman's fast shoots but were unable to get going against Stoffell's slow curves, and Manager Cum Posey, after the game, says they weren't fooling either.

A unique situation without parallel in local baseball history developed along about the fifth or sixth inning when a brilliant sun, glaring down onto the field with the intensity of a giant searchlight, blinded both batters and catchers and contributed in some degree to the success of both pitchers.

Stoffell was breaking his curve ball a little high in the face of the sun and it fooled quite a few of them while "Smoky Joe's" fast ball was burning down the groove at split second speed, fooling everybody, including his own catcher. Spearman, who probably had let his life insurance lapse, quit cold and the versatile Britt was called in. He missed them, too, but stuck it out until the last couple of frames when the sun sank below the fringe of trees in left field.

Batters of both clubs went to the plate and swung with a wish, while some, with families at home, let 'em go past without swinging.

The Superior Cords' nearest approach to scoring was in the seventh. Cebula fanned but McConnell singled to center, the ball going into the crowd and entitled him to second. Bakosh struck out. Miller singled and the ball was pegged to the plate. The play was close but McConnell was ruled out.

Owens, first man up, doubled to right. V. Harris dropped one into left and Johnny Evans, coming in fast on an attempt at a shoestring catch, was unable to make the catch. Graham's single down the third base line was fair by inches, scoring Owens. Spearman singled to right center, scoring V. Harris from second, Graham going to third and Spearman to second on the throw-in. The Grays then tried a squeeze but Britt fouled. Britt then flied out to McConnell. M. Harris singled to right, scoring the third run of the inning. B. Williams fanned. Ryan to Evans, retiring the side.

"Smoky Joe," first man up in the second, drew a walk. Owens flew out to Evans. V. Harris singled to right. Graham singled to left, scoring Williams, V. Harris going to second. Spearman singled, the ball bouncing off 'Melchori's glove near shortstop, scoring V. Harris and making the count 5 to 0.

The Grays scored their only other run in the seventh. Britt got on when Catcher Miller, in the face of a blazing sun, missed the third stroke. He stole second and was sacrificed to third, scoring on a wild pitch.

French and Jap Net Stars Meet

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB, BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25.—With nothing short of a miracle likely to prevent them from winning the right to face the American Davis cup team, the French tennis representatives, boasting in their ranks three of the world's most famous tennis singles players, open their fight here this afternoon with the Japanese team in the American zone final round Davis cup play.

The Japanese team was conceded little chance of victory by tennis followers against a team with the French, British and American champions of this season in their fold.

Two singles matches are scheduled for this afternoon. The first, finds Henri Cochet, the French champion, pitted against Yoshiro Ohta, of Japan.

In the second match Rene Lacoste, of France, present holder of the American championship, will face Takeichi Harada, the Japanese ace.

Drawings for the doubles matches will be made this afternoon.

WILSON SMACKS THREE HOMERS

Rally in Face of Rivals' Rush to National League Flag; Lazzeri Hits One Out of Park With Three On.

By Les Conklin.

EW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Cubs have ended their losing streak of five games and Hack Wilson, their big hitter, has emerged from a long batting slump at the same time. This may mean that the Bruins who apparently had cracked wide open, may rally in time to stave off the rush of their three rivals for the National League flag.

Wilson walloped three home runs as the Cubs split a double bill with the Phillies. He is now tied at 23 with Cy Williams for circuit clouting honors in the National league.

The Phils pulled the first game out of the fire in the ninth, scoring five runs off Guy Bush and winning, 7 to 6. Then the enraged Bruins slaughtered the slowtown boys in the nightcap, 13 to 1. Wilson got six hits in all during the festivities.

The other National league teams were idle. The Cubs still lead the Pirates by 2½ games.

Tony Lazzeri "pooshed it up" over the fence in the ninth with bases full and the Yankees trounced the Tigers, 9 to 5. New York's losing streak of four games and Detroit's second winning streak of thirteen games were broken.

Harry Heilman shot into the lead in the race for American league batting honors by making four hits in as many times at bat.

The Athletics jumped to third place by nosing out the Browns, 4 to 3. Rube Walberg helped win his own game with a homer and held the Browns to five hits, snapping their winning streak of six games.

The fading Senators dropped to fourth place by losing to Cleveland, 7 to 1. Cleveland has won four straight. Lefty Miller held the Nats to four hits.

Todt's homer failed to help the Red Sox, who lost to the White Sox, 4 to 3.

WALKER IS UNABLE TO KAYO YARBO

Mickey Easy Winner But Bout Goes Full Route.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, hit Wilson Yarbo, Cleveland colored middleweight, with everything known in the world of legalized mauling here last night in their 12-round bout at Taylor Bowl, but Yarbo remained on his feet throughout. Walker easily took every round, but rock as he might—and did—Yarbo took it, and stayed up.

Yarbo landed a hard right—which was all he had to offer, aside from his ability to absorb terrific punishment—three times against the champ, once in the first round; once in the third when Walker was half punched, half pushed to the canvas, and again in the seventh. The rest of the bout was nothing but Walker. The champ weighed in at 160; Yarbo at 162. It was Walker's first fracas since returning from England where he knocked out Tommy Milligan.

In preliminary bouts, Gunner Johnson, Cleveland (133) knocked out Georgie Ward, Hartford, Conn., (133) in the third of a scheduled six round bout and Bill Dozier, Zanesville, (205) outpointed Sam Dennis, Cleveland, (185) in six rounds.

Cubs End Losing Streak As They Divide Double With Phils

RULE HELEN FAVORITE OVER MOLLA

Rivals Certain to Meet for Woman's Title.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—With the women's national lawn tennis championship tournament virtually half completed, no upsets or reversals in form have occurred to indicate that the ultimate struggle for the title would not be between Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, defending champion, and Miss Helen Wills of California, Wimbledon champion, who was forced to relinquish the American title last year on account of sickness. And Miss Wills, the longer the tournament continues, becomes a more overwhelming favorite to defeat Mrs. Mallory.

Miss Wills in the upper half will meet Mrs. John Hill, of England, today in a match that should not extend the Californian unduly, while for tomorrow the prospects favor her facing Miss Kea Bouman, the Holland champion.

On the other hand Mrs. Mallory had a fairly difficult match yesterday with Mrs. William Endicott of Boston. She faces an even harder test today against Miss Gwendolyn Sterry, one of the English Wightman cup players.

Stays in Family

When the University of Arkansas wants a football captain it usually picks a Coleman. Here's Eusel Coleman, who'll pilot the Razorbacks this season. His brothers, Jim and Sam, held that office in 1919 and 1924, respectively.

Homestead Grays, With Smoky Joe On Mound, Down Cords

Famous Colored Club Blanks Tiremakers, 6-0, in Exhibition at Chester; Stoffel Turns in Good Performance.

THE Homestead Grays are still the Homestead Gays, without a single hasbeen in their dusky ranks, and "Smoky Joe" Williams, giant flinger, who's taking his regular turn on the mound despite the fact that he has seen his fiftieth birthday come and go, can still sizzle the horsehide down the alley when and where he wants it well enough to handle the situation on any sandlot in the country.

"Smoky Joe" and the Grays performed before a crowd of approximately 1,000 paid admissions and others last night at Smith Field, Chester, and the pitcher who's been laughing at Father Time for a long while came through with a 6-0 decision over the City League leaders, striking out 13 while his mates pounded out 11 hits and gave him airtight support.

Williams gave the Tiremakers four hits, a double by Bakosh and singles by McConnell, Melchori and Miller.

Herman started on the slab for the Cords but was treated rather roughly in the first frame and a couple of bad breaks mitigated against his chances. V. Harris dropped one into left for a single that, had it gone a few feet further, would have been gathered in by Johnny Evans. Graham crashed a single down the third base line that was legal by inches and nothing more.

Herman gave way to Don Stoffel in the third inning and the latter gave the Grays just three safe hits and one run in the seven innings he worked. It appeared that the Grays took very kindly to Herman's fast shoots but were unable to get going against Stoffel's slow curves, and Manager Cum Posey, after the game, says they weren't fooling either.

A unique situation without parallel in local baseball history developed along about the fifth or sixth inning when a brilliant sun, glaring down onto the field with the intensity of a giant searchlight, blinded both batters and catchers and contributed in some degree to the success of both pitchers.

Stoffell was breaking his curve ball a little high in the face of the sun and it fooled quite a few of them while "Smoky Joe's" fast ball was burning down the groove at split second speed, fooling everybody, including his own catcher, Spearman, who probably had let his life insurance lapse, quit cold and the versatile Britt was called in. He missed them, too, but stuck it out until the last couple of frames when the sun sank below the fringe of trees in left field.

Batters of both clubs went to the plate and swung with a wish, while some, with families at home, let 'em go past without swinging.

The Superior Cords' nearest approach to scoring was in the seventh. Cebula fanned but McConnell singled to center, the ball going into the crowd and entitled him to second. Bakosh struck out. Miller singled and the ball was pegged to the plate. The play was close but McConnell was ruled out.

Owens, first man up, doubled to right. V. Harris dropped one into left and Johnny Evans, coming in fast on an attempt at a shoestring catch, was unable to make the catch. Graham's single down the third base line was fair by inches, scoring Owens. Spearman singled to right center, scoring V. Harris from second, Graham going to third and Spearman to second on the throw-in. The Grays then tried a squeeze but Britt fouled. Britt then flied out to McConnell. M. Harris singled to right, scoring the third run of the inning. B. Williams fanned. Ryan to Evans, retiring the side.

"Smoky Joe," first man up in the second, drew a walk. Owens flew out to Evans. V. Harris singled to right. Graham singled to left, scoring Williams, V. Harris going to second. Spearman singled, the ball bouncing off 'Melchori's glove near shortstop, scoring V. Harris and making the count 5 to 0.

The Grays scored their only other run in the seventh. Britt got on when Catcher Miller, in the face of a blazing sun, missed the third stroke. He stole second and was sacrificed to third, scoring on a wild pitch.

French and Jap Net Stars Meet

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB, BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25.—With nothing short of a miracle likely to prevent them from winning the right to face the American Davis cup team, the French tennis representatives, boasting in their ranks three of the world's most famous tennis singles players, open their fight here this afternoon with the Japanese team in the American zone final round Davis cup play.

The Japanese team was conceded little chance of victory by tennis followers against a team with the French, British and American champions of this season in their fold.

Two singles matches are scheduled for this afternoon. The first, finds Henri Cochet, the French champion, pitted against Yoshiro Ohta, of Japan.

In the second match Rene Lacoste, of France, present holder of the American championship, will face Takeichi Harada, the Japanese ace.

Drawings for the doubles matches will be made this afternoon.

WILSON SMACKS THREE HOMERS

By Les Conklin.

EW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Cubs have ended their losing streak of five games and Hack Wilson, their big hitter, has emerged from a long batting slump at the same time. This may mean that the Bruins who apparently had cracked wide open, may rally in time to stave off the rush of their three rivals for the National League flag.

Wilson walloped three home runs as the Cubs split a double bill with the Phillies. He is now tied at 23 with Cy Williams for circuit clouting honors in the National league.

The Phils pulled the first game out of the fire in the ninth, scoring five runs off Guy Bush and winning, 7 to 6. Then the enraged Bruins slaughtered the slowtown boys in the nightcap, 13 to 1. Wilson got six hits in all during the festivities.

The other National league teams were idle. The Cubs still lead the Pirates by 2½ games.

Tony Lazzeri "pooshed it up" over the fence in the ninth with bases full and the Yankees trounced the Tigers, 9 to 5. New York's losing streak of four games and Detroit's second winning streak of thirteen games were broken.

Harry Heilman shot into the lead in the race for American league batting honors by making four hits in as many times at bat.

The Athletics jumped to third place by nosing out the Browns, 4 to 3. Rube Walberg helped win his own game with a homer and held the Browns to five hits, snapping their winning streak of six games.

The fading Senators dropped to fourth place by losing to Cleveland, 7 to 1. Cleveland has won four straight. Lefty Miller held the Nats to four hits.

Todt's homer failed to help the Red Sox, who lost to the White Sox, 4 to 3.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman,
West Park Ave.
Phone 319-R. Lisbon, Ohio.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN TWO ACTIONS

Because no motion for a new trial has been filed, a judgment on the verdict for $120 in favor of the plaintiff has been rendered by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of Anna Dolchko against Mike Shobat. This was an action in appeal from a lower court, and was recently tried to a jury in common pleas.

For a similar reason, judgment for the defendant for $3,174 has been decreed by the court in the case of the Manning Henes Company, Inc., against Clara A. Finney of Salem. This case was also carried to common pleas from a lower court on appeal, and a verdict for the defendant rendered by a jury.

Sale Confirmed.

In the case of the Salem Finance company against Donald R. James, an action on a cognovit note filed July 25th, 1925, a sale hs been confirmed. The court has ordered Sheriff George Wright to execute a bill of sale to Norman Peters, the purchaser of chattles in this case.

Leave to File Answer.

The United States Fire Insurance company has been granted leave to file its answer by Sept. 17th in the case now pending in common pleas court, wherein Edward Chamberlain of St. Clair township is plaintiff. Chamberlin suffered a fire loss at his garage at Stop 55 on the Y. & O. road some months ago, and the insurance company it is alleged has failed to adjust the loss.

Motion Sustained.

A motion to dissolve the injunction has been sustained by the court in the case of the First National Bank of East Palestine against the Big Seven Oil & Gas company. The plaintiff has noted its exception to the ruling of the court, and the latter has fixed bond for appeal at $200.

Case Dismissed.

The case of the Union Savings & Loan Co., against Benjamin McCoy and others has been dismissed on motion of the plaintiff.

Judgment Entered.

Judgment on the verdict for $35.46 has been entered by the court in the case of D. H. Swaney against George Millward, an action carried to common pleas court on appeal June 19, 1925.

Marriage Licenses.

A marriage license has been issued to Rev. Percy C. Clark of Ashtabula, and Miss Pauline Myers, a bookkeeper, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers of Columbiana. The are to be marriedby the Rev. Krumm.

Raymond L. Huston of East Liverpool and Miss Florence E. Cain, a stenographer and bookkeeper and duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cain of East Liverpool, have obtained a marriage license. They were married by the Rev. B. R. Johnson of the Christian church, East Liverpool.

Property Transfers

The following real estate transfers have been recorded:

John Garner to Earl W. Garner and wife lot 239 Huston's 3rd addition, East Liverpool, $3,500.

Thomas W. Harrold to E. M. Flowers lot in Stiver's addition, Columbiana, $1.

Fred Posey and others to Harry W. Grimes, part lot 2, Bell Park plan, Columbiana, $1.

K. S. Wilson and wife to Dan Oana part acre Hillsdale addition, section 6 Perry township, $2,500.

Glenn H. Watterson to William F. Landsberger, 175 acres section 13, Unity township, $1.

Divorce Petition Filed.

Through her counsel, Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool, Margaret Konkle has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband Harper C. Konkle of 112 Centre alley, East Liverpool. Gross neglect of duty is set up.

The couple were married at Lisbon June 28, 1922.

Court Order Issued.

In the divorce action filed in common pleas court July 20, 1925 by Hazel M. Weaver against her husband Wallace G. Weaver, and in which Brooke Allen was named a party defendant, the court has ordered Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine to pay to Weaver $ 22.71 out of money that has been paid to the clerk of courts by Allen. The plaintiff in this action was granted a decree of divorce June 3rd last.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunions Pains and Soft Corns

Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula — this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

A LITTLE AFFAIR IN MANILA

EYES MET QUIRT'S INQUISITIVE WINK

TO THE HILLS IN OTHER COMPANY

SECOND EPISODE

PRIDE wounds heal more slowly than heart wounds, which are supposed to leave deeper scars than injuries to the flesh. The blemish on Flagg's ego left by the Shanghai Mabel episode was still red when the marines of the Legation Guard at Peking were transferred to duty in the Philippines. The islands were peaceful, the Sulus and Tagalogs gave the soldiers no anxiety. So Sergt. Flagg was athirst for adventure. Adventure appeared in the physical form of a Spanish senorita, the toss of whose head and the wordless language of whose dreamy eyes lured him with a power beyond resistance.

A little flirtation—a little chat in Spanish that was more eloquent than correct, but which made perfectly understandable an invitation to a picnic outing in the hills. And it was ever so hot in Manila that day.

While Sergt. Flagg foraged for sandwiches in a cafe the Senorita waited outside, and what the novelists call "the long arm of coincidence" pushed Sergt. Quirt into the picture.

The languorous eyes met Quirt's inquisitive wink with welcome, and the ride to the hills started, but without provisions and with a different company. The same old horse, the same old carriage, the same old driver, but Quirt, not Flagg, has the second passenger.

Flagg watched the disappearing expedition from the cafe door. His sandwiches had turned to Dead Sea fruit before they were tasted.

Score another mark for Quirt's foil. The red scar of Peking on Flagg was matched by a Manila cicatrix. And that marks the real beginning of a much bigger story—a long continued duel between men who fought for the love of fighting and loved with the same courage as they fought.

West Park Ave.
Phone 319 R. Lisbon, Ohio.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN TWO ACTIONS

Because no motion for a new trial has been filed, a judgment on the verdict for $129 in favor of the plaintiff has been rendered by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of Anna Dulchko against Mike Shobat. This was an action in appeal from a lower court, and was recently tried to a jury in common pleas.

For a similar reason, judgment for the defendant for $3,174 has been decreed by the court in the case of the Manning Henes Company, Inc., against Clara A. Finney of Salem. This case was also carried to common pleas from a lower court on appeal, and a verdict for the defendant rendered by a jury.

Sale Confirmed.

In the case of the Salem Finance company against Donald R. James, an action on a cognovit note filed July 25th, 1925, a sale hs been confirmed. The court has ordered Sheriff George Wright to execute a bill of sale to Norman Peters, the purchaser of chattles in this case.

Leave to File Answer.

The United States Fire Insurance company has been granted leave to file its answer by Sept. 17th in the case now pending in common pleas court, wherein Edward Chamberlain of St. Clair township is plaintiff. Chamberlin suffered a fire loss at his garage at Stop 55 on the Y. & O. road some months ago, and the insurance company it is alleged has failed to adjust the loss.

Motion Sustained.

A motion to dissolve the injunction has been sustained by the court in the case of the First National Bank of East Palestine against the Big Seven Oil & Gas company. The plaintiff has noted its exception to the ruling of the court, and the latter has fixed bond for appeal at $200.

Case Dismissed.

The case of the Union Savings & Loan Co., against Benjamin McCoy and others has been dismissed on motion of the plaintiff.

Judgment Entered.

Judgment on the verdict for $35.45 has been entered by the court in the case of D. H. Swaney against George Millward, an action carried to common pleas court on appeal June 19, 1925.

Marriage Licenses.

A marriage license has been issued to Rev. Percy C. Clark of Ashtabula, and Miss Pauline Myers, a bookkeeper, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers of Columbiana. The are to be marriedby the Rev. Krumm.

Raymond L. Huston of East Liverpool and Miss Florence E. Cain, a stenographer and bookkeeper and duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cain of East Liverpool, have obtained a marriage license. They were married by the Rev. B. R. Johnson of the Christian church, East Liverpool.

Property Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded:

John Garner to Earl W. Garner and wife lot 239 Huston's 3rd addition, East Liverpool, $3,500.

Thomas W. Harrold to E. M. Flowers lot in Stiver's addition, Columbiana, $1.

Fred Posey and others to Harry W. Grimes, part lot 2, Bell Park plan, Columbiana, $1.

K. S. Wilson and wife to Dan Oana part acre Hillsdale addition, section 6 Perry township, $2,500.

Glenn H. Watterson to William F. Landsberger, 175 acres section 15, Unity township, $1.

Divorce Petition Filed.

Through her counsel, Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool, Margaret Konkle has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband Harper C. Konkle of 112 Centre alley, East Liverpool. Gross neglect of duty is set up.

The couple were married at Lisbon June 28, 1922.

Court Order Issued.

In the divorce action filed in common pleas court July 20, 1925 by Hazel M. Weaver against her husband Wallace G. Weaver, and in which Brooke Allen was named a party defendant, the court has ordered Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine to pay to Weaver $ 12.71 out of money that has been paid to the clerk of courts by Allen. The plaintiff in this action was granted a decree of divorce June 3rd last.

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

PILGRIMS.

Some time ago 1,800 school children from Iowa and Missouri were carried on three special trains to the tomb of Lincoln in Springfield, Ill. They will not forget the trip. Their interest in Lincoln and their appreciation of the meaning of the life of the Great Emancipator will be intensified for life.

Why not more pilgrimages for youth to American shrines? No boy or girl can look into the little cabin in Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln was born, or walks through the rooms of Mt. Vernon and the halls of Monticello — no boy or girl can do this and ever be quite the same again.

LOSING BEAUTY FOR WHAT?

Translations of the Bible in modern English add little, while they take away a great deal. The old, authorized version of the Bible has the simplicity and beauty and rhythm of fine poetry. Calling Noah's ark a "barge," and the Garden of Eden a park, and a "mess of pottage" a "red omelet" is making a poor substitution. Language beautifully used is rare enough. It's too bad to take out of the Bible some of the rarest expressions in English.

JOHN D., JR., ON RELIGION.

"Religion is a necessity to the human soul," says Rockefeller, Jr. "Man has a craving for the power, the solace, and the strength of a power higher than his own."

The trouble is that very many folks don't think about religion or their spiritual needs until they get in trouble. Then they cry for help.

BUSINESS AND FRIENDSHIP.

When the traveler leaves Jerusalem today to tour Palestine he will probably go in an American-made motor car. Three routes from Bagdad across the Arabian desert are served mostly with cars built in the goods are covering the far places of the earth. If only these goods could convey more than a message of business and efficiency. If only they could convey the message of friendliness to all nations. America seeks no conquest by arms. The spread of that idea is the greatest possible gesture of international good-will.

FLIGHT TO ROME.

Speaking of good-will, the plan to send an airplane from the United States to Rome, bearing messages of religious toleration and international good-will, is one of the most significant movements outside of official life that has ever been made in the United States.

Amsterdam's stadium buildings for the Olympic games next year will cover 40 acres and there will be an additional park of 88 acres accommodating 4,000 automobiles, the stadium itself holding 40,000.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROPERTY TO BE ASSESSED.

The following named owners of the property bounding and abutting upon the herein designated proposed improvement, and the owners of the property hereinafter designated, are hereby notified that on the 21st day of July, 1927, the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, duly passed Resolution Number 431 declaring it necessary to improve Harker Avenue, from the east line of Sylvan Avenue to the west line of Central Avenue, by grading and paving the same with re-enforced concrete to the width of eighteen (18) feet thereof and by constructing therein all necessary concrete curbs, retaining walls, gas, sewer and water connections, sewers, ditches, bridges, gutters and drains and by doing everything else necessary or essential for the proper completion of said improvement, in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said proposed improvement, heretofore approved and adopted for the improvement of said street, bounded and described as setforth in said Resolution Number 431, and in accordance with the said plans, specifications, estimates and profiles on file in the Office of the Director of Public Service.

That concrete curbs shall be constructed along said street or improvement where needed. The entire cost of curbs and sewer and water connections and drains, where placed, shall be assessed against the property bounding and abutting against the parts so improved; and that of gas lines against the party or parties responsible for the same.

That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth thereof and the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot frontage upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit:

All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

By return made by Assistant Clerk of Council, said owners not being residents of Columbiana County or not having been found and said properties are as follows:

LEGAL NOTICE.

State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss. In the Court of Common Pleas, Elizabeth Williams, Plaintiff vs. Andrew J. Williams and James Williams. The defendant, Andrew J. Williams, whose place of residence is unknown to the plaintiff, will take notice that on the 2nd day of August, 1927, the plaintiff filed her petition in said court to set aside and declare null and void her signature to a certain purported deed from the defendant, Andrew J. Williams and the Plaintiff Elizabeth Williams to the defendant, James Williams for the following described real estate, towit: Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, and known as and being: Bounded by beginning at a point at the Southwest corner of the Phillip McBane farm and the Northeast corner of the William Biggs farm and at the Southwest corner of lands herein conveyed and running thence North 46¼ degrees West 86 chains; thence North 81¼ degrees West 2.50 chains; thence 68¾ degrees West 1.59 chains; thence North 14¼ degrees East 5.20 chains; thence North 30¼ degrees West 2.00 chains; thence North 13¾ degrees West 2.45 chains; thence South 82 degrees west 31.39 chains; thence south 45½ degrees East 9.17 chains along the Public Road; thence East 29.45 chains to the place of beginning, containing in area 25.79 acres, be the same more or less but subject to all legal highways. Being the premises conveyed to the said Andrew J. Williams by Thomas H. Fisher, et al by deed recorded in Vol. 477, page 68 of the records of deeds of said County. That the grounds for the setting aside of said deed as set out in the petition are, first, that the signature of the plaintiff was obtained by fraud; second, that the plaintiff had not at the time of said signing mental capacity to transact business or to sign said deed. Said cause will be for hearing on and after September 24th, 1927.

The Way of the World

PILGRIMS.

Some time ago 1,800 school children from Iowa and Missouri were carried on three special trains to the tomb of Lincoln in Springfield, Ill. They will not forget the trip. Their interest in Lincoln and their appreciation of the meaning of the life of the Great Emancipator will be intensified for life.

Why not more pilgrimages for youth to American shrines? No boy or girl can look into the little cabin in Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln was born, or walks through the rooms of Mt. Vernon and the halls of Monticello — no boy or girl can do this and ever be quite the same again.

LOSING BEAUTY FOR WHAT?

Translations of the Bible in modern English add little, while they take away a great deal. The old, authorized version of the Bible has the simplicity and beauty and rhythm of fine poetry. Calling Noah's ark a "barge," and the Garden of Eden a park, and a "mess of pottage" a "red omelet" is making a poor substitution. Language beautifully used is rare enough. It's too bad to take out of the Bible some of the rarest expressions in English.

JOHN D., JR., ON RELIGION.

"Religion is a necessity to the human soul," says Rockefeller, Jr. "Man has a craving for the power, the solace, and the strength of a power higher than his own."

The trouble is that very many folks don't think about religion or their spiritual needs until they get in trouble. Then they cry for help.

BUSINESS AND FRIENDSHIP.

When the traveler leaves Jerusalem today to tour Palestine he will probably go in an American-made motor car. Three routes from Bagdad across the Arabian desert are served mostly with cars built in the goods are covering the far places of the earth. If only these goods could convey more than a message of business and efficiency. If only they could convey the message of friendliness to all nations. America seeks no conquest by arms. The spread of that idea is the greatest possible gesture of international good-will.

FLIGHT TO ROME.

Speaking of good-will, the plan to send an airplane from the United States to Rome, bearing messages of religious toleration and international good-will, is one of the most significant movements outside of official life that has ever been made in the United States.

Amsterdam's stadium buildings for the Olympic games next year will cover 40 acres and there will be an additional park of 88 acres accommodating 4,000 automobiles, the stadium itself holding 40,000.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROPERTY TO BE ASSESSED.

The following named owners of the property bounding and abutting upon the herein designated proposed improvement, and the owners of the property hereinafter designated, are hereby notified that on the 21st day of July, 1927, the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, duly passed Resolution Number 431 declaring it necessary to improve Harker Avenue, from the east line of Sylvan Avenue to the west line of Central Avenue, by grading and paving the same with re-enforced concrete to the width of eighteen (18) feet thereof and by constructing therein all necessary concrete curbs, retaining walls, gas, sewer and water connections, sewers, ditches, bridges, gutters and drains and by doing everything else necessary or essential for the proper completion of said improvement, in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said proposed improvement, heretofore approved and adopted for the improvement of said street, bounded and described as setforth in said Resolution Number 431, and in accordance with the said plans, specifications, estimates and profiles on file in the Office of the Director of Public Service.

That concrete curbs shall be constructed along said street or improvement where needed. The entire cost of curbs and sewer and water connections and drains, where placed, shall be assessed against the property bounding and abutting against the parts so improved; and that of gas lines against the party or parties responsible for the same.

That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth thereof and the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot frontage upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit:

All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROPERTY TO BE ASSESSED.

The following named owners of the property bounding and abutting upon the herein designated proposed improvement, and the owners of the property hereinafter designated, are hereby notified that on the 7th day of June, 1927, the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, duly passed Resolution Number 425, declaring it necessary to improve West Ninth Street, from the west line of Fenton Street to the intersection of West Ninth Street and Lisbon Street, by resurfacing, repairing, repaving where necessary and improving the same; by repaving the same and constructing new pavement where necessary or by resurfacing the roadway over the present pavement with asphalt, sheet asphalt, asphaltic concrete or other material to the full width of the same so far as practical, by putting in new curbs where necessary, by renewing, constructing or reconstructing therein where necessary water lines, gas, sewer and water connections, retaining walls, culverts, sewers, ditches, bridges, gutters and drains and doing everything else necessary or essential for the proper completion of said improvement, in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said proposed improvement, heretofore approved and adopted for the said improvement of said street, bounded and described as setforth in said Resolution Number 425, and in accordance with the said plans, specifications, estimates and profiles on file in the Office of the Director of Public Service.

That concrete curbs shall be constructed along said street or improvement where needed. The entire cost of curbs and sewer and water connections and drains, where placed, shall be assessed against the property bounding and abutting against the said parts so improved; and that of gas lines against the party or parties responsible for the same.

That the whole cost and expense of said improvement (except for curbs, sewer and water connections, drains and gas lines, which are to be assessed and charged for as hereinabove set forth) less one-fiftieth thereof, and the cost of intersections, and less any amount or amounts required to be deducted by authority of Section 3822 of the General Code of Ohio, and less the amount properly chargeable against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Company, shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit:

All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement between and including the termini of said improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement and in an amount to be levied and assessed, respectively, pursuant hereto, and the cost of said improvement shall include the cost and expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the levy and collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

BANDITS ORDER "HANDS DOWN"

DENVER, Aug. 25.—"Hold ups by night, but "hold downs" by day appears to be the rule among bandits.

"Hands down" commanded a well dressed youth who entered a local drug store just as the proprietor was opening for business one morning recently. The store-keeper looked at the young man's gun and stood at attention.

at the beginning of time for us tonight! On a road they built just to lead us to it. Why, Miss Henshaw—"

"If we had taken Ramon's road we would have missed it," interrupted Ruth.

"Nonsense," retorted John. "We couldn't have taken Ramon's road. We had to take Her road."

"Whose road?"

"Fate's! I warned you yesterday." He rode very close to her. She did not draw away but she held her head very high. When he began in this vein he aroused every tingling, resisting instinct in her. For a little she forget even her fatigue.

"Yesterday was yesterday; and for me all play died with it, Mr. Moore!" she said.

"Play!" cried John. "You know I'm not playing! I have been cursing myself for the last two hours for letting you in for this long strain. I thought I should have stopped somewhere while it was light. And just when I was desperate for fire and helter we find a cave! Listen! Is there another cave that you know of around here?"

"No, but—"

"No! You admit it. We've come 60 miles—and found it! Give credit, young lady."

"I won't," said Ruth.

"Oh!" said John and laughed at that. "Well, of course—"

Ruth's horse started forward violently and John's followed after.

"Besides," called Ruth defiantly, "it is such a tiny little cave that probably we can't make a fire in it at all!"

"Oh, no," John called back confidently. "Fate knows her business better than that!"

PARIS SCENES IN CERAMIC FILM

"The Beloved Rogue" Ends Engagement Here Today.

Settings of a type that are entirely new to motion pictures are to be seen in "The Beloved Rogue," John Barrymore's first United Artists Picture, which will close its four day run at the Ceramic theatre today.

These settings, designed to provide entertainment in the background itself, to serve as a symbol of the actual action in each case, are the work of William Cameron Menzies, art director for the Joseph M. Schenck organization, and long recognized as the leader in his line.

"The Beloved Rogue," in which John Barrymore brings to the screen the complex character of Francois Villon, eccentric French poet, housebreaker and scapegrace, depicts the time of Louis XI of France, during the Gothic period. Long, rakish roof lines, sharp angles and twisted stairways are features of the grotesque, bizarre type of architecture that prevailed.

The effort to achieve symbolism in the settings is said to be strikingly successful in the scenes showing the public square of Rouen, where Villon's father was burned at the stake, of which Mr. Menzies said:

"The action in this sequence is one of harshness and coldness, and this effect is reflected in the frowning houses which glare down into the square, crooked and angular streets, and the distorted heap of timbers in the foreground which frame the drama.

"The reverse of this atmospheric effect is shown in the kitchen of the Inn, used for the comedy sequences, where the effect of good cheer is shown in the fat, squatty oven in round, jolly-looking lines, and in the crazy network of chimneys.

Our fable for today: The man very seldom removed his hat, but he had a fine head of hair.—Wooster Record.

Piles Go Quick

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

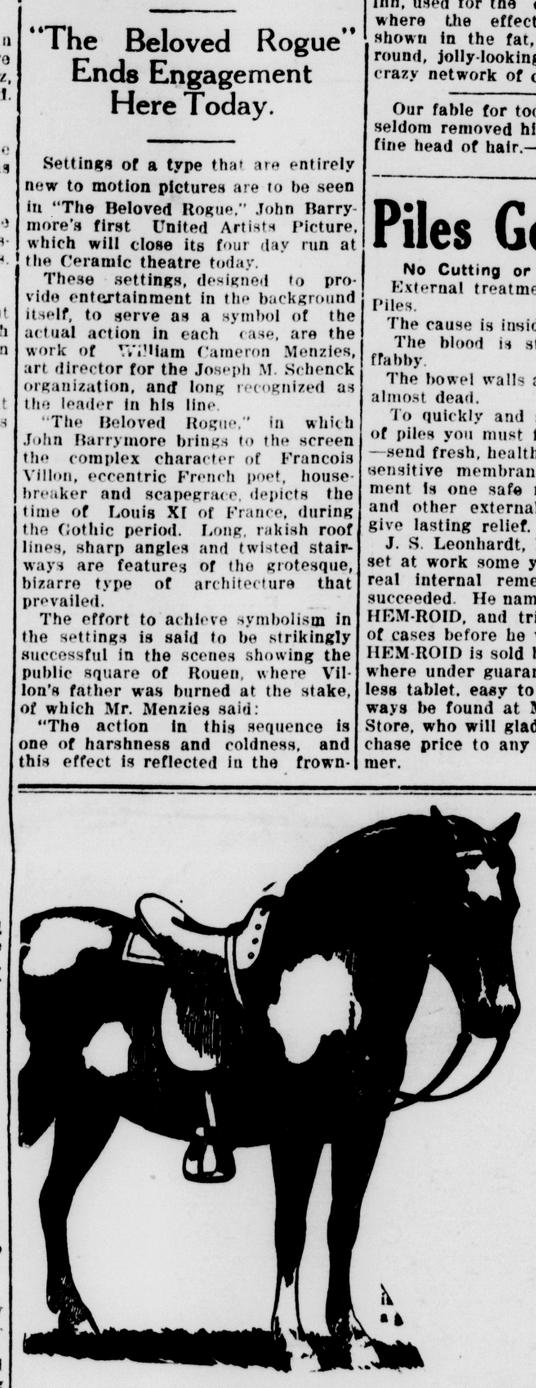

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in hundreds of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathews' Medicine Store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Fire Causes $10,000 Loss At Sherwood

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

THE Rev. Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean of the divinity school, in Chicago University, says philosophy is of no use in religion, because we cannot analyze our religion. "The greatest moments are felt. You cannot define them in words. There is not a philosophical term in the language or the intellectual processes by which we seek to grasp the meaning of religion."

PHILOSOPHY has nothing to do with religion and religion has nothing to do with philosophy. Philosophy deals with problems that con be solved, or may be solved, by proof, argument, thought. Religion deals with questions entirely beyond our reach, that can be answered only by faith.

THE New York Central recently celebrated its one hundredth birthday and its growth from a "20-mile system" to the 7,000-mile system of today.

EARLY in the last century James Brisbane, of Batavia, who had previously run a stage coach line from Buffalo to New York, built a small railroad between Rochester and Buffalo. The time table said the trains would run at certain hours "weather permitting."

HE LEFT to his two sons $2,000,000 worth of the original New York Central stock, before the Vanderbilts watered it. Luckily for his descendants, one of the two sons lost his million, making it necessary for the next generation to go to work.

ANYBODY can succeed, at least a little, in spite of poverty, because he MUST. The few that succeed IN SPITE OF WEALTH deserve most credit.

YOU read recently from abroad "British reviews urge England to accept United States demand for naval equality."

Unless this country is managed by 100 per cent dodos, we don't need England to "ACCEPT" anything. We do need the biggest air fleets and submarine fleets in the world, could easily AFFORD them, and would HAVE them, if we had a quarter of an ounce of brains.

As to cruisers, which are like shepherd dogs watching flocks, if England wants more of them because she has more commercial ships to watch, let her have them.

The cost of one battleship, spent for airplanes would easily take care of all the cruisers an battleships on the ocean. They would do it as easily

One House Destroyed, Another Is Damaged in Mysterious Blaze

Flames Break Out in Home of John Pasco, Barber on Lincoln Highway, Just North of Corporate Limits.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RESPONDS TO CALL

Home and Grocery Operated by Albert Lowe in William Densmore Property is Also Extensively damaged.

Fire, starting it is believed from a short circuited electric light wire, completely destroyed one building and seriously damaged another structure, in Sherwood, just north of the corporate limits, about 7:45 o'clock last night, entailing a loss estinated at approximately $10,000.

Starts in Pasco House.

The blaze originated in the rear part of the two-story, eight room, frame residence and barbershop, owned by John Pasco. The flames leaped across a narrow street, igniting another two-story dwelling in which a grocery store and pool room, operated by Albert Lowe, is also located.

Firemen from the Central station who responded to the call laid about 1,650 feet of hose in order to reach the blaze and as a result of their efforts a new six room frame residence of Frank Densmore was saved from destruction.

Several men, loitering about the Lowe store, discovered the blaze in the Pasco home, while Mr. Pasco was attending a lodge meeting in town and his daughter Bessie, 14, was attending services at a neighborhood church. Smashing in the doors of the house which they found locked, the

AKRON, O., Aug. 25.—Thomas Bugarski, 40, was being held here today on a charge of murder, in connection with the shooting and killing of Joe Nicholich, 40, New Brighton, Pa. Police say Bugarski has confessed, claiming he shot in self defense, during a quarrel.

FIVE PERSONS DIE IN BLAST NEAR NORWALK

Explosion Occurs When Gasoline is Poured Into Stove.

KITCHEN WRECKED

Man Badly Burned is Believed to be Recovering.

NORWALK, O., Aug. 25.—Five persons were dead here today, as the result of an explosion in the home of Homer Hicks, 38, in Greenwich, near here Wednesday night.

The dead are: Mrs. May Hicks, 36; Mary Hicks, 8; Diva Hicks, 3 months; Mrs. Robert Pool, 18; and Robert Pool, Jr., 6 months.

The explosion occurred when Mrs. Hicks is said to have used gasoline in a coal-oil stove. The kitchen of the Hicks home was wrecked, but firemen succeeded in saving the remainder of the house.

Diva Hicks died in the home before aid could be summoned, the others expiring in Memorial hospital here early today. Homer Hicks, although badly burned, is expected to recover.

The Pools lived with Mrs. Pool's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hicks, in Greenwich. While repairing an automobile Wednesday afternoon, Pool had mixed some kerosene and gasoline to clean a motor. Later he carried the mixture into the house where Mrs. Hicks, starting a fire, used it, believing it was coal-oil.

Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Pool and two children, standing beside the stove, were enveloped in flames when the explosion occurred, while Hicks, Pool and one child were severely burned as the blaze spread throughout the kitchen.

"DOLLAR DAY" DRAWS CROWDS

Shoppers From Three Counties Visit City Today.

Semi-annual "Dollar Day" under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce attracted a large crowd of visitors to the city today.

Long before the stores opened at the usual hour many shoppers were on the street and the rush for merchandise in all lines continued well past the noon hour.

Many were on hand from all sections of Columbiana, Beaver and Hancock counties.

CANTON BUS COMPANY SUED

An action seeking $10,000 damages has been filed in common pleas court against the Canton and East Liverpool Transit company, of Canton by D. C. Mills of Hanoverton. Attorney Frank W. Warady represents the plaintiff.

It is alleged in the petition that on March 13th last the plaintiff was a passenger on a bus operated by the defendant and that he asked the driver to stop the motor and allow him to alight. The bus, it is claimed, kept traveling, and Mills arose from his seat, grabbed the seat in front of him and shouted to the driver to again let him off. In stopping the bus the car swerved, a door was thrown open and Mills was thrown out of the bus and sustained severe injuries, from which he has not recovered. The main offices of the defendant are located at Canton.

FIRE DAMAGES N. CASTLE STORE

Fire of undetermined origin partially destroyed the French Shoppe owned by William Mero yesterday at New Castle, Pa. The loss is estimated at $12,000, partially covered by insurance.

Firemen fought the blaze for three hours to prevent its spread to other business blocks. Several other stores were damaged.

Mero is also owner of the shop of similar name in Sixth street.

WOMAN LEAVES AFTER ROMANCE IS SHATTERED

Leaves no Address When She Leaves Rooming House.

LOVER ARRESTED

Said to be Wife of Wealthy New Jersey Manufacturer.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—With her romance with a handsome New Jersey policeman shattered by the arrest of Joseph C. Deaver, of South Plainfield, N. J., her companion, on a charge of deserting his wife and three children, Mrs. J. W. Bache, 45, wife of a wealthy manufacturer, today sought oblivion by disappearing from her rooming house here where she had lived for several weeks with Deaver as "Mr. and Mrs. Brown."

Mrs. Bache early this morning, after officers had arrested Deaver and started with him back to South Plainfield, took her baggage and left the rooming house, without leaving any forwarding address.

When officers who had traced Deaver through a telegram to a New Jersey bank, in which he had asked that his money be transferred to Columbus, came to the room and arrested the former policeman Mrs. Bache professed surprise, declaring that she had known nothing of Deaver's wife and children, when she fled with him.

"I've been a fool," police declared she told them. "My husband was too good for me. The worst is I haven't a cent and can't go to work in the store where I have been employed after this. I don't know what I will do. My husband is not a big enough fool to take me back. I am to blame. I understood that Deaver had been divorced, but nobody in South Plainfield or New York will believe me."

Deaver had been working in a confectionery and Mrs. Bache in a store as a saleswoman.

13 KILLED IN RAIL WRECK

LONDON, Aug. 25. — An all night search of the wreckage of the Southern railway passenger express train which was derailed near Seven Oaks revealed a total death roll of 13 today. Six of the dead are women. Of the 50 who were injured half are in serious condition and it is feared that the death list will be increased. It was the worst train wreck in the British Isles since 1921.

FREIGHT LINE FOR CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23.—According to Captain P. G. Peterson, general manager of the Cleveland and Canada Navigation company, plans are being formulated for establishing of aerial freight and mail lines between Cleveland, Pt. Stanley and London, Ontario.

The new service, according to Peterson, is to be inaugurated next spring, when two seaplanes, one transporting mail, the other freight, will be placed in service. One hundred thousand dollars is to be invested in the movement, at the outset, Peterson declared.

"We believe that the aerial freight route would meet with instant approval," Captain Peterson said, "and we feel reasonably sure that a contract can be made with the government for the proposed air mail route between the points mentioned."

BRIDE OF YEAR TAKES POISON

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Lucille Griffin, 24, bride of a year and former student at Western Reserve university, was dead here today as a result of taking poison. Her husband Dr. W. Lester Griffin, dentist, tried vainly to save her when she told him of her action after taking the poison. Ill health is said to have caused her act.

YOUNG AVIATOR WILL TRY SOUTH AMERICA.

Plane's Destination is Rio De Janiero or Pernambuco.

OFF AT 12:46 P. M.

Craft Groans Under Gas Load as it Leaves Ground.

BRUNWICK, Ga., Aug. 25. — Paul Redfern, 25-year-old Georgia pilot, hopped off at 12:45 p. m., Eastern Standard time, today on a lone non-stop flight to Brazil.

The big monoplane "Port of Brunswick," groaning under a tremendous load of gas, roared along the beach at Glynn Isle and then swimmed gracefully into the air, putting out to sea at a low altitude. It disappeared into the vast stretches of seas and mountains and jungles that bar the way to South America.

Redfern expects to fly more than 50 hours for new non-stop distance record above 4,000 miles. He hopes to land either at Rio de Janeiro or Pernambuco. His objective simply is "Brazil."

PLANE LEAVES FOR CANADA

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Search for Harry D. Hill, 21, sought as the slayer of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hill, 53, divorced wife of a wealthy physician, turned to California-bound trails today when Edward Lyons, a freight conductor, identified a picture of young Hill as that of the man who told him Tuesday night he wanted to catch an 8:10 train for the west coast.

The state's attorney also indicated he wanted to learn whether Dr. Hill communicated with his son after receiving a letter dated Aug. 3 from Mrs. Hill in which she pleaded with him to "please be a real father" after pointing out that Harry had been forging checks.

Authorities believed today the mother's letter might have supplied a murder motive and aid in establishing the date of the crime. Mrs. Hill was last seen by neighbors August 4.

During the three weeks elapsing since Mrs. Hill was last seen, Harry was seen in Streator frequently — [illegible] calling on his sweetheart, Alice Sawyer, to whom he was to have been married, and going to shows.

Neighbors say he visited the house where, police charge, he killed his mother, only last Sunday.

Jury Continues Investigation.

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 25.—The coroner's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Eliza Hill, wealthy divorcee, today discontinued further deliberations pending the result of the analysis of blood stains found on the staircase leading to the basement of the Hill home where Mrs. Hill's body was found buried in a shallow grave last Monday night.

The blood-stained boards were taken from the staircase when the jury

CLEVELAND MAN GETS 'DRY' JOB

W. N. Woodruff Named Administrator of Cleveland District.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—W. N. Woodruff, of Cleveland, has been appointed prohibition administrator of the Cleveland district, succeeding Thomas E. Stone, who takes over a similar office at Detroit on September 1.

W. H. Walker, prohibition administrator of the 12th district, who made the appointment, declared he had "selected the best man available."

"I am not planning any startling changes," Woodruff told International News Service today. "I will simply endeavor to carry out the policies started by Mr. Stone."

H. O. Yoder, of the dry maintenance league, said that Woodruff's appointment was "entirely satisfactory" to his organization.

POLICE GUARD CHAPEL WHERE BODIES OF NICOLA SACCO AND BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI LIE IN STATE

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Police were called on today to guard the little funeral chapel of Joseph Langone on Hanover street, North End, as the bodies of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti lie in state. The undertaker asked for the police guard at the bier of the two men to prevent any possible disorder.

Day and night guards of honor were chosen from among members of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee to stand at attention at the head of each bier.

Mrs. Rose Sacco, wife of one of the men, and Miss Luigia Vanzetti, sister of the other, have not and will not view the bodies. Both women, who have gone to Mrs. Sacco's home in Malden, wish to remember their loved one as they knew him in life.

The little funeral parlor had to be used for the public view of the two men because the defense committee was balked in every attempt to hire a hall for the purpose.

The bodies will remain in the chapel with its religious surroundings until Sunday afternoon. At that time a speaker of national prominence will deliver a funeral oration. He will not be a clergyman.

From the chapel the bodies will be conveyed to North End park, from which will start across the city a "march of sorrow."

Later following cremation, ashes of Sacco will be turned over to his widow. Ashes of Vanzetti will be carried to New York and thence home to Italy by his sister, under present tentative plan. A tour of the country by a delegation carrying the ashes of both was still under discussion.

Extra police details today were ordered out for Sunday afternoon as a large influx of sympathizers from surrounding cities and towns was expected to view the funeral procession.

In New Bedford more than 10,000 persons viewed the body of Celestino Madieros, who preceded Sacco and Vanzetti to the electric chair early last Tuesday morning

Hancock County Day Listed Here Saturday

Governor Howard M. Gore and Senator M. M. Neely Invited to Attend Special Events Arranged by Rock Springs Park Management.

Plans have been completed for the Hancock county picnic-reunion which will be held Saturday at Rock Springs park. Governor Howard M. Gore and United States Senator M. M. Neely have been invited to attend and deliver addresses.

Prizes will be awarded during the day as follows: Silver cup to the oldest couple; silver cup to the oldest womna; silver cup to the oldest man settler and a cup to the best dressed old fashioned couple.

Cash prizes to the best attired guest who comes by horse back, the best by mule-back and by old-fashioned vehicle, while merchandise will be offered as a prize to the best old fashioned quilt, and squirrel gun on display, at the picnic.

In the past the picnic has served as a reunion for old time Hancock county citizens, many of whom are making arrangements to attend this year. The management of the park is leaving nothing left undone to make the event this year the most successful.

Transportation to the park will for the most part be made by automobile and busses, while trains will be available. The affair will be an all-day event with the picnickers gathering in the morning and spending the day at the park. All amusements will be in vogue in both the afternoon and evening.

Hancock County Building and Loan company of Chester, will have a booth on the grounds with a jar filled with pennies. The person guessing the nearest number will be awarded the contents.

There will be a large display of fireworks at night, while music for the dancing will be furnished by Dan Gregory's Victor recording orchestra.

Among those selected to judge the various events are: John E. Newell, J. C. Cunningham of Chester, George W. Marshall, J. M. Martin, and James Cameron of Pughtown, Senator O. S. Marshall, Armour S. Cooper, Sheriff J. A. Tope of New Cumberland W. D. Johnston, Morgan Jones and Thos. S. Hoffman of Weirton.

U. S. FARM EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

The exhibit to be shown at the forthcoming forty-seventh annual West Virginia Exposition & State Fair, at Wheeling, which opens Saturday, September 3rd by the United States department of agriculture, is one that should interest every fair patron. This department has during recent years shown a exhibit at the big line fairs including Wheeling. But this year it will exceed in interest those of the past.

Much intrest has this year been shown in the farms of this state by the department of agriculture. That is one of the reasons why it is sending direct from Washington such a pretentious display. It requires several express cars to handle this one exhibit. More than 2,000 square feet of floor space is necessary to properly install it.

Birthday Surprise Party.

F. C. Weldon was tendered a surprise recently in honor of his 59th birthday at his home in Carolina avenue. The affair was planned by the night employes of the Panhandle railroad. He was presented with a valuable gift.

Wellsville Here Tonight.

Chester Superior Cord Tires and Wellsville are scheduled to meet here tonight in an Industrial league contest. Evans will probably draw the pitching assignment from Manager Frank Riley.

SCHOOL SURVEY PLANS DISCUSSED

Plans for conducting a state educational survey, made possible through appropriations by the legislature, were disclosed during the sessions of the annual high school institute which closed yesterday at Wheeling.

The survey will be conducted this fall, under the supervision of full-time educational experts who will be advised by nationally known school survey authorities.

The purpose of the survey is to make a close study of our present free school system with a view toward presenting the facts to the state superintendent and the legislature. It will result in the formation of school policies and securing constructive legislation in the future.

Dr. L. B. Hill, of West Virginia university, presented the plan before teachers in attendance at the institute. Included among the nationally known educators who have promised assistance in conducting and supervising the survey are Dr. L. B. Cavins, director of the bureau of investigation and statistics of the state department of education, who has been selected as director, Dr. George A. Works, of Texas, Dr. Charles H. Judd, of the University of Chicago, Dr. John W. Withers, Dr. Paul V. West and Dr. Frank Bachman of New York university.

Undergoes Operation.

H. B. Bondurant, Third street, underwent an operation for appendicitis this week in the East Liverpool City hospital.

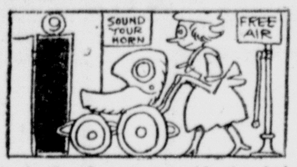

Coverdish Picnic Tonight.

Plans have been completed for the coverdish picnic to be held tonight in the Masonic temple, under the auspices of Crescent chapter No. 49, Order of Eastern Star.

How THE Other Half Behaves

Babies? Yes, Indeed.

LONDON.—Here is one apartment owner who evidently does not object to babies. He had a garage built at a cost of $425,000, adjoining his 45 flats in London, to provide for baby carriages, wherein occupants of the flats may park their "perambulators" free of charge.

No Longer Ignored.

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—Hereafter, bathing beauty contests will not be confined to the graceful lines of only feminine forms at Santa Monica. Men, too, will have a chance to exhibit their shapely forms when the annual state convention will be held here in October. Fat, thin, tall, short, bushy-haired or bald, they all will have a chance to participate in the men's beauty parade.

A combination of a motor boat and motorcycle is to be used by two army captains in their trip around the world.

GILBERT GETS SEA TRAINING

"Twelve Miles Out" at American Theatre.

Manipulating sextants, barometers and other instruments of navigation was the interesting pastime of John Gilbert, while preparing for some actual practice of navigation when he took to the sea in his new picture, "Twelve Miles Out," now playing at the American theatre.

Several revenue cutters, and a "rum-runner" vessel, built after the pattern of those in use on the Atlantic coast, were anchored off San Pedro, and were used in the scenes, which include a thrilling race between the revenue ships and their quarry.

Gilbert actually navigated the vessel in these scenes, not only thus making this picture but at the same time obtaining necessary sea experience to qualify him for captain's papers for his recently purchased yacht, "The Temptress."

The new picture, which was directed by Jack Conway, is a vivid drama of adventure on the sea, hinging on the warfare between revenue boats and rum-runners. It was adapted for the screen by A. P. Younger from the famous stage play by William Anthony McGuire.

Joan Crawford is the heroine of the story, and Ernest Torrence plays the villian's role as the leader of the rum smuggling band. Eileen Percy, Tom O'Brien, Bert Roach and others of note are in the cast.

IMMENSE ZOO FOR TULSA, OKLA.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 25.—A zoological society has been organized in Tulza with the announced intention of establishing a large zoological garden near the city.

According to present plans, construction work will be started on the zoo immediately. Both summer and winter quarters will be provided for virtually all mamals; large and small, which are able to survive the North American climate.

"We realize that it will take many months and perhaps years before we have the zoo which we are planning," W. O. Doolittle, Superintendent of Tulsa Parks, said, "but we are greatly encouraged by the interest being manifested in the project. It will some day be our pleasure to offer to the Southwest and to the United States one of the largest zoos in the country," he said.

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

MELLON VIEWED AS CANDIDATE WITH MANY SERIOUS HANDICAPS

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to Review-Tribune

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—If President Coolidge positively won't run again in 1928, that means, to a certainty, that he won't, which constitutes a completely-rounded, unqualified sensation—

Whereas, if Andrew W. Mellon is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1928, his candidacy by no means insure his nomination, to say nothing of his election, so that the Mellon sensation, if any, is only a contingent one—

And therefore not in a class with the Coolidge sensation.

ASSUME, however, for the sake of argument, that Andrew Mellon really is going to succeed Calvin in the White House, and you've got a sensation at least equal to the one of August 2, when the president announced what he doesn't "choose" to do next year—maybe more so, for it certainly makes more difference to the country who its next president is than who he isn't.

LITTLE HINTS hooking up Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's name with the presidency have been afloat for several months, on the theory that Coolidge might not seek another term. When Coolidge said explicidly that he didn't, these hints become pretty definite.

But it can't be recorded that many people took them at all seriously.

Nobody disputed the magnificence of Mellon's proportions ,to be sure, but he simply wasn't regarded as adapted to presidential purposes; just as you might acknowledge the Leviathan to be by far the largest, finest liner afloat, without considering her at all well designed for overland travel.

NOW, however, that Gov. John S. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, the treasury secretary's home state, has formally launched a Mellon presidential boom—with the second commonwealth, numerically, in the Union behind it—the time's past when the movement can be pooh-poohed.

As yet the thing can hardly be called Mellon's boom—in the possessive—because Mellon, in Europe, hasn't personally okehed it, but it's impossible to believe Fisher'd have gone so far without his approval.

You can't visualize these hard-boiled Mellonites as going after anything without some good reasons for believing they can get it.

BUT Mellon's handicaps!

He's one of the world's richest men—and most conservative. Every advanced and even slightly-advanced element couldn't but be against him.

He's "anti" every kind of farm relief that the farmers demand.

He's a wet—for "law enforcement," of course, but so's Capt. W. H. Stayton, executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. The drys have complained remake Volsteadism stick while Mellon's in office.

AND his age!

True, he's as alert and active and chipper as many a man of half his age, but he's 72 for all that—would be 74 before he could be inaugurated, if elected, and 78 at the end of his first term, not to mention a second.

He's a wonderful financier—that's admitted. Big business and all the money interests would be for him like so many ton of brick, on his record and his merits. But would they be willing to trust him to live quite so close to 100? And what good would he be to 'em if he died in office? They certainly would want to make mighty sure that their kind of a vice presidential candidate was on the ticket with him.

COUNTY SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 6

Hancock county schools will open for the fall and winter terms on Tuesday, Sept. 6, although registration of pupils will take place in several schools on the day previous.

During the summer season number of improvements have been made to numerous buildings in the county including Grant district. The new Wells high and elementary school here will be ready for occupancy on the opening day.

Increased enrollment is expected in every district.

Many To Attend Picnic.

Large number from this section plan to attend the Hancock county picnic which will be held Saturday at Rock Springs park. Many novel attractions have been arranged for the occasion by the park management.

May Defer School Opening.

Schools of Ohio county may not open for the fall term until Monday, Sept. 19, if the spread of infantile paralysis continues in that section. Members of the board of education are keeping in close touch with the situation and the buildings will not be thrown open until all danger is passed.

SALLY'S SALLIES

A sensible wedding present is the address of a good, inexpensive divorce lawyer.

Employes Attend Outing.

Employes of the Panhandle railroad residing in Hancock county were among the large crowd that attended the annual picnic of the division yesterday at Rock Springs park. Excursion trains were operated from Pittsburgh and Columbus to Steubenville, where a boat was taken to the park.

Lodgemen To Meet.

Members of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F., will meet Friday night in the Aaron building. Routine business will be transacted.

New Capitals

The chairman of the city-planning commission of Ottawa, Canada, finding rather difficult the problem of making the Canadian capital a model city, soberly proposes to go and build a new capital up in the adjacent Laurentian hills.

Canadians are flabbergasted by the proposal. Many ridicule it. The chairman, however, reminds them that Brazil is building a new capital away from Rio de Janeiro, in a more healthful, beautiful and advantageous site, and that Austration has built an absolutely new capital, Canberra.

He might have referred to the fact that the United States set an example of this sort when it picked out the District of Columbia and established a new capital called Washington on the Potomac river, more than a century ago.

City-building is easier than it used to be. It calls for much money and engineering skill, but those are plentiful. And city-planning, which aims to make over old cities along modern lines, is accustoming people to regard such ideas more open-mindedly than they used to.

A city or town formerly was something inevitable, its site and character fixed as if by laws of nature, and subject only to slow hardly perceptible changes from generations to generation. A city or town now is something that its residents can make over whenever they like, as a citizen remodels his house for greater beauty, health and usefulness.

The Chaplin Divorce

Everybody except a few tabloid enthusiasts must feel relieved that the Chaplin divorce case was got out of the way without a long drawn out and scandalous public trial. The brief hearing accomplished all that was necessary without bringing in unsavory details. It was better for the two children involved in the case and better for the moving picture industry, which has had about all the scandals it can stand for a while. And it was vastly better for the general public.

Now it may be hoped that Charne Chaplin will go ahead with his unfinished picture, for which a large and perfectly self-respecting public has been waiting a long time. If some wise guardian could only be appointed to keep Charlie's private life in order and leave the artist free to produce great pictures, the public would be more than satisfied.

The Strongest Light

The University of Virginia at Charlottesville has a searchlight that is a searchlight. It can throw a beam of 1,385,000,000 candle power.

"How far that little candle throws its light! So shines a good deed in this naughty world," wrote Shakespeare. From the figures, it looks as if this light could be thrown a billion times as far. If we only had good deeds to shine like that in the realy of human conduct!

At any rate, the beam thrown by that Virginia searchlight is five times as powerful as any ever used before, and is capable of producing sunburn 2 miles away, and when directed upward is visible for 200 miles in every direction, which is assuredly shining some.!

Our science makes up for our moral deficiencies, in this enlightened age. And perhaps the floods of light we are throwing upon things material will lead eventually to greater moral sweetness and light. Our schools and colleges, along with our churches, are searchlights in that realm.

An End To Stunt Flights

More than a week after the tragic conclusion of the Dole air race, naval officials are saying that "some step must be taken by the federal government to prevent future loss of lives in any distance stunt flights." It is growing more apparent that the thrill of the race took precedence over reasonable caution and through preparation.

Of the three flights from New York to Europe ,only Lindbergh's was genuinely successful. Byrd's and Chamberlin's met with serious difficulties. The size of the European continent, which was their target, and the very great skill of the aviators enabled them to land without loss of life or limb.

Of the two flights to Hawaii earlier in the summer, one was a perfect success. In the other, the plane was wrecked in a lonely spot on one of the islands of the Hawaiian group, not the island aimed at.

There have been plenty of noteworthy successes to stimulate confidence in and enthusiasm for flying. There have also been plenty of failures to emphasize the fact that neither planes nor man's mastery of the air and knowledge of the art of flying are yet perfect.

It is all right to encourage flights, to offer prizes for special achievement. But in every such case there should be the fullest study of conditions, the most rigid requirement for safety and thorough inspection of planes. Needless loss of life will do the cause of aviation great harm.

A Chicago judge suggests that it might be a good thing to grant divorces for five dollars. But that would just make more trouble. When the divorcees turned right around and married again, they'd run into real expense.

"European Experts Assail Long U. S. Prison Sentences." And here in America we assail their shortness.

The Summer Widower— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A book might be written of curious cafe customs in New York. There is a shadowy dim lit tea room noted for clandestine engagements, yet frowns on women smoking cigarettes. Many cheaper cabaret dives do not permit women without escorts.

Others will provide sleek rascals for lone women but if they come alone service is refused. It is in ultra smart cafes the lone woman receives the most gracious welcome and there, too, she receives greatest protection from flirtatious advances.

There are three respectable restaurants in town which do not permit lone male diners, but lone members of the opposite sex are admitted. In all the cafes of the better sort patrons bring liquor at their own risk. They must carry it to their tables.

No employe is permitted to handle liquor in any way. Patrons must pour their own. While employes often break this rule, they face the danger of dismissal. The hazard of having property of great value padlocked is too portentous to take a chance.

On the East Side a restaurant displays this sign: "Gents with ladies will remove their hats." And in 46th street another suggests: "Please use toothpicks outside." A number of restaurants, especially those appealing to a theatrical trade, permit dogs in continental fashion. The smartest hotels do, too.

There is—or at least was several years ago—a restaurant near Church street that had a stack of Bibles on a table near the door for those who might want scriptural stimulation while waiting for their order. In recent years every cafe, save those attached to hotels, discourages charge accounts.

Experienced restauranteurs say that once a restaurant loses its popularity, it is through. In the trade is it known as "jinxed." The popularity is never regained. The wise heed this, put up the shutters and seek a new location.

Restaurants often lose popularity through trivial causes. Yet one hotel restaurant on Broadway survived an incident 10 years ago that would have meant extinction—save for what Broadway calls a lucky break. A patron at luncheon ordered a casserole dish. This, by the way, is not a pleasant topic for weak stomachs. He found a mouse had been cooked in the dish. Witnesses were there when he keeled over in a dead faint. He was ill for weeks and brought heavy suit for damages. The hotel stood to lose a good name and go into bankruptcy. The whole thing was placed before managing editors. It was conclusively proved that such a thing might happen in the most carefully conducted kitchen. The newspapers magnanimously "killed" the story.

Incidentally, I often wonder why a man will fuss with a waiter in a public restaurant. Nothing is achieved and the patron has not only lost his temper, but his appetite. One cannot win an argument with a trained waiter for the simple reason he refuses to argue. "Never talk back" is a good waiter's inflexible first law.

Custom inspection in New York is courteous but grows increasingly rigid. Too many enjoy bragging about bringing in "the real stuff." This casts a reflection on inspectors, which they have decided not to bear. They are using fine combs in their search. Not even just a few nips for grandpa's rheumatism are being considered. Inspectors can take no chances these days in hasty inspections. For every 80 inspectors there are 20 spotters. The spotters are not in uniform. They may be old men, old women, young girls or collegiate looking youths.

One trans-Atlantic voyager came out of the final gate the other day remarking he had been thoroughly "dry cleaned."

And I heard of one liner passenger who, in distributing his tips, handed a uniformed gentleman two pounds. The gentleman thanked him and a few seconds later began blowing the dinner horn. He was the ship's bugler.

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Physicians Who Advertise.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Out in Iowa thre is a group of physicians that is conducting a newspaper advertising campaign. It is the Cerro Gordo County Medical society and the advertisements have been appearing regularly for some weeks in the Mason City Globe-Gazette.

This is said to be the first general advertising that has been done in the United States by "regular" doctors and is a departure from a long-established principle of the ethics observed by the medical profession.

Moreover, Dr. J. Channing Dakin, president of the society, himself a pratitioner and surgeon, says that "this advertising plan has been approved by the judiciary committee of the American Medical association and by the executive committee of the Iowa State Medical society." The campaign is doubly interesting, therefore, in that it may be the forerunner of advertising generally by the medical profession.

"People are becoming confused over their health and what they should do about it by the advertising of so-called cults," says Dr. Dakin in explaining why the campaign was undertaken. "The designation 'Doctor' is being used generally and by many without medical training. It is also used properly by others than medical men. The public does not and in many cases can not discriminate among those using the title.

"In the true practice of medicine all the sciences are included. Those who lack the basic medical education can not be expected to diagnose and treat properly the problems that are essentially medical and surgical.

"Our general publicity for the standard educated medical profession is intended to inform the public so that it may know what the profession stands for and what it is. The family medical practitioner has been and is the family health guide and friend. He has no interest other than to keep the family in good health and to be their counselor always to that end."

No Individuals Exploited.

The advertisements that have been published do not exploit any individual physicians, or any school or method of treatment for any disease, or any "cures," and they do not include the names of any officers or the members of any committee of the profession. Each advertisement is signed simply, "Cerro Gordo County Medical society."

What is said in the advertisements is in the way of a dignified statement about the medical profession and its relation to the public, or a presentation of some of the fundamentals of healthful practices and ways of living. On the one hand, the idea set forth is that if you need a doctor, be sure you get a real doctor, and on the other hand, that if you take the right kind of care of yourself the occasions when you will need treatment from a doctor will be few and far between.

For example, in the first advertisement, entitled "The Doctor of Medicine and the Public," it was stated:

"Believing that the public is entitled to more definite and authoritative information about the profession and concerning its ethics, its purposes and its services, the Cerro Gordo County Medical society plans the publication of a series of articles. It will be the purpose of these articles to offer accurate and definite information on the various phases of the relationship of the medical profession to the public and to present practical suggestions and recommendations looking toward the improvement of the public health and the conservations of the public welfare."

The advertisement also calls attention to the fact that the laws of Iowa require that a doctor of medicine must have a college degree involving four years of study of science, four years in medical school, and a year in a first class hospital before he may begin to treat the public.

"By these requirements," it is stated, "more drastic than those imposed upon any other profession or chool of therapeutics, the state sets the medical profession apart and eloquently testifies to the priority of its position and the vital interest with which its relationship to the public health is charged."

Choosing the Family Doctor.

One of the more interesting of the advertisements deals with the subject of the selection of a family doctor and gives a definition of an "ethical" doctor.

"Select an ethical doctor of medicine," it says." "Anethical physician is one who accepts the fundamental standards of the medical profession. To be ethical means to be honest. An ethical practitioner is honest in his relations with this competitors, with his patients, and with the public in general.

"The experience of the profession has taught us that one who allows his name to be advertised indiscriminately and secures undue publicity for himself is not apt to be ethical. If he claims exclusive knowledge of methods of cure he is dishonest—for all ethical physicians exchange their experiences freely."

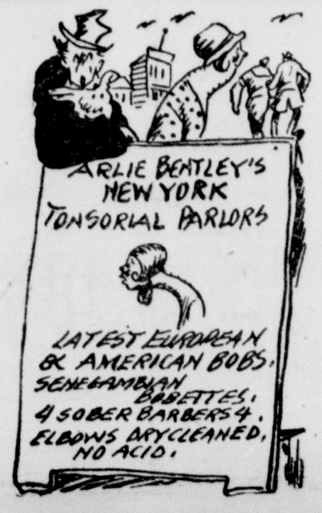

Along this line another advertisement tells of the work that is being carried on by the American Medical association from its headquarters and laboratories in Chicago, the largest institution of its kind in the world. There $2,000,000 are expanded annually in service to the human race. In the laboratories the most delicate tests are made constantly, the archives are filled with hundreds of thousands of documents pertaining to medical discoveries and developments, and there are indexes of the leading periodical literature on medicine of 28 countries. All of this information is at the command of the 155,000 regularly licensed doctors of medicine in the United States, nad they may also be advised concerning the many hospitals of the country.

Of the last there are almost 7,000 with more than 800,000 beds, it is stated ,and "the American Medical association knows that nearly 300 of these hospitals, 'because of clearly unethical practices,' are unworthy to be included in any list of reputable institutions. That information is not given out to the public in printed form, but is available to any person having a legitimate reason for asking it. Likewise every doctor, and every 'make believe' doctor or quack, is catalonged, and thus the standing of any individual doctor may be ascertained by any one interested."

These Iowa physicians may become merchants when they advertise, but it is evident that the commodity they are trying to sell to their community is good health. To this end they emphasize the importance of going to your doctor and being checked over at reasonable frequent intervals. Your brakes may be loose, your steering gear out of whack, your carburator may need adjustment, your spark plug may not be functioning properly, your valves may be tapping, or your batteries may be almost run down—in fact, almost everything can be wrong with you that gets wrong with your automobile, and you ought to take as good care of yourself as you do of your car.

"Careful periodical examinations which will discover disabilities in their earliest stages, when cure is possible, is the finest service the doctor can render you," says one of the Mason City advertisements. "Give him an opportunity to work under favorable conditions to get the best results. You can not expect so much if you wait until the best he can do is a repair job, with damaged materials with which to work."

CARD OF THANKS.

The citizens of LaCroft and Sherwood offer their sincere thanks to the East Liverpool Fire Department for their wonderful assistance during the fire which occurred there last night. They certainly appreciate their service in saving the other homes which would have burned, if not for the efforts of the brave firemen. They also wish to thank the many kind neighbors and all those who gave a helping hand, also the Ohio Power company for the service which they rendered and the kind telephone operators for their quick service.

They Called Her Scrawny But Not For Long

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure and build up rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back oldtime energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

PICTURE TAKEN AT BIG RANCH

Ken Maynard is Star in "The Land Beyond The Law."

The Miller and Lux Ranch, said to be the largest cattle ranch in the United States, serves as the locale of much of Ken Maynard's new First National picture, "The Land Beyond the Law," which Charles R. Rogers produced and which is showing at the Strand theatre today.

The Miller and Lux Ranch of many thousands of acres in extent and with countless heads of cattle, is located in the vicinity of Fresno, and has not been used to any great extent for pictures.

Not only did the producer of the Maynard picture secure permission to use the ranch and other features connected with the cattle industry, but also to picture a stampede in which fifty thousand head of cattle were employed, with hundreds of buckaroos and horses.

The story concerns the entry of New Mexico into the Union, with the attendant disputes with cattle barons and troubles with bandits who flourished in those exciting times. The story of Marion Jackson is based on real historical happenings and is claimed to be one of the greatest Western epics ever screened.

Harry J. Brown directed. In the cast are included Dorothy Dawn, playing the feminine lead; Tom Santschi and Noah Young.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our sincere gratitude to our neighbors and many friends for their kindness and acts of helpfulness, during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and aunt, Rosa Belle McConnell.

ARREST 3 WOMEN FOR ATTACK ON STRIKE BREAKERS

NON-UNION MEN HALTED BY MOB NEAR FLORENCE

Deputy Sheriffs Beat Back Infuriated Women.

BOND FURNISHED

Union Miners Plan Pilgrimage to Pomeroy Fields.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 25.—Three women, said to be the leaders of a mob of 75 women which late Wednesday attacked a force of eight deputy sheriffs giving safe conduct to non-union miners enroute to the Florence mines, near here, are under arrest here today. They are to be charged with rioting and assault to kill, according to attaches of the office of County Prosecutor Waddell. The women registered at the county jail as Josephine Holewick, Catherine Niska and Margaret Luposki.

According to Sheriff Hardesty, the deputy sheriffs and the non-union workers had passed through a mile of picketed territory where five union posts have been established, and were about to pass upon mine property when the women armed with clubs, bricks, stones and eggs, attacked them. The deputies, Hardesty said, attempted to disperse the women with clubs when they were attacked.

Deputy Sheriff Baker was bitten by one of the women, while the club of one deputy is said to have crashed upon the nose of a woman. She has not been arrested. The women are to be charged and arraigned Friday, upon the return of Prosecutor Waddell.

There are now 12 men and women under bond in Belmont county charged with rioting and assault to kill, as a result of clashes between union pickets and sympathizers and non-union strike breakers. This number does not include the three women arrested after the mob attack Wednesday.

William Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Hunyha, who were arrested after the Monday attack at Martins Ferry, upon three bosses of the Florence mine, were arraigned late Wednesday on charges of rioting and assault to kill, and were held to the grand jury under bond of $1,000 each.

Bond in each case has been furnished by the local unions.

Union Leaders Protest.

ATHENS, O., Aug. 25.—Despite the protests of Oral Daugherty, president of the Buchtel district of union miners, 500 unemployed union miners gathered early today at Glouster and began an automobile pilgrimage to Pomeroy, where several former union miners of the Hocking valley are said to be working in non-union mines according to reports received here.

Daugherty, it is reported here, warned the men that the mines in the Pomeroy district are reputed to be guarded and protected with machine guns, but the men persisted in making the trip. Their object, it is said, is to persuade the men from working in the non-union fields.

Pomeroy mines have been operating on a non-union basis sice 1917 on a $5 scale.

SENATOR WALSH, of Massachusetts, when Congress meets will introduce a bill to provide "a West Point of the air," a United States aviation academy, to take equal rank with West Point and Annapolis. An excellent suggestions, and "equal rank" is none too high, for in case of war the fliers would have to protect the obsolete warships and slow crawling army.

West Point and Annapolis should be changed to flying academies, and the sooner the better.

"Old Glory" in Readiness for Trans-Atlantic Trip.

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Old Glory, the single-motored Fokker monoplane in which Lloyd W. Bertaud and James De Witt Hill will attempt a flight to Rome, was taken from its hangar here this morning, to be flown to Roosevelt Field and there placed on the mound from which its trans-Atlantic take-off is to be made. Hill was to fly the plane to Roosevelt Field, where it was to be fueled and provisioned.

Both Bertaud and Hill expressed a belief that the trans-Atlantic take-off could probably be made some time between 3 p. m. and 6 p. m. today. A gentle north wind was blowing this morning, which was expected to shift to westerly this afternoon.

Should weather conditions prevent a start of the long hop this afternoon, the monoplane will remain on the mound, ready for the start at the first favorable opportunity, Bertaud said.

ATTACK TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington Wants Report on Shooting of American Girl.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The state department today instructed the American embassy in Mexico City to press vigorously an inquiry into the wounding of Miss Florence Anderson of California during an attack by bandits on a Southern Pacific train near Acoponeta, Mexico.

J. W. Ives, the American consul, who reported the incident, has already made representations to Mexican authorities. Ives advised the department that the train was attacked by several hundred armed men.

After receiving the degree of Master of Arts, Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery in the Glasgow university, Miss Isobel Hill decided to be a dressmaker, she testified in a London court recently.

Youth in California

visited the scene of the crime late last night.

Meanwhile Lasalle county authorities are making every effort to locate Harry Hill, ne'er-do-well son of the murdered woman who has been formally charged with her killing. He was last seen in Chicago at the home of William Bridges, a former resident here and a close friend. Further indication that Mrs. Hill was murdered by her son as a result of financial difficulties arising out of a number of checks which the boy had forged in her name, was disclosed today according to police when it developed that he was seen at his home last Sunday afternoon mopping the south porch of the Hill residence in the exclusive section of Streator.

He has never been known to take any interest in the home on any previous occasion. Since the separation between his mother and father, Dr. H. C. Hill, loval eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, three years ago, he has virtually made his home at a Streator hotel, despite the father's insistence that he take up permanent abode with his mother.

Two Theories Advanced.

The state is proceeding on two theories as motives which would cause the boy to kill his mother. The most popular theory is that he had been discovered making inroads into his mother's bank account by means of checks which he forged to pay gambling debts.

The other theory is that he killed her because she refused to sanction a marriage between him and Alice Sawyer, which had been set for next month.

Alice is Hill's boyhood sweetheart. Calmly, in the face of overwhelming circumstantial evidence against him, Alice insists that Harry is not implicated in any way. She points out that Harry weighs only 135 pounds, and has never been robust, and claims it would have been impossible for him to carry or drag his 225-pound mother to the shallow basement grave.

At the inquest yesterday, she told of spending all of last Sunday in his company. Under a grilling cross examination by Coroner L. D. Howe, she denied that he exhibited any evidence of nervousness at any time. He left her, she said, last Sunday evening to go to Chicago to regain a position he formerly held with an advertising company.

She further told of making an engagement with him at that time to meet him in Chicago on Friday of this week in company with her mother, spending the week-end there, and all three returning to Streator together. Her testimony shed no light in the unusual murder situation which has the whole city aroused.

Coroner L. D. Howe learned from witnesses that Mrs. Hill was last seen on August 4 in the front yard of her home. According to the coroner she has been dead about three weeks.

REGISTRATION FEE INCREASED

COLUMBUS, Aug. 25.—Students at Ohio university enrolling next month for the new scholastic year, will be required to pay an increase of $5 a quarter in the registration fee, making a total of $20 a quarter, instead of $15 formerly charged. The action was taken by university trustees at the request of the house appropration committee, which suggested additional revenue be raised in this manner.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—After a firm and steady opening, in which higher prices were recorded in a number of the speculative leaders, the stock market today sagged under the weight of heavy selling. The persistent bearish professionals offerred a liberal volume of the stocks which have been plunging forward recklessly in the last few weeks and succeeded, for the time being at least, in turning the market trend downward.

Wall Street, and the financial district in general, were inclined to give more attention to evidences of a slackening in fall trade. Since April every monthly tonnage reports has shown a decline from the corresponding month of 1926, while steel buying as indicated in the weekly surveys of the trade authorities, is considerably below expectations. Flooding of the markets with "easy money" is far from complimentary to American business as a whole.

Continuance of the Frisco railroad's extra 25-cent dividend on the common stock, practically placing the stock on an eight per cent dividend basis stimulated good buying of a few of the dividend rails, with Atchison, Frisco, New York Central and Southern Railway leading a moderate rally. Atchison reached 200 for the first time in the history of the road.

United States Steel and General Motors were well supported at 139 and 239 respectively, and Mudson Motors was inclined to make a belated response to the recent increase of its dividend to $5 a share annually. A number of large blocks of the stock was taken at 87. Nash was also in good demand above 81½.

In an attempt to "keep the speculative pot boiling" in the second hour, professionals turned to the railroad stocks and utilities, a few of which were whipped up sharply to new high price levels. General Motors and high-priced specialties, the blue chips of the speculative game, also staged a come-back in this period. Pan American Petroleum emerged from its state of depression, not much the worse for the severe pounding it received at the hands of the bears, while General Motors rushed up to a new peak price for all time.

Cotton lost about 20 points in profit taking and Wall Street speculative selling, while the grain markets were steady, with narrow price changes. Sugar was firm and the general commodities markets featureless. Call money unchanged at three and one-half per cent.

OUTLAWS RAID MEXICAN TOWN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—Federal troops are pursuing ten outlaws who raided the village of La Garblelas, state of Vera Cruz, killing a man, attacking several young women and burning houses, said a telegram from Vera Cruz today.

Two outlaws of a band of four recently captured near this city have been executed following a court martial. The third was killed while trying to escape and the fourth was liberated.

According to the military authorities the whole Mexico valley has not been cleared of outlaws.

TO BURY SUICIDE VICTIM TOMORROW

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Allender Warden, 25, who died in the City hospital as a result of swallowing two bichloride of mercury tablets, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street, in charge of Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church. Burial will be made in the United Presbyterian cemetery at Calcutta.

$10,000 Fire Loss

men were greeted with a sheet of flames as they reached the kitchen in the rear. While a bucket brigade was being formed to battle the flames a call was sent for the fire department.

Two Alarms Sounded.

Six firemen on the No. 1 combination truck from the Central fire station responded to the first alarm. Attaching the hose to a fire plug near the Fisher Park allotment, 1,400 feet of hose was strung but the fire could not be reached. Another alarm was sounded and the "flying squadron" truck from the Central station, carrying an additional supply of hose, was dispatched to the scene of the blaze. In the meantime however the blaze was spread to the Lowe building.

The firemen devoted their efforts toward saving the Lowe building. The fire was soon under control but the roof and the second floor of the Lowe building had been badly damaged. Stock in the grocery and a greater part of the furnishings in the living rooms had been carried from the building by volunteers before the place was fired. Furnishings in the home of Frank Densmore which adjoins the Lowe place was also removed when it was feared that the fire would take their home.

Pasco carried $2,900 insurance on his home and furnishings while the building occupied by Lowe and owned by William Densmore, Sherwood was also insured. Lowe had no insurance on his household furnishings or stock in the store, it is claimed.

Another Fire in East End.

Electric light and telephone lines passing along the Lincoln Highway were burned away by the blaze. Linemen worked until after the hour of midnight in removing the broken wires and stringing temporary lines. Residents of the Ross Meadows and Stop 55 territory were without electric lights for several hours last night as a result of the blaze.

While firemen were at work on the Sherwood fire, another alarm came from the home of Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Harker avenue, where an outhouse caught fire. Trucks from the East End and the Northside fire station which was "filling in" at the Central station house responded. The shed was burned to the ground.

District is Thankful.

Residents of the Sherwood and La Croft district today expressed their thanks to members of the fire department, telephone operators, power company and to all volunteers who assisted at the fire and in keeping the blaze from spreading to their property.

The two buildings are located just north of the new Lincoln highway territory recently annexed to the city. The city is now arranging to extend its water mains from Fisher park to the city limits.

BANK ADDS SIX TO ITS BOARD

$4,000,000 Worth of New Capital Put Into Enterprise.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25. — Carrying out a resolution adopted by the recent triennial convention of the order here, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today had increased the board of directors of the B. of L. E. Cooperative National bank, from nine to 15, at the same time choosing 11 new members to displace certain of the old directorate.

In addition to C. H. Huston, chairman of the Transcontinental Oil company, and F. A. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber company, nine Cleveland men, prominent in public, professional and industrial life, were chosen.

Old members retained were Alvanley Johnston, who was elected president and chairman of the board; J. H. Cassell, secretary and treasurer of the B. of L. E.; Walger Dunigan, assistant secretary and treasurer of the B. of L. E., and O. J. Horn, attorney.

The Baltimore Trust company, it was announced simultaneously with the election, has taken mortgages on the two buildings owned by the Brotherhood here, whereby $4,000,000 new capital is put into the organization's enterprises, to secure an issue of 6 per cent first mortgage bonds due August 1, 1932. The bonds will not be offered to the public for the present, it was said.

FOUR HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

CINCINNATI, Aug. 25.—One trainman was injured probably fatally, and three others were less seriously hurt when two freight trains on the C. G. & P. traction line collided at Mount Washington, near here, today.

NO LET UP IN NAVY'S SEARCH FOR AVIATORS

ISLANDS SCANNED

Test of Rubber Bag Boats Gives Slight Hope.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The navy decided today to continue at least for another week, a vigorous and widespread search for the seven missing Hawaiian flyers.

The new searching plans were outlined in dispatches sent to the navy by Admirals R. H. Jackson at San Francisco, and John McDonald, at Honolulu.

Although the entire resources of the Pacific fleet have been thrown into the eight day search, no trace has yet been found of Mildred Doran, 22-year-old "flying school marm" and her six men comrades, who are lost in three racing planes somewhere in the Pacific.

The aircraft vessels, Langley and Aroostook, which have been working out over the great circle course with a convoy of destroyers will turn back today. Planes from the deck of the Langley have searched the water for miles in every direction as the mother ship slowly moved toward the mid-Pacific islands. Not a clue, not a trace of the missing planes was found.

The light cruiser Omaha and six destroyers, which were diverted into the hunt Tuesday, will continue the search from their present position, following the ocean drift as far as Hawaii.

In Hawaiian waters, the minesweeper Pelican and two seaplanes search off the island of Kauai. Every mile off Hawaii for 40 miles has been thoroughly combed.

Careful search of the slopes of Mauna Kea, Hawaiia's highest mountain, failed to disclose the source of brightly burning green flare sighted by an army officer last Sunday. Martin Jensen, winner of second price in the Dole derby, circled the mountain in his trans-Pacific plane, Aloha.

Results Satisfactory.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Satisfactory results obtained in testing a rubber life boat, revived a faint flicker of hope today that some or all of the seven missing Dole flyers may still be found alive.

The test was made at the behest of the government, to decide whether the search should be abandoned or continued indefinitely.

A rubber bag-boat similar to those carried by all the Hawaiian flight planes, was used. Two men, each weighing 180 pounds, put off in the life raft from a coast guard cutter.

At the end of an hour and fifty minutes not a drop of water had been shipped and the two men had suffered not the slightest discomfort they reported.

The test was conducted twelve miles out in Catalina channel, in a choppy sea, with a heavy ground sweel running, and an 18-mile westerly wind blowing.

The raft was visible to the naked eye at a distance of eight miles, and should be plainly seen with glasses 20 miles away it was estimated.

The raft, according to observors, could not be swamped, and should remain afloat indefinitely.

THE BUCKEYE NEWS

NO. 33. AUGUST 25, 1927. VOL. 1.

We know a young lady who is going away to school this fall. She and her mother have been busy with the wardrobe. The other day they made a discovery. "What am I going to wear to school?" the girl asked. They had completely overlooked that detail. All the dresses were for social use.

Wife. — "I'm so sleepy — is everything shut up for the night?"

Hubby. — "That depends on you. Everything else is."

Do you remember 'way back when your horses shied at the automobiles and it made you mad at the infernal contraptions?

We like the golden summer days,
We like the nice warm nights;
In fact we like all summer brings,
Except mosquito bites.

There is no law requiring anybody to trade a home, except maybe the law of common sense. The home merchant is in better position to give you service than anybody else.

We absolutely believe in our ability to please you in Lumber. And that isn't egotism. It's self confidence.

400 OBSERVE YELLOW CREEK CHURCH CENTENNIAL

THREE FORMER PASTORS AID IN SERVICES

Rev. K. J. Stewart, Pastor, Presides at Two Sessions.

SPECIAL MUSIC

Paper by Miss Margaret Smith Outlines Church History.

With more than 400 members, friends, guests and visitors, including three former ministers, in attendance, the congregation of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church yesterday observed the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the church.

Morning and afternoon programs, with special music and appropriate addresses, the latter embodying the general theme of "Carry on," were carried out during the celebration, with the immense throng joining in a basket luncheon on the church grounds at noon.

Rev. Robert S. Young, of Glenshaw, Pa.; Rev. R. L. Ryall, of Mt. Vernon, O., and Rev. John R. Jones, of Wilkinsburg, Pa., retired, all of whom at various times have occupied the pulpit of the Yellow Creek church as its regular pastor, took part in the services, as well as Elder J. H. Mosel, of Steubenville, moderator of the Steubenville presbytery; Rev. William L. Swan, D. D., of Cleveland; Rev. Frederick Dean, of the Second Presbyterian church of East Liverpool; Rev. Wilson, of Pughtown, W. Va.; Rev. Thomas Berger, pastor of the Wellsville Second Presbyterian church, and Rev. H. M. Peebles, of Bethesda.

Rev. Kensey J. Stewartt, present pastor of the church and chairman of the general committee that arranged the centennial observance program, presided during the morning and afternoon sessions.

Rev. Jones opened the morning services with an invocation. Rev. Dean gave a scripture reading and prayer was led by Rev. Swan. Rev. Young gave the chief address during the morning, and the session was closed with prayer by Rev. H. M. Peebles.

The afternoon program was opened by Rev. Berger.

Moderator J. H. Mosel, of Steubenville, spoke of the church's past history and placed the responsibility for its further success squarely on the shoulders of each member of the congregation at large, rather than the minister.

An historical paper, compiled by Miss Margaret M. Smith, was a distinctive feature of the afternoon program. Miss Smith went back more than a century in her account of the founding of the Yellow Creek church and details of the lives of those who came first to prepare the way.

Rev. Jones gave an address, but Rev. Ryall, who arrived late, was unable to give his address on "The Unfinished Task," confining his brief talk to greetings and remarks.

Rev. Swan spoke from the subject, "Our Inheritance from the Past," pointing out that "what was their work is now our work," and urging the congregation to "carry on."

During the services Rev. Stewart read a score or more of letters and telegrams from various parts of the country, all containing congratulatory expressions.

TAKE WOOMER TO AURORA, ILL.

Local Youth Held in Stolen Auto Investigation.

Harry Woomer, of this city, arrested several days ago by local police who questioned the ownership of the automobile he was driving, today was taken back to Aurora, Ill., by Illinois police authorities.

The automobile is still in custody here, pending disposition of the case by insurance company officials.

BIBLE SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Commencement exercises of the Wellsville Daily Vacation Bible school will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Curry Memorial church, East Liverpool, with 33 pupils receiving diplomas for perfect attendance. An exhibit after commencement exercises will be held of all things that were made during the school period.

The boys will display baskets, door stops and money banks while the girls have made hemstitched towels, aprons and the kindergarten, little novelties.

JOHNSTON RITES HERE FRIDAY

Funeral services for Wade Johnston, Wellsville man who was fatally injured in an automobile accident Tuesday morning in Buffalo, N. Y., will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his mother, Mrs. Irene Johnson, 342 1-2 Main street, in charge of Rev. Brown, pastor of the A. M. E. church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

HEAR REPORT BY SPOTSWOOD

Engineer Discusses Industrial Development Possibilities.

Discussing possibilities in connection with the city's industrial development, Dandridge Spotswood, industrial engineer employed by the local chamber of commerce, last night gave an interesting report of his activities during recent weeks, covering a trip east.

The report was submitted to members of the board of directors of the chamber, all of whom were present.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND MEETS

A large crowd attended last night's tabernacle meeting in Thirteenth and Main streets, under auspices of the Free Methodist church.

Rev. John McDonald, of East Liverpool, gave an address on the general theme of "The Judgment of the Lord." One conversion was announced.

The meeting will continue the remainder of the week, with sessions on Saturday night, in charge of Rev. McDonald.

Sunday school will meet Sunday morning in the tabernacle instead of the church.

WANT LICENSE PLATES CLEANED

16-YEAR-OLD WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE

An unusual story has been revealed in a petition for divorce just filed in common pleas court by Attorney Raymond Knepper of Wellsville, and which may have to be followed by the filing of an amended petition before the case is brought to trial.

The petition is that of Leila James Starkey, aged 15 years, and who was married at New Cumberland when she was 13 years of age to Leonard Starkey, of 327 Broadway, Wellsville. Although the plaintiff is a minor, no next friend is named in the petition.

It is shown in the petition that the plaintiff was born April 5, 1912, and at the time of her marriage May 24, 1925, at New Cumberland, sh ewas aged 13 years. She is not now 16 years of age. An annullment of the marriage is sought.

Not in a decade has a divorce petition been filed in common pleas court where the plaintiff has been so young at the time of her marriage.

WILL HOLD CARD PARTY FRIDAY

Arrangements have been completed for the euchre, bridge and 500 party which will be held on Friday evening in the Immaculate Conception hall in Eleventh street. The program will start at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served by the committee in charge.

EX-GOVERNOR CLAIMS STEPHENSON SOUGHT CONTROL OF PROSECUTOR

XV

By BONITA WITT

Staff Writer for Central Press and The Review-Tribune

Another purported chapter of Indiana's political drama has been made public.

Former Governor Warren T. McCray, of Indiana, in federal prison in Atlanta, Ga., has refused to confirm or deny a story that he was offered immunity from prosecution in state courts if he would appoint a prosecutor in Marion county whom the Klan, under D. C. Stephenson, could control instead of William R. Remy, the present prosecutor. According to a story published in Indianapolis and to which Governor Ed Jackson did not issue a denial, he, as secretary of state, is said to have carried the offer to McCray.

This is said to have taken place shortly before McCray's indictment for fraud in Marion county in certain personal financial ventures. A jury freed him. But he later was convicted and sentenced in federal court at Indianapolis for using the mails to defraud.

William P. Evans, McCray's son-in-law, rather than prosecute McCray in the Marion county courts, had tendered his resignation.

McCray, although he realized he soon would be under indictment, is quoted as saying: "I have lost my money, I have lost my office, I may lose my liberty, but I have not reached a point where I would barter public office in this manner."

Remy was appointed prosecutor, later being elected to the office. McCray, going to prison, had saved the office from Stephenson.

It is considered likely that the ex-governor may give out some sort of a statement if he is released from prison this autumn at the expiration of his minimum term under his ten-year sentence.

Spotlight on Duvall.

It is John L. Duvall, Indianapolis mayor, who has been in the limelight more than Stephenson recently. Duvall has been under charges of failure to report all his campaign contributions. The mayor's brother, William C. Buser, city controller, also was arrested on the same charges brought by Prosecutor William H. Remy, and released on bond.

Duvall's administration has been a turbulent one, marked by frequent clashes between the mayor and his employes. There have been some 30 "resignations" since Duvall took office and at least 50 minor employes are said to have lost their jobs during August and September in 1926.

Corporation Counsel Ousted.

He has been in office since 1925.

One of the men whose resignation was requested by Duvall was that of Alvah J. Rucker, corporation counsel, the man whom many contend is back of the resolution to impeach the mayor introduced into the council recently. Rucker, as a lawyer, was retained by the councilmen to draw up the resolution.

The mayor, from his desk at city hall, says, regarding the resolution: "The charges are absurb; no one takes them seriously, and I am more interested in doing my work than wasting time in discussing them."

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An ctual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-3869 W. Third St., Milwaukee, Wisc., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. He also needs men everywhere to make over $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write him at once for free sample and big money making offer.—Adv.

That the average amount of absolute rest during a night's sleep is only eleven and a half minutes, there being muscular or mental reaction during the rest of the time, is the recent contention of a scientist.

A workable sewing machine, a grand piano and a wringer, each of which may be placed on a match box, are among the furnishings of a model house less than three feet long, recently made by a man of Hyde, England.

BUICK for 1928

Buick for 1928 gets away in traffic like an arrow from a bow!

Watch the Buicks next time you drive downtown. See how easily they step out in front when the signal changes. And note how they give other cars the slip in the friendly rivalry of traffic.

Truly amazing performance! But amazing only in comparison with other cars. For in every phase of performance Buick for 1928 is equally adept—in the ease with which it attains, and maintains, the highest speeds—in the way it breasts the steepest hills—and in the way it ignores sand, deep mud and rough going.

Every day, in every city in the land, Buick for 1928 is demonstrating the superiority of the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine—the engine that is vibrationless beyond belief.

You cannot say you know the full meaning of "performance" until you've driven a Buick for 1928. The nearest Buick dealer will gladly arrange a trial.

"Really, old man, you can't afford that. You're not accustomed to that sort of thing."

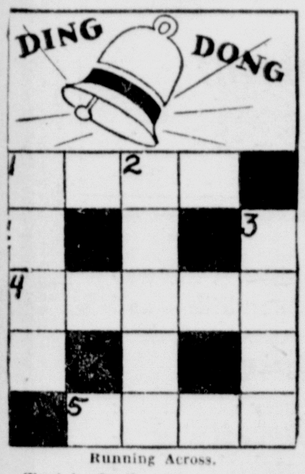

"I merely said I was thinking of it. I can afford to think, can't I?"

"No, that's what I mean. You're not accustomed to thinking."

SYNOPSIS.

JOHN MOORE, New York business man, goes to Tucson, Ariz., on business, expecting to return to New York the next day. He meets a college associate, Philip Morton, who has business in Mexico. Both drink heavily of tequila and in the subsequent mixup in identity Moore finds himself in Mexico.

He has in his possession a portrait of a girl which had been Morton's. The girl, Ruth Henshaw, sends her ambassador, Ramon, to tell the supposed Morton that she will meet him at the church at Tubutama. She needs his help. He meets her, also Clench, an associate of her uncle's, and all go to the ranch, where John meets Lopez, Roderiguez and Barton Henshaw, the uncle. He learns that Morton's business with these men had to do with the secret importation of arms into Mexico.

Wong, Chinese cook, tells Moore to take Ruth away soon. John arranges with Ramon to have horses waiting to take them. Then Clench is murdered and Henshaw tries to fasten the murder on John.

John hears the sound of a motor, then Ruth's cry. He finds Wong lying beside the auto, stabbed to death. He goes to Ruth's room, holding Henshaw, Lopez and Roderiguez at the point of his gun, and directs her to come out. John, with Ruth's help, ties up the three men and he and Ruth ride away.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO.

"You have found me out, Miss Henshaw!" he confessed to her as he mounted his horse again. "I collected those sticks so that I would surely have dry ones when I did want to start a fire. Getting ready for trouble before trouble comes. That's a failing of mine." He smiled somewhat ruefully.

"Why don't we build a fire now and make coffee?"

"Because we have to turn back to the beginning of this gorge and take the other route. Ramon said that if there was water in this stream not to attempt it; to take the trail to the left. The horses are so tired that I'm afraid to push on with that rain. We'll have to go back. And we must use all the daylight we have."

"We don't have to go back," said the girl. "There is a pass through the rocks up to the ridge a little way above here. I supposed you meant to take that. It is just ahead."

"You are sure?"

"Yes. I have ridden all over this country. Ramon didn't think of our coming part way up this gorge you see."

"Have you known all the country we have traveled today?"

"No. But I know this. This is the Arivaca ranch."

"All right. Where does the ridge trail bring us out?"

"On the Ruby road; the road from Nogales."

"How far from Arivaca?"

"Fifteen or sixteen miles, I think. It is a longer way round."

"Jove! And how far is it to the Ruby road from here?"

"Only three or four miles."

"That's an auto road, isn't it?"

"Yes. You mean they might—"

"No, no," interrupted John, "I was wondering if there wouldn't be houses along it where we might get shelter for the night?"

If he had turned back he might have seen that Ruth was sitting erect in her saddle once more.

"I don't think so. There might be an engineer's camp. But I don't think there is anything until we reach Montana mine; and that is a deserted camp of roofless, crumbling abodes."

"Well," said John Moore with cheerful carelessness, "we'll find something. Let's start."

But as their horses stumbled forward again over the rocks his thoughts were not so cheerful. He was tired enough himself to know that the girl could not ride twenty miles further tonight. He must find shelter for her — but where? Look where he would through the deepening dusk he found only boulders of rock or stunted trees clinging in crevices of the cliffs above them.

"There is the trail," said Ruth.

"And the rain!" exclaimed John.

He saw her shrink as it beat down upon her; saw her gather all of her courage and sway to windward as if to rest her weary body upon the strength of the storm.

"I can't watch her," groaned John Moore to himself, "or I'll make a fool of myself. She's got to go on. She'll live through it. Don't talk about it."

Aloud he said: "I'll ride ahead of you up the trail and see just what we have here."

It was a steep ascent; no more than a footpath for the horses and overgrown here and there with thorny mesquito bushes.

"Ware the brush," he called back to her.

Once she cried out. Before her cry had died on her lips John Moore stood beside her, clutching her saddle horn, white faced with fear. "What is it? What is it?" he demanded. "You are hourt—what is it?"

"It was only a mesquite branch. I'm sorry— It is because I am tired, I think."

He stared up at her and even in the twilight the girl saw clearly enough the words he was quivering to speak. But he did not utter them. He turned abruptly away from her and mounted his horse.

If he had turned back he might have seen that Ruth was sitting erect in her saddle once more. He might have seen her raise her hand to the cheek that had been struck and touch it gently, almost caressingly. But he did not.

He pushed resolutely forward. And presently they reached the high narrow mesa above the gorge; a treeless plain of grass and straggling chaparral suffused with rain. The trail was broader here and the man and girl rode abreast.

It grew rapidly darker, but not as dark as John Moore had expected. Even through the rain he could see quite clearly the girl beside him; and when the pale lightning wavered across the sky, lifting the rack of clouds on flitting wings of light, he could see the ridge winding far on before them and on either side, the fall to the valleys below.

"I was expecting fireworks. Your lightning is pretty weak, Miss Henshaw."

"It is the winter lightning," came the girl's slow answer.

"She can't go much farther," groaned John to himself. "But no fire would burn in this downpour. I've got to find shelter! If I can't I deserve to be shot! We'll keep on until we strike the road. There ought to be something that would serve."

It was easier going here and the horses jogged steadily forward. On and on through the cold and the dark and the rain; an hour of it with never a word between the man and the girl. Ruth was too tired to talk and John knew it.

The trail stopped a rise and descended again head first, as it were, into a six-foot earth bank.

"What the devil," began John, as the horses scrambled up it, "why, this is the road!"

"Yes. The highest point of the pass. The road cuts a horse shoe curve around this valley—look!"

The darkness lifted and fell again.

"By Jove!" exclaimed John Moore in some excitement, "I saw something thatt looked lik a cave across there! Near the point of the mountain. Right on the road."

"There is a tiny little cave there!" answered Ruth in a quickened tone. "I remember it now. I had forgotten it."

"Forgotten it!" cried John Moore. "Forgotten a cave that was put here

STOP KNOCKS—

If your motor knocks don't be discouraged because it can easily be eliminated now, by using Gulf No-Nox Gasoline. It will stop all knocking motors, try it and be convinced, it is non-poisonous and absolutely no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline.

It does not contain dope of any kind, and positively will not heat the motor winter or summer. It gives greater motor efficiency, knocks, pangs and detonations are sequels of distress. On heavy grades and in slow traffic these signals are annoying and often necessitate a shift of gears which is a loss of time.

Fill your tank with Gulf No-Nox Motor Fuel, enjoy the pleasure and satisfaction of taking the hills and traffic in high without a knock or a pang.

That good Gulf No-Nox Motor Fuel is here now on sale by the East Liverpool Oil and Gas Company at their station on Pennslyvania avenue formerly the Fisher Bakery Site, and at their Bulk Station in the new Windland Building on Minerva street. Also at the Diamond Parking and Service Station, West Sixth street.

K.T.K. And Superior Cords On Turk Nash Schedule For Week

TIREMAKERS AT HOME TONIGHT

Tackle Wellsville at Smith Field With Katies Playing Fowler Nine at West End; Turk Nash-Cords Friday.

John Fowler's Turk Nash City Industrial league club which suddenly developed a form reversal after battling it out with Laughlin for the first half championship and losing by a narrow margin, has two home games this week and while victories for the automobile aggregation would not mean anything in the way of pennant chances, they would have a bearing on the second half chase.

Tonight Turk Nash will meet K. T. K., at Patterson Field, and will battle the Chester Superior Cords on Friday night at the same place.

Pilot Fowler announced he is going to shoot Jack Smittle against the Katies and Charley James and his full strength against the Tiremakers. A possible victory for Turk Nash over the West Virginians would not dislodge Riley's club from first place but it would reduce the margin between the Cords and Laughlin and brighten Newell's chances of cleaning up.

While the Katies and Turk Nash are clashing at west end, the league leaders will be taken on the Wellsville Nash motors at Smith Field tonight with Curly Evans doing the twirling, probably, for the Cords. It is possible Nicholson may use Huffman on the mound.

"Lefty" Crandall likely will be used against Turk Nash in Friday's tilt.

REAL SHIN-DIG

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 23.—Charles Fisher, University of Missouri wrestling instructor, has a broken nose and he blames a new "hold," the flying shin.

Fisher had been brought to his knees in a wrestling bout when his opponent attempted to step over him. At the same time Fisher tried to rise and his beak collided with the forepart of his foe's lower leg. Though his nose was broken, Fisher finished the match.

Rickard Hires 2,500 Chicago Cops for Duty at Big Bout

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Twenty-five hundred of "Chicago's finest" are going to see the Tunney-Dempsey battle here. As a return favor to Tex Rickard, promoter, they will see to it that holders of $5 tickets sit in $5 seats—and not in $40 seats bought and paid for by others.

Rickard became alarmed when he noticed how fast the cheaper ducats were selling. He had been advised it was the vogue at Chicago prize fights for holders of cheap seats to "avalanche" into more expensive quarters. It was then he asked Chief Michael Hughes for the large police guard.

It is believed Rickard had this in mind when he described his ticket sale as assuming "alarming proportions."

GRANDS WIN, 10-9

The Grand Billiards defeated the National Furnitures, 10 to 9, in a softball contest Tuesday night at Northside. Dodd and Schneller worked for the Grands and Ferguson and Angus for the Furnitures. The Grand Billiards are booking games.

Danny Terris, brother of Sid won decision over Romeo Vaughn, of Brooklyn (4).

TERRIS IS WINNER IN HECTIC GO

Shades M'Graw; Fans, Cops and Ushers in Brawl.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Local fight fans were engaged in a bitter controversy today as a result of the ten-round bout at Ebbets Field last night between Sid Terris, New York lightweight, and Phil McGraw, the Detroit Greek. Although he was floored three times in the first round, Terris won the decision.

The knockdowns in the first round created so much excitement that many of the 20,000 spectators rushed toward the ring and began fighting among themselves and with the police. The police and ushers finally restored order, but another near-riot broke out when Terris was awarded the decision.

Terris managed to recover from the knockdowns and outpointed McGraw by the margin of one round. In the fifth Terris had McGraw close to a knockout.

Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, former lightweight champion, and Eddie Kid Wagner of Philadelphia made a poor showing. Goodrich won the decision.

Roberto Roberti, giant Italian heavyweight, scored his third consecutive knockout when he dropped Pietro Corri, of Austria, in the fifth round.

REB STILL RULES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 23.—Old Reb Russell, one-time Chicago White Sox mound ace, and long consigned to the "bone yard" by the experts, is still hanging around and making life miserable for his former colleagues, the pitchers.

Reb's trusty bat has put his name right up around the top of the American association slugging list. When not busting them on the seam, Russell goes fly-catching in the Indian outfield.

Jones - Johnson Play Third Round Match Von Elm Eliminated

Finlay, Juvenile Leader, Coupled With Ouimet; Evans and Held Paired Off; Remaining Matches a 36 Holes.

By Davis J. Walsh.

MINIKHADA CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 25.—The fish are gone, the fowls remain.

That was a perfectly good idea this morning provided you didn't care when Friday came and you happened to like chicken. Anyhow, it applied to the survivors of the third round of the national amateur gold championship today, namely and to wit, Bobby Jones, the sweetheart golfer of golfers; Chick Evans, the boy who once was good and still thinks he has it; Francis Ouimet, the same kind of a guy, only more so; Harrison Johnston, the best golfer in the west; Phillips Finlay, the Watts Gunn of the present tournament, Roland Mackenzie, 1925 medalist; Eddie Held, always good and mostly now, Harry Legg, the man who sent George Von Elm, the 1927 champion, to the showers yesterday.

No fish there, obviously; a fish is always a poor fish in any language. These gents are poor just exactly like Rockefeller, the boy millionaire.

The showdown in effect was here this morning. No saps left; only the good ones and the matches these par-breaking citizens were to play might have intrigued the dramatic soul of a belasco.

Imagine, for example, any round that guaranteed to couple Johnston, the local pride, with Jones, the national sweetheart. This alone would be sufficient to send the gallery into delirium tremens or words to that general effect, if any.

Imagine, again, being told that you could see Finlay, the juvenile leader of 1927, meet Ouimet, a man now but a boy and a hero in 1913. A match between Evans and Held mightn't figure to keep too many away from any course, either. They will meet in one of the third round matches today.

The other match was to bring together Mackenzie, the lad who persists in drawing all decisions finely, a la Tilden, and leggs, the sectional hero as a result of his great round with Von Elm yesterday.

Of course, perforce and without question, the passing of Von Elm, that quaint, solid, fighting German-American from the coast, took an undeniable factor out of the rest of the tournament. He lost of Legg yesterday and he did it like a gentleman and a scholar but the unpleasant fact is that he lost and that meant plenty. The great fighter of championship golf was through for 1927.

Yes, the great fighter, who else but a fighter could have beaten Jones out of his title in the final round last year? Who else but a fighter could establish the fact that, previous to yesterday, only Jones was able to beat Van Elm in a championship match since 1923 and that only Von Elm was able to beat Jones during the same interval.

No championship loses a man like Von Elm without losing one of its integral and inherent features. But where it lost today, it gained. For Harry Legg, local headliner, was the man who beat Von Elm and Legg naturally had the town by its civic nostrils.

That was the man, anyhow, who was to take issue with Mackenzie, the dramatist, in the fourth of great matches this morning. Issue, as a matter of fact, simply had to be seriously taken in all of them.

START ODDS AT 9 TO 5 ON CHAMPION

Chicago, Pro-Dempsey, is Snapping up Offers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The "winter book" on the impending heavyweight championship brawl between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey was taking form today with Tunney quoted a 9 to 5 favorite to retain his title.

Chicagoans, overwhelmingly Dempsey, are getting their money on the mark. Members of the Chicago Board of Trade are said to be wiring seizeable sums to New York daily to be offered as low as 5 to 7 on the challenger.

One wager, reported yesterday, tied up $2,000 of Chicago Dempsey money with $2,700 of Gotham capital on Tunney.

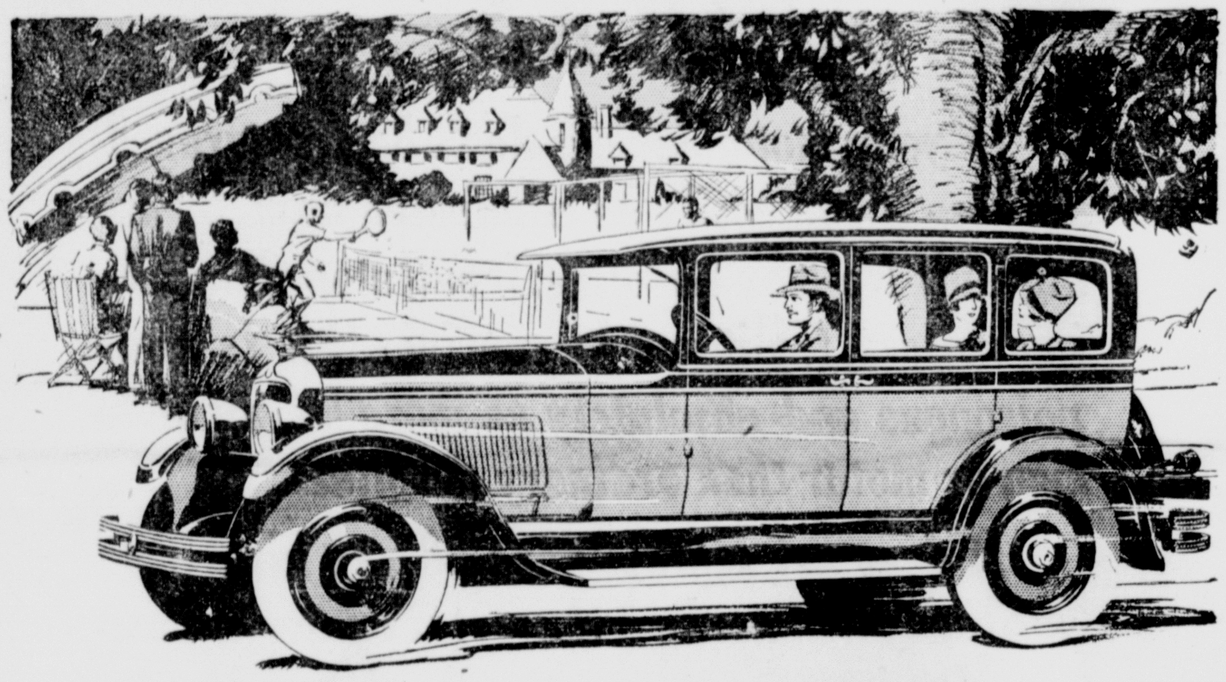

Meanwhile, at Lincoln fields training camp, Dempsey continued with the business of whipping the old fighting machine into shape. He is gradually getting down to a system of serious training, although there will be no demand for sparring mates until some time next week.

For one thing, the boys were to do business today at thirty six holes. The curse of that eighteen hole decision, so feared by all the good ones, was to be off for the rest of the tournament. It seemed possible, therefore, that the rest of the victories, even up to and including the last and final victory, might be decided strictly on their merits.

BARNES GOES TO TOLEDO MUDHENS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Jess Barnes, veteran right hand pitcher, has been released unconditionally by the Brooklyn Robins and has been signed by the Toledo club of the American Association. Barnes also pitched for Boston and New York while in the National league. In Toledo he will join Irish Meusel, his old team mate.

Cubs End Losing Streak As They Divide Double With Phils

RULE HELEN FAVORITE OVER MOLLA

Rivals Certain to Meet for Woman's Title.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—With the women's national lawn tennis championship tournament virtually half completed, no upsets or reversals in form have occurred to indicate that the ultimate struggle for the title would not be between Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, defending champion, and Miss Helen Wills of California, Wimbledon champion, who was forced to relinquish the American title last year on account of sickness. And Miss Wills, the longer the tournament continues, becomes a more overwhelming favorite to defeat Mrs. Mallory.

Miss Wills in the upper half will meet Mrs. John Hill, of England, today in a match that should not extend the Californian unduly, while for tomorrow the prospects favor her facing Miss Kea Bouman, the Holland champion.

On the other hand Mrs. Mallory had a fairly difficult match yesterday with Mrs. William Endicott of Boston. She faces an even harder test today against Miss Gwendolyn Sterry, one of the English Wightman cup players.

Homestead Grays, With Smoky Joe On Mound, Down Cords

Famous Colored Club Blanks Tiremakers, 6-0, in Exhibition at Chester; Stoffel Turns in Good Performance.

THE Homestead Grays are still the Homestead Gays, without a single hasbeen in their dusky ranks, and "Smoky Joe" Williams, giant flinger, who's taking his regular turn on the mound despite the fact that he has seen his fiftieth birthday come and go, can still sizzle the horsehide down the alley when and where he wants it well enough to handle the situation on any sandlot in the country.

"Smoky Joe" and the Grays performed before a crowd of approximately 1,000 paid admissions and others last night at Smith Field, Chester, and the pitcher who's been laughing at Father Time for a long while came through with a 6-0 decision over the City League leaders, striking out 13 while his mates pounded out 11 hits and gave him airtight support.

Williams gave the Tiremakers four hits, a double by Bakosh and singles by McConnell, Melchori and Miller.

Herman started on the slab for the Cords but was treated rather roughly in the first frame and a couple of bad breaks mitigated against his chances. V. Harris dropped one into left for a single that, had it gone a few feet further, would have been gathered in by Johnny Evans. Graham crashed a single down the third base line that was legal by inches and nothing more.

Herman gave way to Don Stoffel in the third inning and the latter gave the Grays just three safe hits and one run in the seven innings he worked. It appeared that the Grays took very kindly to Herman's fast shoots but were unable to get going against Stoffell's slow curves, and Manager Cum Posey, after the game, says they weren't fooling either.

A unique situation without parallel in local baseball history developed along about the fifth or sixth inning when a brilliant sun, glaring down onto the field with the intensity of a giant searchlight, blinded both batters and catchers and contributed in some degree to the success of both pitchers.

Stoffell was breaking his curve ball a little high in the face of the sun and it fooled quite a few of them while "Smoky Joe's" fast ball was burning down the groove at split second speed, fooling everybody, including his own catcher. Spearman, who probably had let his life insurance lapse, quit cold and the versatile Britt was called in. He missed them, too, but stuck it out until the last couple of frames when the sun sank below the fringe of trees in left field.

Batters of both clubs went to the plate and swung with a wish, while some, with families at home, let 'em go past without swinging.

The Superior Cords' nearest approach to scoring was in the seventh. Cebula fanned but McConnell singled to center, the ball going into the crowd and entitled him to second. Bakosh struck out. Miller singled and the ball was pegged to the plate. The play was close but McConnell was ruled out.

Owens, first man up, doubled to right. V. Harris dropped one into left and Johnny Evans, coming in fast on an attempt at a shoestring catch, was unable to make the catch. Graham's single down the third base line was fair by inches, scoring Owens. Spearman singled to right center, scoring V. Harris from second, Graham going to third and Spearman to second on the throw-in. The Grays then tried a squeeze but Britt fouled. Britt then flied out to McConnell. M. Harris singled to right, scoring the third run of the inning. B. Williams fanned. Ryan to Evans, retiring the side.

"Smoky Joe," first man up in the second, drew a walk. Owens flew out to Evans. V. Harris singled to right. Graham singled to left, scoring Williams, V. Harris going to second. Spearman singled, the ball bouncing off 'Melchori's glove near shortstop, scoring V. Harris and making the count 5 to 0.

The Grays scored their only other run in the seventh. Britt got on when Catcher Miller, in the face of a blazing suit missed the third stroke. He stole second and was sacrificed to third, scoring on a wild pitch.

French and Jap Net Stars Meet

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB, BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25.—With nothing short of a miracle likely to prevent them from winning the right to face the American Davis cup team, the French tennis representatives, boasting in their ranks three of the world's most famous tennis singles players, open their fight here this afternoon with the Japanese team in the American zone final round Davis cup play.

The Japanese team was conceded little chance of victory by tennis followers against a team with the French, British and American champions of this season in their fold.

Two singles matches are scheduled for this afternoon. The first, finds Henri Cochet, the French champion, pitted against Yoshiro Ohta, of Japan.

In the second match Rene Lacoste, of France, present holder of the American championship, will face Takeichi Harada, the Japanese ace.

Drawings for the doubles matches will be made this afternoon.

WILSON SMACKS THREE HOMERS

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Cubs have ended their losing streak of five games and Hack Wilson, their big hitter, has emerged from a long batting slump at the same time. This may mean that the Bruins who apparently had cracked wide open, may rally in time to stave off the rush of their three rivals for the National League flag.

Wilson walloped three home runs as the Cubs split a double bill with the Phillies. He is now tied at 23 with Cy Williams for circuit clouting honors in the National league.

The Phils pulled the first game out of the fire in the ninth, scoring five runs off Guy Bush and winning, 7 to 6. Then the enraged Bruins slaughtered the slowtown boys in the nightcap, 13 to 1. Wilson got six hits in all during the festivities.

The other National league teams were idle. The Cubs still lead the Pirates by 2½ games.

Tony Lazzeri "pooshed it up" over the fence in the ninth with bases full and the Yankees trounced the Tigers, 9 to 5. New York's losing streak of four games and Detroit's second winning streak of thirteen games were broken.

Harry Heilman shot into the lead in the race for American league batting honors by making four hits in as many times at bat.

The Athletics jumped to third place by nosing out the Browns, 4 to 3. Rube Walberg helped win his own game with a homer and held the Browns to five hits, snapping their winning streak of six games.

The fading Senators dropped to fourth place by losing to Cleveland, 7 to 1. Cleveland has won four straight. Lefty Miller held the Nats to four hits.

Todt's homer failed to help the Red Sox, who lost to the White Sox, 4 to 3.

Mickey Easy Winner But Bout Goes Full Route.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, hit Wilson Yarbo, Cleveland colored middleweight, with everything known in the world of legalized mauling here last night in their 12-round bout at Taylor Bowl, but Yarbo remained on his feet throughout. Walker easily took every round, but rock as he might—and did—Yarbo took it, and stayed up.

Yarbo landed a hard right—which was all he had to offer, aside from his ability to absorb terrific punishment—three times against the champ, once in the first round; once in the third when Walker was half punched, half pushed to the canvas, and again in the seventh. The rest of the bout was nothing but Walker. The champ weighed in at 160; Yarbo at 162. It was Walker's first fracas since returning from England where he knocked out Tommy Milligan.

In preliminary bouts, Gunner Johnson, Cleveland (133) knocked out Georgie Ward, Hartford, Conn., (133) in the third of a scheduled six round bout and Bill Dozier, Zanesville, (205) outpointed Sam Dennis, Cleveland, (185) in six rounds.

Modern people spend more for the joys of living than in any other age ever known. But they demand the utmost value for their money.

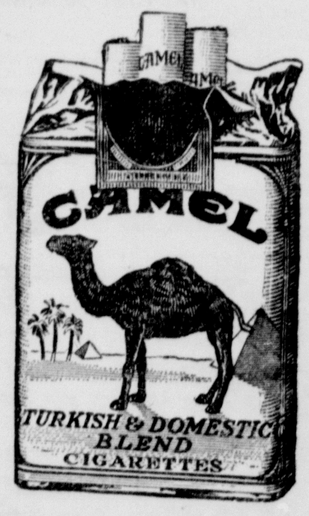

Present-day smokers find their sheerest enjoyment in Camels

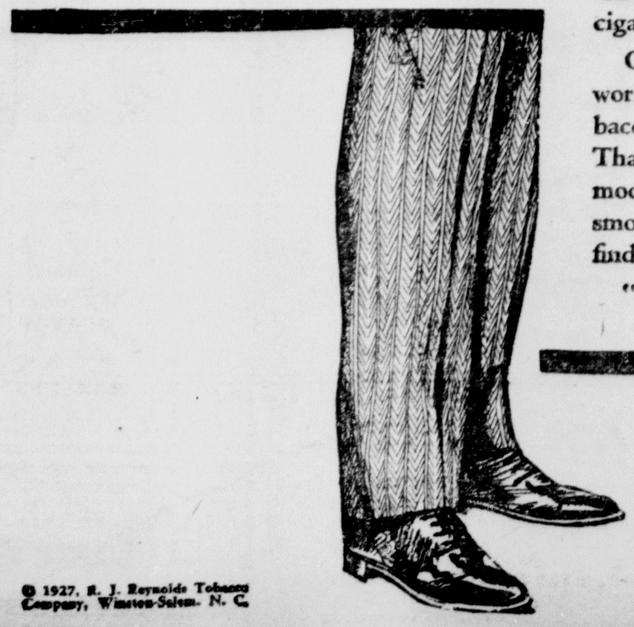

THE people of this age spend millions for the good things of life. And they place Camel first among cigarettes.

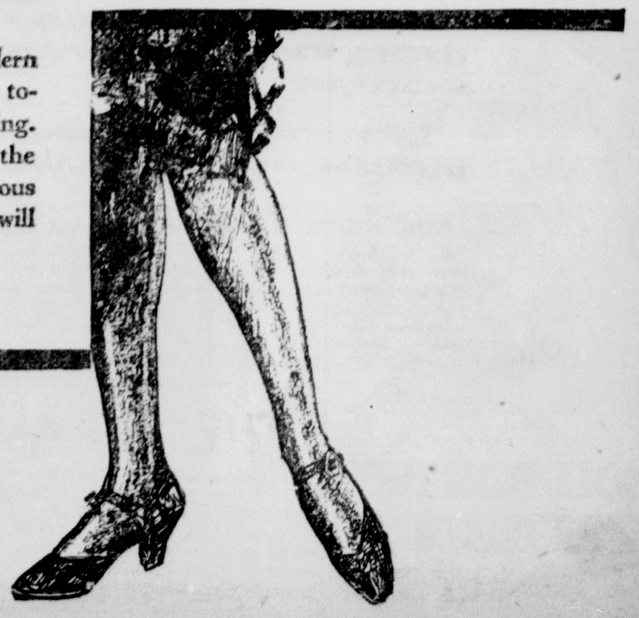

Modern smokers make money, but when they spend it they insist on quality, and more people today buy Camels than ever bought any other cigarette.

Camel value has won the modern world. Money cannot buy choicer tobaccos, nor a more glorious blending. That's why increasing millions in the modern age single out this famous smoke as their favorite. You, too, will find it yours.

West Park Ave.
Phone 319-R. Lisbon, Ohio.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN TWO ACTIONS

Because no motion for a new trial has been filed, a judgment on the verdict for $120 in favor of the plaintiff has been rendered by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of Anna Durchko against Mike Shobat. This was an action in appeal from a lower court, and was recently tried to a jury in common pleas.

For a similar reason, judgment for the defendant for $3,174 has been decreed by the court in the case of the Manning Henes Company, Inc., against Clara A. Finney of Salem. This case was also carried to common pleas from a lower court on appeal, and a verdict for the defendant rendered by a jury.

Sale Confirmed.

In the case of the Salem Finance Company against Donald R. James, an action on a cognovit note filed July 15th, 1925, a sale has been confirmed. The court has ordered Sheriff George Wright to execute a bill of sale to Norman Peters, the purchaser of chattles in this case.

Leave to File Answer.

The United States Fire Insurance Company has been granted leave to file its answer by Sept. 17th in the case now pending in common pleas court, wherein Edward Chamberlain of St. Clair township is plaintiff. Chamberlin suffered a fire loss at his garage at Stop 55 on the Y. & O. road some months ago, and the insurance company it is alleged has failed to adjust the loss.

Motion Sustained.

A motion to dissolve the injunction has been sustained by the court in the case of the First National Bank of East Palestine against the Big Seven Oil & Gas company. The plaintiff has noted its exception to the ruling of the court, and the latter has fixed bond for appeal at $200.

Case Dismissed.

The case of the Union Savings & Loan Co., against Benjamin McCoy and others has been dismissed on motion of the plaintiff.

Judgment Entered.

Judgment on the verdict for $35.46 has been entered by the court in the case of D. H. Swaney against George Millward, an action carried to common pleas court on appeal June 19, 1925.

Marriage Licenses.

A marriage license has been issued to Rev. Percy C. Clark of Ashtabula, and Miss Pauline Myers, a bookkeeper, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers of Columbiana. The are to be marriedby the Rev. Krumm.

Raymond L. Huston of East Liverpool and Miss Florence E. Cain, a stenographer and bookkeeper and duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cain of East Liverpool, have obtained a marriage license. They were married by the Rev. B. R. Johnson of the Christian church, East Liverpool.

Property Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded:

John Garner to Earl W. Garner and wife lot 239 Huston's 3rd addition, East Liverpool, $3,500.

Thomas W. Harrold to E. M. Flowers lot in Stiver's addition, Columbiana. $1.

Fred Posey and others to Harry W. Grimes, part lot 2, Bell Park plan, Columbiana. $1.

K. S. Wilson and wife to Dan Oana part acre Hillsdale addition, section 6 Perry township. $2,500.

Glenn H. Watterson to William F. Landsberger, 175 acres section 13, Unity township. $1.

Divorce Petition Filed.

Through her counsel, Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool, Margaret Konkle has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband Harper C. Konkle of 112 Centre alley, East Liverpool. Gross neglect of duty is set up.

The couple were married at Lisbon June 28, 1922.

Court Order Issued.

In the divorce action filed in common pleas court July 20, 1925 by Hazel M. Weaver against her husband Wallace G. Weaver, and in which Brooke Allen was named a party defendant, the court has ordered Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine to pay to Weaver $ 12.71 out of money that has been paid to the clerk of courts by Allen. The plaintiff in this action was granted a decree of divorce June 3rd last.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunions Pains and Soft Corns

Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula — this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

A LITTLE AFFAIR IN MANILA

TO THE HILLS IN OTHER COMPANY

SECOND EPISODE

PRIDE wounds heal more slowly than heart wounds, which are supposed to leave deeper scars than injuries to the flesh. The blemish on Flagg's ego left by the Shanghai Mabel episode was still red when the marines of the Legation Guard at Peking were transferred to duty in the Philippines. The islands were peaceful, the Sulus and Tagalogs gave the soldiers no anxiety. So Sergt. Flagg was athirst for adventure. Adventure appeared in the physical form of a Spanish senorita, the toss of whose head and the wordless language of whose dreamy eyes lured him with a power beyond resistance.

A little flirtation—a little chat in Spanish that was more eloquent than correct, but which made perfectly understandable an invitation to a picnic outing in the hills. And it was ever so hot in Manila that day.

While Sergt. Flagg foraged for sandwiches in a cafe the Senorita waited outside, and what the novelists call "the long arm of coincidence" pushed Sergt. Quirt into the picture.

The languorous eyes met Quirt's inquisitive wink with welcome, and the ride to the hills started, but without provisions and with a different company. The same old horse, the same old carriage, the same old driver, but Quirt, not Flagg, has the second passenger.

Flagg watched the disappearing expedition from the cafe door. His sandwiches had turned to Dead Sea fruit before they were tasted.

Score another mark for Quirt's foil. The red scar of Peking on Flagg was matched by a Manila cicatrix. And that marks the real beginning of a much bigger story—a long continued duel between men who fought for the love of fighting and loved with the same courage as they fought.

The Way of the World

PILGRIMS.

Some time ago 1,800 school children from Iowa and Missouri were carried on three special trains to the tomb of Lincoln in Springfield, Ill. They will not forget the trip. Their interest in Lincoln and their appreciation of the meaning of the life of the Great Emancipator will be intensified for life.

Why not more pilgrimages for youth to American shrines? No boy or girl can look into the little cabin in Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln was born, or walks through the rooms of Mt. Vernon and the halls of Monticello — no boy or girl can do this and ever be quite the same again.

LOSING BEAUTY FOR WHAT?

Translations of the Bible in modern English add little, while they take away a great deal. The old, authorized version of the Bible has the simplicity and beauty and rhythm of fine poetry. Calling Noah's ark a "barge," and the Garden of Eden a park, and a "mess of pottage" a "red omelet" is making a poor substitution. Language beautifully used is rare enough. It's too bad to take out of the Bible some of the rarest expressions in English.

JOHN D., JR., ON RELIGION.

"Religion is a necessity to the human soul," says Rockefeller, Jr. "Man has a craving for the power, the solace, and the strength of a power higher than his own."

The trouble is that very many folks don't think about religion or their spiritual needs until they get in trouble. Then they cry for help.

BUSINESS AND FRIENDSHIP.

When the traveler leaves Jerusalem today to tour Palestine he will probably go in an American-made motor car. Three routes from Bagdad across the Arabian desert are served mostly with cars built in the goods are covering the far places of the earth. If only these goods could convey more than a message of business and efficiency. If only they could convey the message of friendliness to all nations. America seeks no conquest by arms. The spread of that idea is the greatest possible gesture of international good-will.

FLIGHT TO ROME.

Speaking of good-will, the plan to send an airplane from the United States to Rome, bearing messages of religious toleration and international good-will, is one of the most significant movements outside of official life that has ever been made in the United States.

Amsterdam's stadium buildings for the Olympic games next year will cover 40 acres and there will be an additional park of 88 acres accommodating 4,000 automobiles, the stadium itself holding 40,000.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROPERTY TO BE ASSESSED.

The following named owners of the property bounding and abutting upon the herein designated proposed improvement, and the owners of the property hereinafter designated, are hereby notified that on the 21st day of July, 1927, the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, duly passed Resolution Number 431 declaring it necessary to improve Harker Avenue, from the east line of Sylvan Avenue to the west line of Central Avenue, by grading and paving the same with re-enforced concrete to the width of eighteen (18) feet thereof and by constructing therein all necessary concrete curbs, retaining walls, gas, sewer and water connections, sewers, ditches, bridges, gutters and drains and by doing everything else necessary or essential for the proper completion of said improvement, in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said proposed improvement, heretofore approved and adopted for the improvement of said street, bounded and described as setforth in said Resolution Number 431, and in accordance with the said plans, specifications, estimates and profiles on file in the Office of the Director of Public Service.

That concrete curbs shall be constructed along said street or improvement where needed. The entire cost of curbs and sewer and water connections and drains, where placed, shall be assessed against the property bounding and abutting against the parts so improved; and that of gas lines against the party or parties responsible for the same.

That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth thereof and the cost of intersections, shall be assessed by the foot frontage upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit:

All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

By return made by Assistant Clerk of Council, said owners not being residents of Columbiana County or not having been found and said properties are as follows:

LEGAL NOTICE.

State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss. In the Court of Common Pleas, Elizabeth Williams, Plaintiff vs. Andrew J. Williams and James Williams. The defendant, Andrew J. Williams, whose place of residence is unknown to the plaintiff, will take notice that on the 2nd day of August, 1927, the plaintiff filed her petition in said court to set aside and declare null and void her signature to a certain purported deed from the defendant, Andrew J. Williams and the Plaintiff Elizabeth Williams to the defendant, James Williams for the following described real estate, towit: Situated in the Township of Liverpool, County of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, and known as and being: Bounded by beginning at a point at the Southwest corner of the Phillip McBane farm and the Northeast corner of the William Biggs farm and at the Southwest corner of lands herein conveyed and running thence North 46¼ degrees West 86 chains; thence North 81¼ degrees West 2.50 chains; thence 68¼ degrees West 1.59 chains; thence North 14¼ degrees East 5.20 chains; thence North 30¼ degrees West 2.00 chains; thence North 15¾ degrees West 2.45 chains; thence South 82 degrees west 31.39 chains; thence south 45½ degrees East 9.17 chains along the Public Road; thence East 29.45 chains to the place of beginning, containing in area 25.79 acres, be the same more or less but subject to all legal highways. Being the premises conveyed to the said Andrew J. Williams by Thomas H. Fisher, et al by deed recorded in Vol. 477, page 68 of the records of deeds of said County. That the grounds for the setting aside of said deed as set out in the petition are, first, that the signature of the plaintiff was obtained by fraud; second, that the plaintiff had not at the time of said signing mental capacity to transact business or to sign said deed. Said cause will be for hearing on and after September 24th, 1927.

BANDITS ORDER "HANDS DOWN"

DENVER, Aug. 25.—"Hold ups by night, but "hold downs" by day appears to be the rule among bandits.

"Hands down" commanded a well dressed youth who entered a local drug store just as the proprietor was opening for business one morning recently. The store-keeper looked at the young man's gun and stood at attention.

The Lady Called Fate

at the beginning of time for us tonight! On a road they built just to lead us to it. Why, Miss Henshaw—"

"If we had taken Ramon's road we would have missed it," interrupted Ruth.

"Nonsense," retorted John. "We couldn't have taken Ramon's road. We had to take Her road."

"Whose road?"

"Fate's! I warned you yesterday." He rode very close to her. She did not draw away but she held her head very high. When he began in this vein he aroused every tingling, resisting instinct in her. For a little she forget even her fatigue.

"Yesterday was yesterday; and for me all play died with it, Mr. Moore!" she said.

"Play!" cried John. "You know I'm not playing! I have been cursing myself for the last two hours for letting you in for this long strain. I thought I should have stopped somewhere while it was light. And just when I was desperate for fire and helter we find a cave! Listen! Is there another cave that you know of around here?"

"No, but—"

"No! You admit it. We've come 60 miles—and found it! Give credit, young lady."

"I won't," said Ruth.

"Oh!" said John and laughed at that. "Well, of course—"

Ruth's horse started forward violently and John's followed after.

"Besides," called Ruth defiantly, "it is such a tiny little cave that probably we can't make a fire in it at all!"

PARIS SCENES IN CERAMIC FILM

"The Beloved Rogue" Ends Engagement Here Today.

Settings of a type that are entirely new to motion pictures are to be seen in "The Beloved Rogue," John Barrymore's first United Artists Picture, which will close its four day run at the Ceramic theatre today.

These settings, designed to provide entertainment in the background itself, to serve as a symbol of the actual action in each case, are the work of William Cameron Menzies, art director for the Joseph M. Schenck organization, and long recognized as the leader in his line.

"The Beloved Rogue," in which John Barrymore brings to the screen the complex character of Francois Villon, eccentric French poet, housebreaker and scapegrace, depicts the time of Louis XI of France, during the Gothic period. Long, rakish roof lines, sharp angles and twisted stairways are features of the grotesque, bizarre type of architecture that prevailed.

The effort to achieve symbolism in the settings is said to be strikingly successful in the scenes showing the public square of Rouen, where Villon's father was burned at the stake, of which Mr. Menzies said:

"The action in this sequence is one of harshness and coldness, and this effect is reflected in the frowning houses which glare down into the square, crooked and angular streets, and the distorted heap of timbers in the foreground which frame the drama.

Piles Go Quick

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in hundreds of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathews' Medicine Store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.
